

SHERMAN DID SAY, "WAR IS HELL"

Son of Noted Soldier, Visitor in Portland, Recalls Address and Epigram.

NATIONAL DEFENSE URGED

Rev. Father Thomas Ewing Sherman Quotes Bible as Proof That Strong Man Needs Armament to Guard His Wealth.

History is vindicated, after all, for General William T. Sherman, Civil War leader and hero, really did say "War is hell."

The famous epigram has been quoted all over the world and attributed to General Sherman, but of late years some historians have denied that General Sherman ever said "war is hell."

In the course of an interview yesterday on preparedness for national defense, Rev. of St. Louis, eldest son of General Sherman, said his father made the utterance in a public address, and related the circumstances.

"I do not remember the exact year," said Father Sherman, "but it was in the early '60s, and my father was addressing the graduating class of cadets at a military school in Michigan. In the course of his address he told them they had learned the duties of a soldier and would be ready if their country ever needed them. Then he said that he knew what war was, and hoped they never would be called to war, adding, 'War is hell.'"

"There can be no doubt that he said it. When the nation was first attributed to him, I once denied it, but soon afterward received a letter from a man who had heard the address, and who gave me the exact language my father used."

Father Sherman looks strikingly like the picture of his father. He has the same keen blue eyes, the same beard, and he wears a black slouch hat much of the same style. He arrived in Portland Friday and has been staying at Archbishop Christie's residence.

Though he had a hatred for war that he does not hesitate to express, Father Sherman is a firm believer in the necessity of adequate preparedness for national defense.

"No matter what we may think as Christians, we must see that we must see and admit that the world is ruled by force. Both groups of warring nations in the present world believe and overlapped all laws without regard to the rights of others. We, in the United States, haven't been in a position to enforce laws, and we are not in a position to back up our demands."

"What is the situation in this country? Why, here we are, massing up wealth and piling up gold, without thought of defending ourselves. That is only a temptation to another nation to come and take away our wealth. Nations should be kept from temptation just as individuals should be kept from it."

"Christ himself said that the strong man when he is fully armed keeps his court, but when the stronger individual he takes it away. The individual man is not strong unless he is armed to keep his cottage from the wolf and the savage, and the nation governed by the same rules as individuals."

"The prime purpose of the public school is to build good citizens," said Superintendent L. R. Alderman, who was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Methodist Ministers' Association, held yesterday morning in the First Church.

Mr. Alderman's address was on "The Public Schools of a Great City and Their Importance." It was followed by an open forum in which the preachers fired a perfect volley of questions at Mr. Alderman and he answered them rapidly and to their evident satisfaction.

Rev. C. O. McCulloch, D. D., president of the association, said at the close of the address: "This has been a great thing for the pastors. This programme is only one of the many splendid meetings that are in store for us this year. We will have some of the biggest and broadest men in the Northwest to address us and we mean to get in touch with the great activities of the community. It will do the church and the speakers both good to have a perfect understanding that the one aim is for a better citizenship."

Mr. Alderman was honored guest at the luncheon held at the Moore Restaurant later. Next Monday Rev. George P. Malins, D. D., of New York City, for more than 20 years a publisher of the Methodist Book Concern, will speak to the association on "The Christian Function of Literature." From his experience, he is announced as one well-qualified to discuss the topic. The programme committee of the association includes Dr. McCulloch, Rev. T. W. Lane and Rev. A. F. Cramer.

Clifford T. W. Sappington, surgeon, with the rank of First Lieutenant, Medical Reserve Corps, U. S. A., at present stationed at Texas City, Tex., and member of a prominent Frederick, Md., family, is defendant in a suit for divorce, instituted in Circuit Court yesterday by Kate E. Sappington. They were married at Frederick, Md., in April, 1914, and have one child, 6 months old, of which the mother demands custody.

Mrs. Sappington charges her husband with a systematic course of cruelty and brutality toward her, threats to kill and molest her, and other offenses. She is a surgeon in the United States Army is $2000 a year, and that in addition he has an income of $75 a month from an estate in Maryland to which he fell heir. She wants $50 a month for her own support, $25 a month for the support of the baby and $150 as attorney's fees.

The Sappingtons moved to Portland from Maryland in October of last year, according to the complaint.

FORESTERS IN CONFERENCE

G. M. Cornwall, of Portland, Speaks at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The annual conference of the Society of American Foresters was held today in the house of Elsie Hoo, at the Panama-Pacific Exposition with more than 200 delegates in attendance.

F. E. Olmstead, consulting forester in San Francisco, presided at the morning session, and addresses were made by Paul G. Redington, supervisor of the Sierra National Forest Reserve, whose topic was "Ideals," and Coert du Bois, of the United States Forestry Service, who spoke on "Opportunity."

In the afternoon talks on the relations of the lumbermen and the forester were given by G. M. Cornwall, of Portland, and J. F. Clark, of Vancouver, B. C.

The session of the Western Forestry and Conservation Association will convene tomorrow, which will be Forest Protection day, at the Exposition.

Husband Followed to Grave Soon.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. Olive H. Kyle, widow of Rev. Edwin P. Kyle, died today at her home in Salem, aged 73. Death came nine days after that of her husband. Cancer was the cause of death in both cases. Mrs. Kyle had lived in Salem 21 years. No children survive. The funeral will be held tomorrow at the United Brethren Church here. Rev. H. D. Tatman officiating. Burial will be in the Lee Mission Cemetery.

TODAY'S BEAUTY SUGGESTIONS

Face powder simply covers up an unattractive complexion and leaves no lasting benefits. Those who have tried a simple spumax face lotion find it much better, as it removes skin discolorations, such as freckles and tan, and makes the skin smooth, white and velvety. This lotion is made by dissolving four ounces of spumax in one-half pint hot water, then adding two teaspoonfuls glycerin. This complexion beautifier does not rub off or show like powder, and gives a more refined appearance. It removes both shininess and sallowness, rapidly giving the skin a permanent healthy, youthful appearance.

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be had at trifling expense by dissolving a teaspoonful of cantharox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much heavier than it is. After a cantharox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.

reunion and rally in addition to the discussion of topics as scheduled on a formal programme. Pennants will be given as rewards for merit shown in the parade which will be a feature of the gathering.

GIRL'S FRIEND TESTIFIES

ALFRED LINDBLOOM SAYS HE WAS ENGAGED TO ANNA ANDERSON.

Responsibility for Condition Admitted, but Some Information is Guarded by Prosecution.

Full responsibility was taken by Alfred Lindbloom, a logger, for the condition of Anna Anderson, the girl who died in the office of Dr. A. A. Asplund last Friday, in a statement which Lindbloom made yesterday at the District Attorney's office. Lindbloom said that he was engaged to marry her. He declared that she had spoken of having such an operation as that which, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury, caused her death performed before the death of the girl.

The District Attorney's office would not give out a full summary of Lindbloom's statement for the reason, it was said, that he had divulged information which might be so handled as to become valuable evidence against Dr. Asplund, who has been held for grand jury action on a manslaughter charge.

Lindbloom, who was brought in from Buxton, Or., by the Rev. J. Richard Olson, pastor of the church of which relatives of the dead girl are members, readily admitted having received letters from the girl, but said that he had destroyed them as fast as read for fear that they might become public property in the new camp and a logging camp bunkhouse. What he stated from memory as to the contents of any and all letters Special Investigator Geren, of the District Attorney's office, would not reveal.

Dr. Asplund, who appeared in Municipal Court yesterday morning charged with manslaughter, waived preliminary examination, and the case will now go over to the grand jury. Dr. Asplund pleaded guilty in 1913 to a charge of using the mails for carrying information relative to illegal operations, and was fined $100 in Federal Judge Bean's court.

WOMAN GETS FINE BUCK

Mrs. Williams, of Gales Creek, Does Better Than Most Hunters.

FOREST GROVE, Or., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Local sportsmen who have failed to land a fine buck during the hunting season have been given a lesson in marksmanship by Mrs. William Williams, of the Gales Creek country. While the local hunters and men from Portland swarmed the hills near her mountain home, Mrs. Williams quietly waited her turn, and a husky old buck made his way to her doorway. She pulled the trusty rifle from its moorings above the door and, with one shot, brought down the fine animal.

Adjutant-General White, Colonel McLaughlin, commander of the 10th Cavalry Regiment, and Major Knapp, of the Adjutant-General's office, were present and discussed the question, giving assurance that if the people of this community are desirous of having a company, one will be organized here. A local committee, composed of Professor H. E. Inlow, P. C. Starrett, who is a Spanish-American War veteran, and Lieutenant Thomas, was appointed to investigate and make a report.

W. E. BROWN RELEASED

Federal Officer Finds No Attempt to Defraud at Roseburg.

ROSEBURG, Or., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—W. E. Brown, who last Wednesday caused the detention here of Ralph Goodman, a Seattle man, and a girl companion whom he said he suspected of violating the Mann act, was today released by Federal Agent Charles Fray, of Portland, who investigated the charges against Brown. Under the Federal statute Mr. Fray said Brown could not be prosecuted for the reason that he made no attempt to defraud those with whom he dealt.

The girl in the case left for her home at Seattle tonight in her Federal officer. Goodman will be released from jail tomorrow.

Sight, Taste and Smell Make Appetite

The Logic of Hot Steero

Food must look good or you don't want it. It must smell good or you won't eat it. It must taste good or you won't like it. Anything to eat or drink that looks, smells and tastes good is going to give you an appetite if it's time for you to eat. That's the way a cup of Hot Steero makes people hungry. Its fragrant steam greets their nostrils with a promise.

Get Steero Cubes in boxes of 12, 50 or 100 Cubes from your druggist, grocer or delicatessen dealer. And be sure you get Steero. There are imitations.
