

BAD CHECK SERIES LAID TO "DOCTOR"

Leon Gottlieb Said to Have Mulcted Father of Bride for Wedding Expenses.

GROGER ALSO ACCUSES

Brief Courtship Followed by Elopement to Oregon City, but Romance Lasts Only Few Days. Charges Come From South.

Leon Gottlieb, arrested yesterday morning at the Benson Hotel and indicted later in the day by the grand jury on a charge of passing a worthless check for $12,000, is, according to a grocer, had an adventurous career since coming to Portland a few months ago, according to the District Attorney's office.

His adventures included marriage to Clara Herschberger, daughter of Hans Herschberger, president of the H. Herschberger Company, by elopement to Oregon City. The couple lived together only a few days, Mrs. Gottlieb going back to her parents when she discovered, according to District Attorney Evans, that her husband was passing bad checks and obtaining money by unwise, if not questionable, methods from friends and acquaintances, including her father.

Elopement Follows Brief Romance. Gottlieb came to Portland a couple of months ago from San Francisco, where he had served time in jail for practicing medicine without a license. His District Attorney Evans, and went to work for a German newspaper. He held his job only a few days, being discharged when A. K. Kern, his employer, became dissatisfied with representations which, he said, Gottlieb, by reason of his connection with the paper, was holding out to people about town.

However, Gottlieb, who posed as an Austrian physician of good family whose income had been injured by the war, managed to make many friends, and met Miss Herschberger. They eloped, after a short courtship, to Oregon City three or four weeks ago, and later took an apartment at the Buena Vista. Gottlieb is said to have paid the rent with a worthless check.

Father-in-Law Victim, Charge. Another transaction credited to the supposed Austrian physician is inducing his father-in-law to pay him $52.50, supposedly to recompense a specialist for an operation on the tonsils of Miss Herschberger, as she was then, it developing later that there had been no charge for the work on Gottlieb's representation that he was a physician. This $52.50 he used to defray the expenses of his marriage, Mr. Evans says. Mr. Evans says also there are charges of forgery and obtaining money by false pretenses against Gottlieb in San Francisco. In Seattle, to which Gottlieb went a few weeks after his wife left him, he used the name of Herschberger-Gottlieb.

CALIFORNIA WANTS GOTTLIEB

A warrant for his arrest was issued August 4. In San Francisco, he was known simply as Leon Gottlieb.

Collins was brought back from Butte recently. For several years he lived with Mrs. Swartzauer, though she was the wife of another, and the child is admittedly theirs. In fact, though legally that of Mrs. Swartzauer and her husband.

Other indictments reported yesterday include: Laura Mahan, accused by a minor youth, under an old Oregon moral statute enacted in 1864, this being the first prosecution of the kind ever undertaken in the state; Herbert Clyde, alias George H. Fine, passing a worthless check for $20 on H. O. Hicks, N. Blearney, assault with a shovel on Lee Barrett, a road foreman for Multnomah County; J. O. ### CRESTON RESIDENTS IRATE

Refusal of Use of School Building for Meeting Resented.

There is considerable indignation among the people tributary to the Creston School over the refusal of the Fire Marshal to permit the use of the assembly hall for the mass meeting Monday night. More than 200 people came to the building and were jammed into the hallway on the lower floor, which made it uncomfortable.

Mrs. F. J. Chapman, president of the Franklin High School Parent-Teacher Association, said yesterday that the matter will be investigated, as the people want to have use of the assembly hall.
