

NEW JERSEY VOTES AGAINST SUFFRAGE

Emphatic 'No' Answers Women's Appeal.

MAJORITY 50,000 TO 60,000

Mr. Wilson's Precinct Is 2 to 1 Against Amendment.

WOMEN CARRY ONE COUNTY

Two-Thirds Count Gives 124,119 Against Suffrage and 88,275 for It—Country Districts Are Solid Against Change.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 19.—New Jersey registered at the polls an emphatic "no" to woman's appeal for the ballot. Indications shortly after midnight were that the white and yellow banners of "Votes for Women" had fluted down to defeat in each of the state's 21 counties and that the majorities against adoption of the constitutional amendment to enfranchise women was between 50,000 and 60,000. Undaunted by the overwhelming tide against them, suffrage leaders announced tonight that they would start tomorrow with new plans, intent upon pledging candidates for the Legislature to permit them to vote next Spring for Presidential electors. They have two weeks in which to make their effective campaign. Candidates for the Legislature have been nominated by both big parties and will come before the voters for election November 2.

President's Aid of No Avail.
President Wilson's recent announcement that he would vote for suffrage, in the opinion of suffrage leaders, converted thousands to their cause. His stand, however, and the vigorous campaign waged by the women to the last minute failed to prevent a heavy vote against adoption of the amendment. In his own voting precinct, the Seventh District of Princeton Borough, the vote was more than 2 to 1 against the amendment.

Officials' returns from nearly two-thirds of the districts in the state showed that in 1222 out of 1891 districts the vote was 88,275 for the amendment and 124,119 against it, a majority of 35,844 against suffrage.

Every City Against Suffrage.

Suffrage lost in every big city in the state and in nearly every town. Where it did win the majority was small. Newark voted overwhelmingly against it. Jersey City, with seven districts missing, gave 11,188 votes for the amendment and 14,595 against it. Trenton, with seven districts missing, gave a majority of 2018 against it. Bayonne gave the anti-suffragists a majority of 551 votes out of 6319 cast. In Bergen County, where thousands of New York commuters live, the vote was close. Even Cape May, where the suffragists had thought they certainly would win, cast an adverse vote, complete unofficial returns showing a majority of 312 votes in 3219 cast.

Mrs. E. F. Feickert, president of the New Jersey State Woman Suffrage Association, conceded the amendment's defeat within an hour and a half after the polls closed. Later in the night she issued a statement in which she said:

Women Charge Unfair Play.
"The opponents of woman suffrage in New Jersey were obliged to adopt unfair tactics to defeat us. There has been much colonizing in the large cities and it was plainly evident to us months ago that it was not the intention of the political rings to give us a square deal. In attacking the election law so that the ballots would be unnumbered it was known that that alone would help to defeat us."

Returns came in much more rapidly than had been expected. The tide was all one way—against woman suffrage. Leaders at the headquarters of the suffrage association had realized early in the evening that only a landslide in the rural sections could save the day for them. Late returns showed that instead of the hoped-for landslide, the country communities had, in many cases, voted against the amendment. This was notably true in Essex County, where nine of Newark's suburbs arrayed themselves solidly against suffrage.

Flight to Be Kept Up.

Although defeated, the suffrage workers have not given up the fight. Coupled with admission of defeat, Mrs. Feickert embodied a promise of a determined fight next Spring.

"Although we apparently have lost the election in this state for woman suffrage," she said, "this will not end the fight in New Jersey."

"We feel much encouraged by the great number of votes received and this will impel us to continue the battle in this state. Instead of quitting as our opponents have said we would, we have new plans in view. When the New Jersey Legislature opens next Spring we will present a solid front for an amendment to the state constitution to give women the right in New Jersey to participate in the Presidential election."

EDISON AND FORD FORGET LUNCHEON

WIZARDS AT FAIR GIVE 'WORK' AS SUCCESS RECIPE.

Electrical Inventor at Banquet for Telegraphers Dines on Pic and Talk as in Old Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Just like two ordinary Eastern tourists, Thomas A. Edison, wizard of electricity, and Henry Ford, of automobile fame, viewed today the exposition. They viewed it extremely well. What they saw they inspected so industriously it was almost work.

So intent did the two men become in some of the exhibit palaces that they forgot to keep a tea engagement at 1 o'clock with their wives.

Mr. Edison and Mr. Ford attracted attention wherever they went. At one time during the morning a young man introduced himself to Mr. Ford and asked the automobile man's recipe for success.

"Work," was Mr. Ford's answer.

Mr. Edison added the amendment: "Be sure the boss doesn't fire you."

Mr. Edison was the guest tonight at a banquet tendered by the telegraphers of the city. The menu was a banquet for the hosts, but the guest of honor, at his own request, was served with a glass of milk and a piece of hot apple pie, his favorite lunch for a living.

Telegraph keys and sounders were installed for each guest, the menu was printed in the Morse code, and the after-dinner oratory was all tapped out on telegraph instruments.

POSSES IN TEXAS KILL 10 MEXICANS

Vengeance for Death of Americans Is Swift.

OFFICERS WITHHOLD DETAILS

One Executed for Telling Bandits of Hiding Doctor.

4 ARE HANGED TO TREES

United States Cavalrymen Close in Chase of Mexicans—Watch Kept on Banks of Rio Grande All Day.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 19.—Ten Mexicans were killed by posses today because of their alleged complicity in last night's wrecking of a St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico passenger train and the slaying of three Americans and the wounding of four others. Peace officers said tonight they had clues to other Mexicans connected with the robbery.

The first Mexican killed was an unidentified young man, a passenger on the wrecked train, who was accused of revealing the hidden place of Dr. P. S. McCain, Deputy State Health Officer here, who took refuge in the lavatory of the car when the bandits began firing.

Poses Act Without Sheriff.

Sheriff W. T. Vann, of Brownsville, denied reports of this Mexican's death, but tonight it developed that posses killed the man after the Sheriff left the scene of the wreck. This Mexican was himself threatened by train robbers because of his unusually fair complexion, but was not molested after he told them where two of the "gringos" whom they were hunting, had hidden.

Only the bare facts of the killing of other Mexicans today were obtainable, as the posses were careful not to give out details. The second Mexican killed was alleged to be a "partner" of the young man on the train. The vague meaning of the word "partner" was not made clear. Four Mexicans were hanged to trees at various points and four others were shot.

Watch Kept on Rio Grande.

The most reliable information indicated that these shootings were on, or very near the banks of the Rio Grande, where the closest watch for Mexicans was maintained for a distance of 100 miles, up and down the river.

United States cavalrymen for seven miles chased a young Mexican, who appeared in the Los Indios district today, about 30 miles up the river from the place of the robbery. He was brought to Fort Brown here, where Army officers questioned him closely. They said that his stories were conflicting, but that he gave no information to connect him with last night's robbery. Finally, the officers, having no authority to hold prisoners, turned (Continued on Page 2, Column 1.)

2 UNMASKED MEN ROB RENTON BANK

LAKE SHORE WOODS GAINED

Driver of Car Says He Never Saw Outlaws Until They Jumped In, and, With Pistols Drawn, Ordered Him to Speed Up.

SEATTLE, Oct. 19.—Two armed men who held up the Citizens State Bank of Renton and robbed the cashier, W. W. Gilham, of $1416 in gold and currency today fled into the brush skirting Lake Washington and escaped from police and Deputy Sheriffs who sought to surround them. Stanley Reese, 13 years old, was shot in the left foot by one of the robbers, who fired several shots as they climbed into an automobile waiting outside the bank. Reese was not seriously hurt.

Harry Anderson, driver of the automobile which the robbers abandoned at Rainier Beach, midway between Renton and Seattle, said that he knew nothing of the robbers' intentions until after they had robbed the bank and jumped back into his car when they compelled him to take them to Rainier Beach.

Masks Not Worn.

The men were not masked. Each was about 30 years old and of medium build.

The two men entered the bank at Renton, which is a manufacturing town six miles south of Seattle, at 1:46 o'clock this afternoon, while one person, a woman, was in the bank lobby. One of the men went to the cashier's cage, pointed a large pistol at the cashier, and said:

"Give me that money or I'll kill you. Give it to me quick!"

Money Handed Over.

Cashier Gilham did not parley with the man, but pushed out the money in the cage. The robber seized it and, with his companion, ran down the street two blocks to where a large automobile was standing, with a chauffeur evidently waiting for the robbers. The machine tore away at full speed in the direction of Seattle, the thieves firing a few shots as they went.

It appeared to the Renton people that the automobile and chauffeur were in the service of the robbers, but when the car stopped at Rainier Beach, inside the city limits of Seattle, the chauffeur reported that he had not seen the robbers until they appeared and commanded him to drive them to Rainier Beach, threatening him with their pistols. He raced the car to the (Continued on Page 3, Column 4.)

Tuesday's War Moves

OWING to the illness of Premier Asquith and the delicate negotiations which are proceeding between the allies, enlightenment which Tuesday's meeting of the House of Commons was expected to throw on the Balkan operations, over which Sir Edward Carson is believed to have resigned from the Cabinet, is now the substitution of Mr. Llewellyn Denny for General Sir Hamilton to command in the Dardanelles, was not forthcoming.

There were more than a hundred questions in the House on the orders of the day, dealing chiefly with Near-Eastern affairs, the Dardanelles and the method of raising necessary men for the army, and, while the Ministers answered many of them, in no case was the information which the public was anxiously awaiting supplied.

It is generally agreed, however, that for the moment at least the controversy over recruiting has been stilled, for the conscriptionists or a majority of them have decided to give Lord Derby's new scheme a fair trial and assist him in any way to get the men to increase the size and fill the gaps in the army. It is understood that the voluntary enlistment is receiving its last trial and despite the opposition throughout the country, those favoring national service for all will endeavor to force its adoption, should Lord Derby fall in his efforts.

So far as the Dardanelles and the Balkans are concerned, a good deal of the pessimism which reigned a week ago has disappeared. It is believed that instead of any idea existing of abandoning the attempt to open the straits and sea route to Constantinople, the appointment of General Monro means a more strenuous effort, and that when the right moment comes the Italian navy, if not the Italian troops, will co-operate.

It is known that the forces on Gallipoli have not been weakened for the Balkan campaign, and while the task is difficult, the majority of the British public are confident that it will be ultimately accomplished.

In the Balkans the Austro-German and Bulgarian armies continue to claim progress against the Serbians, but, except in the north, where the Serbs are being forced to retreat, the various reports do not go far toward clarifying the situation.

The Bulgarians have cut the railway between Uskup and Nish, so it is likely that, except in the extreme south where they have the support of the Anglo-French troops landed at Saloniki, the Serbs are falling back to stronger natural positions. Istip and Kocichana, it is said, have already been evacuated.

Italy, which, singularly enough, is still technically at peace with Germany, has declared war on Bulgaria, and Russia is expected to follow her example almost immediately. When this formality is completed, it is possible that the action which Italy and Russia intend to take in the Balkans will be defined.

SAND BAR GONE FROM SIGHT

Peculiar Phenomenon Is Noted in Columbia River at Hood River.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A portion of the huge sand bar north of this city has sunk from sight. The inundated portion is now covered by 20 feet of water.

The peculiar phenomenon is thought to have been caused by some change in the current of the river or by a fall in the stream, which allowed the quicksand base to give way beneath the heavy packed surface.

The sunken area, on which was located the warehouse of the Hood River-Underwood ferry system, is more than 100 feet square. No one saw the sand bar give way. The boat-house has disappeared.

CHIEFS NOT TO BE ECONOMY VICTIMS

Albee and Dieck Won't Stand Salary Cuts.

BUDGET SESSION IS LIVELY

Mr. Dieck Ordered to Lop Off $100,000 From Estimates.

PURCHASE BUREAU TARGET

Mr. Baker Has Many Criticisms to Offer on Conduct of Department of Public Works and Own Policies Attacked in Return.

SUMMARY OF WORK OF CITY BUDGET COMMITTEE AT YESTERDAY'S SESSIONS.

Commissioner Dieck instructed by Council to trim $100,000 out of his budget.

Proposed municipal paving repair plant cut out, $7,500.

Total cuts made in Department of Public Works, $25,800.

Commissioners Bigelow and Baker desert anti-salary increases programme when own estimates are reached.

Motion made to cut salaries of Commissioners ruled out of order, but Commissioner Daly pledges himself to give up $1000 of his.

Attack made on purchasing bureau as extravagant.

It started out as a joke—a suggestion that the City Commissioners cut their own salaries 20 per cent—but it developed into a real serious squabble which culminated in the reduction proposition being put up in such way that it required an answer. The answers found one Commissioner (Daly) insistent, two Commissioners (Baker and Bigelow) willing, and the Mayor and one Commissioner (Dieck) unwilling.

It was a proposition not enforceable by a Council majority, so it failed to carry. However, the fuss ended with Commissioner Daly declaring that he intends to give up $1000 of his $5000 salary.

Matter Treated as Joke.

It all started at yesterday morning's meeting of the Council to consider budget estimates for 1915. Commissioner Dieck had just been instructed to take back his budget and lop off $100,000 from his payrolls and supply columns. Mr. Daly made a motion that the salaries of Commissioners be cut.

Nobody, including Mr. Daly, apparently took the request as anything more than one of the jokes which have been floating about the budget sessions. The same motion had been made several times before in a joking way. Therefore the motion was laughed away and the Council adjourned until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Daly Gets in Motion.

As soon as the Council had convened again at 3 o'clock, Commissioner Baker having noted that an afternoon paper had taken the motion seriously, had resolved to call Mr. Daly on his motion. Mr. Daly, having noted the same facts, beat him to it at the opening of the meeting.

Before there was a chance for anybody to say anything, Commissioner Daly opened up: "I wish at this time to renew my motion that the salaries of Commissioners be cut. We are cutting other salaries and it is no more than right that we should start the thing properly by cutting from the top down."

Mayer Holds Off Motion.

"I think your motion is out of order," said Mayor Albee. "The Council salaries are fixed by the charter and the Council has no power to change them. However, anybody who wishes to contribute $1000 of his salary can do so. Not for little Willie, though. I'm giving enough money to the cause of the city as it is."

"You can't do it under the charter," said Mayor Albee. "If you do it other wise people may think it is being made up in some other way."

"I don't think the people would worry much about it," replied Mr. Daly. "The people think we are over-paid. I insist upon the motion."

"I'm willing," said Commissioner Bigelow.

I don't think I should have to submit to such a proposition as this," interposed Commissioner Dieck.

"I'm going to do it anyway," insisted Mr. Daly.

"All right," replied Mayor Albee, "your motion is out of order, but your $1000 contribution I presume will be accepted. That is $1000 we can accept."
