and this condition is commencing to render British merchants nervous. There is very little assistance given to importers from American Winters and Spring, which are Girmly held.

"Quantilies ashere and affoat are only about one-half as large as usual at this period of the season, but speculation is checked by prospective large supplies, as the British crops alone will provide 1.600.000 binbels per week unit next July; therefore, our requirements from abroad for many months should not exceed 3.500.000 hushels weekly. This appears small in comparison will be with a merica's large exportable surplus, even if requirements by importers other than the United Kingdom become increasingly large, and, therefore, it is believed that priogs will remain on a comparatively normal bries. Anatralla will have a good surplus for export, and Argentina a very fair amount.

"It has become increasingly evident that import needs from Italy and France will be larger than earlier expected, and should be at least 128,000,000 bushels and if prices remain satisfactory to buyers there should be liberal purchases by ex. Europe of perhaps 24,000,000 bushels above earlier expounding a hundleap of 26 cents per bushel should preclude exporting countries from offering at high prices, and assist native crop marketing."

Artificial Character of Movement in Contract Shares Is Demonstrated-Sound Investment Issues Hold Their Own.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.-Reactionary ten encies were uppermost throughout today's session, despite the making of new high records in the war shares. It was this par-ticular group, however, which manifested increased heaviness and the susceptibility of ticular group, however, which manifested increased heaviness and the susceptibility of these issues to adverse influences—mere rumors in fact—demonstrated anew the artificial and speculative character of the sensational movements in this class of stocks. Selling of many of these issues ware resumed at the outset, the decline being in the nature of a continuation of yesterday's late operations. The early decline was soon checked, mainly as a result of the improvement shown by railways, but even this maneuver failed to offset, a second decline setting in before noun.

During the mid-session, prices were again lifted, in some instances rising over their first recovery, but all these gains were wiped out later on the circulation of reports of an accident to an American war vessel. This caused another more hurried scramble to unload, such issues as Baitimore Locomotive. Cruchle Steel, General Electric. Westinghouse, Bethiehem Steel, Continental Can and several of the motor shares breaking 5 to 15 points from their high quotations of the previous hour and bringing the average level well below resterday's final prices. When it was learned that the accident consisted of nothing more than a milor explosion on a torpedo-boat in home waters, prices immediately retrieved a part of their loss, only to go still lower in the final hour. The selling of that price was accelerated by activity on the part of the short interest, which recognized the holiow tone of the market and made the most of the situation.

Liquidation was most extensive in the later dealings and support was lukewarm at Beiled developed strongly that Eastern stock speculators were investing in wheat a large percentage of their profits. The fact that on the ensuing hulse the realizing sales turned out to be quick and heavy did not seem to disturb opinion and was ascribed chiefly to pressure of Canadian wheat at Minneapoles and te gossip that the Canadian duty on shipments to the United States would soon be repealed.

Corn values rose mainly as a rosult of reesing temperatures, accompanied by some reports of crop damage. Bear leaders, however, were aggressive seliers on the advance.
