The other is that of Miss Nell Preble, who will become the bride of William J. Richmond. It will be solemnized this evening at Grace Memorial Church, Rev. Oswald Taylor, pastor of the church, to officiate. The bride will be attended by Miss Gladys Bowman and Harrison Trueblood will act as best man. Little Betty Robins is to be flower girl. CREPE DE CHINE USED FOR SMART AFTERNOON DRESS.

Model By Jeanne Lanvin of Paris

In this model Jeanne Lanvin, of Paris, has created a very charming afternoon dress. The material is of gray crepe de chine. The skirt, which is medium width, is gathered at the waist. A very novel idea in trimming is carried out by the many rows of closely shirred dark satin ribbon which are sewed at intervals around the skirt. Between each row of ribbon is placed a rosette of the same material. The waist is plain, with a very full sleeve, which is gathered tightly a little above the wrist, and a plain piece of material is used as a cuff. The waist and sleeve are likewise trimmed with the same shirred ribbon.

The society includes the women's missionary organizations of the Presbyterian churches of the city. The members will take basket lunches and will remain for the entire day. The sessions will be from 11 A. M. to 12:30 o'clock and from 2 to 4 o'clock. An offering will be taken. The special speakers will be Rev. A. W. Halsey, D. D., of New York, and Rev. Robert J. Diven, of Alaska.

Miss M. E. S. Fee, a dramatic reader and educator of New York, will address the Women's Political Science Club at 2 o'clock in room A, Central Library, on "Conservation of the Young." Miss Fee has taught in some of the leading colleges and universities and has been engaged in newspaper and theatrical work. The club will convene at 2:30 o'clock. Quotations on trees will be given in answer to requests. Dr. M. Watson will read a paper on "Conservation of Our Forests." The meetings are open to the public.

Each clubwoman is asked to take with her one choice rose which will be placed as a tribute of love and appreciation for the life of their departed club-sister. The next regular meeting of the club would have fallen on Mrs. Dunway's 81st birthday, and the organization had decided to make her an honorary member. In consequence of her illness it was decided at the last meeting of the board to send the little birthday remembrance in advance of the date. The club unanimously endorsed the suggestion and, as a result, Mrs. Dunway received her note and membership several days ago and expressed her pleasure at the action of her club. Mrs. Dunway was president of the Portland Woman's Club in 1902-1903. She was a charter member of the organization.

The resignation of Miss Elizabeth D. Muhs, as superintendent of inmates at Multnomah Farm, was accepted yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners, to take effect October 15. In the meantime the board will meet with County Physicians Geary and Chiff and let them name a successor. A competent nurse is needed.

Miss Muhs quit because the Commissioners refused to discharge an inmate who made insulting proposals to a pupil nurse from the County Hospital who is doing part of her training at the farm. In her letter Miss Muhs said: "I consider it impossible to control the moral standard of the institution when a patient who has twice insulted the pupil-nurses caring for him has been allowed to return to the institution."

Commissioner Lightner thought he had satisfied Miss Muhs by "reading the riot act" to the offender and making him promise exemplary behavior in the future, but his mistake developed yesterday when the superintendent insisted that her resignation be allowed to stand unless the offender was discharged.

THIS IS "DRESS-UP WEEK" AND WE BOUGHT OUR SUITS AT CHERRY'S

"How do you like them, Alma? That high collar is awfully becoming to Rhoda, don't you think so? And I can't stop admiring this lovely fur on mine, and the cute, flaring skirts!"

"Oh, you both look perfectly darling, Kitty, and I'm dreadfully envious! I had some money for Fall clothes, but I rashly spent it on a party dress. If you only knew how I long for a set of those bewitching Fox Furs every one is wearing!"

"Why, Alma, didn't you hear us say we bought our suits on CREDIT? At CHERRY'S, you know—the big, reliable place on Washington street, where so many of the girls go. The Fox Furs they're showing up there are so beautiful they fairly took my breath away. But I breathed easier when I saw that they were priced no more than at other high-class stores and that they could be bought on INSTALLMENTS, too."

"CHERRY'S have nothing but the very best, and rest assured that anything you get there is of the very latest and thoroughly adapted to dress-up styles. Don't forget their place, 258-261 Washington street, in the Pittock block."—Adv.
