

DR. ROBERG RAPPED

City Health Officer Raises Bar to Leprosy Clinic.

WRITTEN PERMIT ORDER

Dr. Marcellus Declares Exposure Danger Too Great to Allow Any Visitors to Isolation Ward Unless They Are Needed.

Because of the possible danger of a spread of leprosy, City Health Officer Marcellus yesterday gave instructions to attendants at the smallpox hospital, where Dominico Pinelli, the recently discovered leper, is isolated, to forbid all persons to see the man without written permission from the city health officer.

The order is made to be a rap at State Health Officer Roberg, who has announced that he will hold clinics at the isolation tent for the benefit of persons interested in the disease.

Health Officers in Clash.

The first of these was held Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Marcellus, in making his order, stated that the disease is a contagious disease and the isolation of the patient is intended as a safeguard to the public, and for that reason he objects to persons going there and becoming exposed to the disease.

Trouble between Dr. Roberg and Dr. Marcellus started on Monday, when the former wrote a letter to Dr. Marcellus informing him that leprosy is a dangerous disease and criticizing him for alleged neglect in handling the case properly.

Dr. Marcellus then heard of Dr. Roberg's plan to hold clinics at the tent where the leper is quarantined. He called him up to ask him where he got his permission. Dr. Roberg hung up the telephone receiver without answering. Dr. Marcellus avers.

Federal Inspectors Investigate.

It was as a result of this that Dr. Marcellus issued the order against persons going into the isolation hospital without his written consent. He declares that the case is one under city supervision, and while the state officers have a right to go there, they have no right to take other persons with them.

United States Immigrant Inspector Harbour went out to see the leper yesterday with an interpreter, and secured a written record of the man's case from his brother, who is attending him. It was found that he had been in the United States about eight years. Whether this places his case under Federal supervision is a question which will be investigated. It is certain no attempt will be made to deport the man because of his condition, but the government may contribute to his support.

Fair Auto Driver's Traffic Signal Misses Its Mark.

Young Man Responds to Inviting Gesture at Turn and Grabs Hand, but Finds His Wife.

WHEN, in obedience to traffic rules, the fair woman autist extends her hand in a signal to those behind that she is about to turn a corner, it is an inviting gesture to the young man standing on the curb, if not properly done. Therefore, so, and because of which the wave should be business-like and brief, and not the dainty, leisurely gesture of one about to shake the hand of a dear friend.

Passers-by at Fifth and Morrison streets yesterday were hugely amused, when a young man stepped to the side of a passing automobile and cordially grasped the white hand of a young woman as it gracefully waved the signal to automobiles following.

"Pleased till meetha," spoke he. "Oh," said she, a vivid red dyeing her cheeks as she turned indignantly upon the impudent intruder.

No, kind reader, he was not one who had lingered too long near the flowing bowl of a member of the Nth degree of boldness. He was the husband of the woman. It was a neat little surprise.

DIVORCE MAY BE ANNULLED

Mutual Agreement Will Be Probed by District Attorney.

Leo J. Cameron pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Gantenbein yesterday to the theft of money and jewelry from a woman. He will be sentenced at 2:30 tomorrow morning. In the course of conversation with the judge, Cameron said that his wife had recently secured a divorce from him by mutual agreement. Judge Gantenbein notified the District Attorney's office of this admission, asking for investigation with a view to annulment of the decree.

MEALS TO COST 14 CENTS

Charles T. Trengrove Gets Contract to Serve Prisoners.

After investigating and finding that it would not be advisable from a financial standpoint for the city to establish a kitchen at the City Jail to furnish meals for the prisoners, a year's contract was awarded by the City Council yesterday to Charles T. Trengrove to furnish the meals at 14 cents each. He was the only person bidding for the contract. The price is the same as that charged during the present year.

The jail is provided with a kitchen. Purchasing Agent Wood investigated the possibility of a saving by the city engaging a cook and preparing the meals. It was decided finally that the plan would be unsuccessful because of the uncertain number of meals daily.

J. Rufus Wallingford and Horace G. Daw says:

"We Know How to Make a Fortune in the MOVIES"

J. Rufus Wallingford Esa To-morrow Announces FULL DETAILS in RE INVESTING a DIME in the MOVIES

J. Rufus Wallingford says,

"Suppose you could invest a Loaf of Bread and Make a Fortune in the Movies?"

J. Rufus Wallingford says,

"Should we decide to do it, a Herring and the Moving Pictures could make a fortune for YOU."

Well-hereshow!

Oh, that Wallingford, the irrepressible,—he broke loose in the papers the other day and had all the city wondering what in the world he was getting at. "Invest a dime in the movies and make $158,976.23," "Watch our herring lay 1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 eggs and watch us monopolize the herring market."

But with regret it is announced that Mr. Wallingford's plan to get 10,000 people to invest a dime is delayed, owing to the panic in the herring schools, due to the Alsatian-Dalmatian conflict. But Mr. Wallingford, in the generosity of his heart has been persuaded on to do something else for you, and this is it.

No, a dime now won't make you a fortune, but a dime invested will bring you a regular harvest of good laughs, ripping, hearty, genuine laughs!

This good old sport, Wallingford, with the peculiar financial twist, has become the most whimsical, humorous, absolutely real character of our literature and this new advent of Wallingford will be a great affair to all America.

George Randolph Chester, creator of the famous "Wallingford," whose facile pen these many years has created careers aplenty for J. Rufus, has now completed a combination of moving pictures and stories, to appear under the title of those greatest motion picture classics of all history. Mr. Goddard's hold on the public's tastes and whims which he has satisfied better than any man who ever made a motion picture, is greater today. And his Wallingford pictures will outrank his past successes tremendously,—will outrank "Elaine" and "Pauline."

Wallingford has blossomed to reality in great Pathe motion pictures, under the direction of Wharton Bros., who made "Elaine" and "Pauline." The name part is taken by Burr McIntosh, who is a master of a player, while Blackie Daw is none other than Max Figman. Lolita Robertson plays Violet superbly.

GUARANTY LACK BLAMED

ATTORNEYS EXPLAIN PROCEEDINGS AGAINST MR. RALSTON.

Supreme Court Sets Case for Hearing Tomorrow and Argument Not Expected to Bar Other Move.

Failure of L. O. Ralston to furnish a bond guaranteeing payment of the judgment if he lost or to turn over sufficient property to satisfy it in that event are given by Attorney Sidney J. Graham as the reason why he and Assistant Attorney-General Van Winkle, as attorneys for State Bank Examiner Sargent, forced supplementary proceedings against Mr. Ralston to recover approximately $50,000 against him in favor of the depositors of the defunct American Trust & Savings Bank.

Word was received from Salem yesterday that the case will be heard by the Supreme Court tomorrow. Supplementary proceedings are to be taken up before Circuit Judge Morrow again Saturday. As the decision of the Supreme Court probably will be rendered immediately it is likely that argument of the case will not act as a bar against the continuance of the supplementary proceedings unless the Supreme Court should specifically order otherwise.

Mr. Graham says in his statement: Upon the representation that it would cost Mr. Ralston $1000 to put up a bond to stay the execution, we consented to withhold execution and supplemental proceedings if Mr. Ralston would transfer sufficient property to some acceptable third party to satisfy the judgment if affirmed and to be returned to Mr. Ralston if the judgment was reversed. When the time came to transfer the property they failed to do so and we therefore, proceeded with the execution and with supplemental proceedings to determine just what property Mr. Ralston had.

The American Bank & Trust Company failed in December, 1911. Mr. Ralston testified under oath, in 1912, that he was worth about $200,000. It is apparent that he could give a bond to stay execution and any proceedings thereon, or transfer sufficient property to secure the judgment if he wishes to do so. More than 5000 depositors are interested in the outcome of this matter. It is our purpose simply to see that the judgment is paid if affirmed.

All the charges made by Mr. Jones were heard by Judge Morrow and he ruled that the examination was held Saturday, and it disclosed the imperative necessity of action in this matter. It showed that since the failure of the bank, Mr. Ralston has attempted to transfer the greater part of his property to his wife and children and that he has transferred property to his attorney, notwithstanding the order of the court restraining the transfer of any property, pending the final decision of this case.

first promised he would do, if he had not repudiated that promise, and attempted to thwart every effort to have the judgment secured, the attorneys for the Superintendent of Banks would not have been delayed in the preparation of their brief on appeal.

HUNGER IS FLYNN TOPIC

LECTURER ON HEALTH ADVISES AGAINST MISTAKEN APPETITE.

Says Thirst Should Be Watched, Especially at Meal Time, and Stimulants Avoided.

W. Carl Flynn lectured at the Eleventh-Street Theater last night on "appetite and hunger." He said hunger is always our friend, never our enemy, but it is so easily confused with appetite.

"I have put up sign boards all along my route reading, 'beware of appetite; be a base deceiver who always appears in the disguise of hunger,'" he said. "You can always tell him by this rule: If you can eat anything, cold potatoes, stale bread and wish for more, or if you can sit on a stone or fence out in the woods on a cold winter day and eat with relish some plain cold food, that is true hunger. If we never eat except when hungry, disease would be largely a thing of history in a few years.

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home-Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a pint of water add: Bay Rum.....1 oz. Barbo compound.....1 oz. Glycerine.....1/2 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any drugist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases. Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.—Adv.
