

Courts Free From Deluge of Drunk Cases Arter First Dry Sunday.

ECONOMIC BENEFIT SHOWN

Employers of Labor on Large Scale Find Monday Efficiency Improved Because of Abstaining From Debauch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11-(Special.)-Chi- chased. cago, with a few exceptions, awoke this morning and went to work with a COUNTY clear head. It was a new experience and due to the closing of saloons Sunday. There were sporadic exceptions. Two of these were found dead, having

Two of these were found dead, having consumed so much boose, just to prove that no Mayor or law could step on their rights, that it killed them. In the main Chicago rode the water-wagon and does not regret it. The con-crete results began to show today in many forms. Today the courts which usually have an average of 209 or more Sunday "drunk" cases had but 16 such cases. There were no Sunday suicides, as against the customary run of from two to four or more. There were no murders, as against the average of 20 month, to which Sunday ordinarily a month, to which Sunday ordinarily contributed heavily. No persons were killed by intoxicated "joyriders." This is a distinct record, for Sunday usually develops four or five such cases,

Economic Advantage Great.

Economic Advantage Great. Ferhaps the most striking point, however, from a purely economic view, was the fact that hundreds of men-returned to work today fit and sober. Ordinarily large employers of labor rount on the return Monday of much of their force sore, aching and ugiy, the result of a Saturday night and all-day Sunday debauch. Many of these men-would he discharged, and those re-tained would be practically worthless until Tuesday. Interviews with sev-eral employers today brought out these facts: facts:

The big packing plants emphasized the feature that their large forces of workmen returned today sober and in-workmen returned today sold tact. The Illinois Steel Company said Sunday passed without demoralization among its employes—every man was at his post on time this morning. The South Chicago Police Station re-ported a remarkably small number of "drunks," which is unusual.

"drunks," which is unusual. Only Six Places Found Open. Out of the 7152 saloons in the city only six were actually found open on Sunday, and Mayor Thompson will un-doubtedly revoka their licenses, thus doubtedly revoka their licenses, thus they do not have the rush of busi-ness they had expected. It had been thought there would be a veritable begins to Milwaukee, where elaborate treated to Milwaukee, where elaborate treated to Milwaukee, where elaborate they did not have the rush of busi-ness they had expected. It had been thought there would be a veritable begins to Milwaukee, where elaborate treated to Milwaukee, where the sunday travel to the substantion of the sunday travel to substant the Sunday travel to substant the Sunday these who ment today on the Sunday closing. They say their patrons will not dance unless they had finished their meals. The professional dancers and other enter-tanters employed by these "lobster pal-ters" received scant attention from the sunday has received a death blow. Only Six Places Found Open.

"Hangover" Is Gone.

Generally speaking, the point that stands out most prominently as the re-sult of the Sunday closing is the disap-pearance of the "hangover." Ffficiency methods have been fighting the "hang-

Clackanias Board of Equalization Refuses to Cut Appraisal for This Year and Will Appeal,

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 11.—(Spe-cial.)—The county will not submit lumely to big reductions in the assess-ments of the Weyerhaeuser, Collins estate and other big timber holdings and every case will be fought through the courts, declared District Attorney Heges today. The Weyerhaeuser case, which was appealed from the Board of Equaliza-tion and lost and lost in the Circuit Court Saturday, will be appealed to the Supreme Court, said Mr. Hedges, who believes that the county can prove its case before the higher tribunal. The court refused to reduce Assessor Jack's vaule of the timber, but cut the estimates 144,460,000 feet in five sec-tions in questions. The sections were not changed by the court. Between $100 and $1200 is involved in the an-nual tax payments by the reductions ordered in the Circuit Court. The case is considered important in-seessments. The county's figures are all based on the M. G. Nease cruise. The Board of Equalization, in face of the action of the Circuit Court Satur-day, today refused to reduce the assess-ment on the same property of the Wey-ering on the 1915 tax ment on the same property of the Wey-erhaeuser Company for the 1915 tax roll. The case tried Saturday referred to the 1914 tax rolls, or the taxes col-lected this year. Likewise, petitions from the Collins interests, together involving as much property as the Wey-erhauser case, were turned down by the Board of Equalization. Another appeal to the Circuit Court is expected.

Bad Terms Reported Between Victim and Accused Man, Who Can't Account for Wherenbouts.

M'MINNVILLE, Or., Oct. 11.-(Spe-lal.)-That William Booth, who was found dead in the road half a mile above the Willatnina brick plant, was nurdered is the finding of the Cor-oner's jury that held an inquest a: Willamina Saturday. The finding of the body Friday was kept quiet until today.

William Branson, aged 23. is under William Branson, aged 23. is under arrest, suspected of the murder of the farmer. Booth had been seen two rours before the tragedy, and Branson, with whom Booth is said to have been is unable to account for pretrance of the "hangover. Filiciency methods have been fighting the "hang were" for years. In occupations re-nuiring skill it has been the ground for immediate dismissul. Today there was a great dimunition in the great trowds of men who have been "fire" for drunkenness," the usual Sunday carouse and who haunt the streets and filesy where afternoon papers are grabbed from the presses and the race for a new job begins. Liquor interests today talked of a monster demonstration to be given the Coast, which will lay particular em-phasis on his alleged double-crossing of the saloon men and broken promises not to interfere with them. NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The use of a special antitoxin serum received from Washington gave George F. Stackpole, the aged Riverhead lawyer, a fight-ing chance to recover from anthras, the dread disease which rarely is con-tracted by human beings, although it sheep. Mr. Stackpole is said to be the first person to be treated with this serum, which was prepared for use among ani-mals. Despite this, so great is the effi-cacy of the acrum in curing cattle, that the opinion was expressed at the hos-nital where the lawyer is being treated that he had a chunce to get well, al-though he was still in a critical condi-tion.

The effect of the treatment could not be established immediately, but Mr. Stackpole was resting comfortably after the injection.
