

MEXICANS KILL 2, WRECK TEXAS TRAIN

Three Passengers Are Wounded and Coaches Are Set on Fire by Bandits.

TROOPS RUSHED TO SCENE

Four Companies of Infantry Are Sent by Special Train and Two Troops of Cavalry Start. Soldiers Among Dead.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 19.—Mexican bandits early today help up and robbed a St. Louis & San Francisco passenger train, killing two persons and wounding three others near Olmito, seven miles north of here.

The dead: H. Kendall, engineer. United States cavalryman, name unknown.

The injured: Dr. E. R. McCain, Cameron County Physician, probably fatally shot. Harry Wallis, seriously wounded in abdomen. Conductor P. E. Moran, slightly wounded.

Dr. McCain was shot through the abdomen and may die.

Treasure Is Burned.

A long freight half a mile south of the wreck was set afire half an hour after the train was held up and almost destroyed.

This hindered the progress of the first detachment of troops which was sent in pursuit so that the bandits had ample time to flee into the brush.

Passengers who reached here on a relief train early today said that the train was derailed, that Mexicans poured into the coaches shouting "Viva Plazana" and commenced to shoot at the passengers.

Plazana, the man the bandits were cheering, is supposed to be the leader of the so-called "Texas revolution" nurtured under the "plan of San Diego," which last year contemplated the seizure of border states and returning them to Mexican rule.

Troops Are Rushed.

A negro reached his home four miles from Brownsville and gave the first report of the wreck and killing.

Four companies of United States Infantry were rushed to the scene by special trains, followed by two troops of cavalry.

The bandits were passengers and set fire to the train, which was still burning at 2 o'clock.

The Mexicans severed the telephone line between Brownsville and Villa Nueva, five miles from here, which resulted not only in delaying information reaching Brownsville, but also interfered with communication with troop B. of the Thirtieth Cavalry, on duty near the scene of the holdup.

PLUMBING VIEWS DIFFER

PROPOSED ORDINANCE DISCUSSED AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Owners of Buildings and Independent Oppose Measure, Master Plumbers Arguing in Favor of It.

If it is necessary to have a family doctor restore good health, it should be just as necessary to have a family plumber to retain good health.

This was a ready conclusion from the hearing on the pending plumbing ordinance at the Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

Proponents of the measure, consisting largely of the leading master plumbers of the city, argued that further regulation in the installation and maintenance of plumbing is essential to the protection of public health. It is an advanced step in sanitation, they argued. They were supported by Commissioner Dieck, champion of the ordinance in the City Council.

Opposition came from two sources: from owners of buildings requiring plumbing and from small independent plumbers, who fear the "frozen out" if the proposed law becomes effective.

The meeting was conducted by the city engineer, Mr. Chamberlain. Dr. Vincent, chairman, presiding. Officially with him was John B. Yeon, a director of the Chamber. George E. Hardy, executive secretary, presided.

The object merely was to give all sides an opportunity of expressing themselves on the measure, and a decision on the merits of the issue, but may make a recommendation to the City Council.

Robert H. Strong, manager for the Corbett estate, was the principal speaker against the ordinance. He himself is a master plumber, but as a private owner of buildings of the privilege of having some of the minor details of their plumbing done by their own plumbers and engineers, he is just as competent, he said, to do these odd jobs as the master plumbers themselves.

The plumbers insisted that all plumbing should be done on a standard basis.

Beer Bar Bought by Dental Students on Class Lark.

Song Over Tilted Mugs of 150 Follows Compulsory Performance by Freshman at Hotel.

GOOD fellowship and "wet goods" flowed at the conclusion of the initiation of the freshmen of the North Pacific College of Dentistry and Pharmacy into the sacred circle of college fraternities Monday night.

About 150 of the "frosh" were lined up early in the evening and marshaled through the streets of the city and taken to the Multnomah Hotel. There, for the benefit of the public, The first-year men were made the victims of all sorts of innocent practical jokes and other forms of standard college pranks were indulged in.

As a fitting climax freshmen and sophomores alike repaired to Harvey's cafe, at the corner of Third and Ankeny streets, bought out the place, stationed freshmen and sophomore guards at the entrances, and with four husky second-year men as barkeepers, cut loose in the spirit of good fellowship.

Bear and college songs were well rendered, the boys declared that the beer was better.

Although patrolmen kept a weather eye on the place to nip any disturbance, no arrests were reported.

GENERAL HAMILTON IS RETURNING HOME

Commander of Dardanelles Expedition Succeeded by General Munro.

REVERSES ARE ADMITTED

British Veteran Who Is Recalled Has Great Fighting Record in Afghan, Boer and Other South African Wars.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Major-General Charles Carmichael Munro has been appointed to command the Dardanelles expedition, in succession to General Sir Ian Hamilton, who is returning to England to make a report. This announcement is made by the War Office.

General Munro's naval at Gallipoli, Major-General William Riddell Birdwood will temporarily command the troops.

Reverses Are Admitted.

That all has not been going well with the expeditionary forces sent to the Gallipoli Peninsula to open the way to Constantinople has been admitted not only by the official British intimations in high quarters in London. A few days ago in the British Parliament, Viscount Milner suggested the withdrawal of the troops from Gallipoli and their transfer to some other theater of the war.

In reply, Lord Lansdowne said it was impossible for any member of the government to give an undertaking that the troops would be continued in the Dardanelles operations or withdrawn from them.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, who has commanded the British forces in the Dardanelles since their first landing in April, has in his reports to the War Office, chronicled very heavy losses to the British forces with comparatively small gains. The result of this has been to arouse discussion as to whether operations in the Dardanelles were progressing in a way to warrant their continuation.

General Is Veteran.

General Sir Ian Hamilton is one of the veteran fighters of the British army, having seen service in the Afghan war of 1878, the Boer war of 1881, the Sudan war of 1898, the South African war, in which he was chief of staff to Lord Kitchener. He is 62 years of age.

Major-General Charles Carmichael Munro, who was born in 1850, was a military commander of an army corps in 1879. He entered the army in 1879 and served with distinction in the South African war. Later he commanded a division of the territorial force in 1900.

Major-General William R. Birdwood, who temporarily takes command of the British forces in the Dardanelles, was born in 1850. He served in the Boer war, and has a record of splendid service in the Boer war, being mentioned several times in dispatches for heroism. In that war he suffered severe wounds.

MARS ROUTED BY CUPID

Dr. Richard F. James to Wed Miss Eva Cox at San Francisco After Long Courtship.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A romance starting six years ago, when Miss Eva Cox was a junior at the Carney Hospital Nurses' Training School, Boston, and Dr. Richard F. James was house surgeon, will result Wednesday evening in the marriage of the couple at St. Mary's Cathedral here.

When Dr. James decided on locating at Portland he made his plans to marry pretty fiancee to accompany him. This she refused to do, declaring she would not marry until after she had obtained her diploma, two years later.

At the end of that time Dr. James again importuned Miss Cox to become his bride. This time she declared she intended to devote her life to the cure of the lepers on Molokai Islands. From this idea she was dissuaded.

Recently Dr. James feared Miss Cox would go to Europe and enlist as a nurse. He wrote that he would no longer allow the wedding to be delayed. He and his bride will reside in Portland.

Workers in Scadding House Day Report Success.

BUSINESS MEN ARE BUYERS

Bishop Sumner Addresses Meeting and Extols Social Service Like Men's Resort, Schools and Community Centers.

Enthusiasm characterized the meeting of the Episcopal Social Service League Monday night at the Central Library. The session was a climax to a very successful "Scadding House day," during which a number of people prominent in the social service work had spent the day in the Scadding House, and the wholesome influence of the men's resort, for the men are not turned out into the street after being fed.

"The heaviest and by far the most numerous sales have been among the business houses. Several of the business men expressed an opinion that Scadding House is the city's best help for the unemployed."
