C. Elliott King, first vice-president of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, Following the greetings and acceptances President Mrs. Aristone N. Felts will deliver her annual address, "Modern Tendencies in Education."

Great preparations have been made for the convention to make it a successful one. Eleven convention committees of Coyvallis women have met frequently to carry out their work. The committee on hospitality has canvassed the city for sleeping quarters for the visiting delegates, each family who takes a delegate agreeing to furnish bed and breakfast. For some of the delegates rooms will be provided by Corvallis women at Waldo and Cauthern halls, the girls' dormitories at the college. The reception committee, the largest in number of any appointed, is made up of 19 women. This committee not only will form the receiving line at the formal reception, but members of the committee will be at each session to see that no delegate wants for anything. Between sessions the reception committee plans to call on the transportation committee for automobiles to tour the paved streets of the city.

ATTORNEY PUT ON TRIAL

Supposed Witness of Gun Play for City Recorder Killed by Auto.

LA GRANDE. On, Oct. 19.—(Special.)
—Attorney L. Henham, candidate on the Republican ticket at the last election for County Representative, is on trial in the Circuit Court to defend himself against a charge of "pointing a gun at City Recorder Jesse Crum, of Eigin, not in self-defense."

The trouble dates back to early Summer. Late in June Crum and Denham had words one evening, and the next morning Robert Bluemenstein, since killed in an automobile accident, is said to have seen Denham display a gun and cross the Eigin main street to where Crum was, Bluemenstein abouted at Crum, the story goes, and the latter dodged into a drugstore. About 20 Eigin people are here as witnesses.

REFERENDUM MAY BE USED

City Ordinance Granting Telephone Franchise Affected by Opinion.

OLYMPIA. Wash. Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A city ordinance granting a telephone franchise is subject to referendum, the Supreme Court decided yesterday, just one week after the case involving this question had been submitted. This will allow Spokane voters at the city election this month to vote of the city election the city elec on the new franchise offered by the City Commission to the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company.

The Supreme Court holds that although the authority to grant street railway franchises is delegated directly to the Mayor and City Council, and cannot be re-transferred to the voters, the authority to grant telephone franchises is granted to the city itself.

(Special.) — Frominent breeders of pure-bred livestock met in Caldwell Monday and perfected an organization to be known as the Northwestern Pure Bred Livestock Breeders' Association. The organization is the only one of its kind west of the Misouri River. The objects of the organization are to advance interest in the production of pure-bred animals and to secure an outlet for surplus stock.

October 27 and 28 the association will hold a show of blooded stock at Caldwell. Thirty breeders have announced their intention of showing their herds.

The officers of the association are: Henry Beck, of Meridian, president; A. L. Wilson, of Greenleaf, vice-president; W. F. Howard, of Parma, secretary-treasurer.

Supreme Court Decides Question Where Two Laws Are in Conflict.

MANDAMUS

County Commissioners May Make Such Division as Appeals to Them, Cities Being Incorporrated Held Not Factor.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 19. - (Special.) -- Writ of mandamus to compel the Multnomah County Commissioners to place the City of Portland in a separate road district was denied today by the Supreme Court on the graund that an act preme Court on the graund that an act paused by the last Legislature after chapter 127 of the 1915 session had become a law, took precedence. The opinion was written by Justice Bean. William F. Brady instituted the proceedings against the County Commissioners, basing his contention that the Commissioners should constitute Portland a separate road district under chapter 127 of the 1915 session laws, which provides for dividing counties into road districts in October and that incorporated cities shall be road districts by themselves. The records show that this law was filed with the Secretary of State at 8:30 A. M. of February 23, while chapter 194, which substitutes September for October as the time for making the road district division and contains no provision for making incorporated cities separate road districts, was filed on the same day at 2:55 A. M.

Justice Bean in his opinion declares that where two acts are in conflict "the later expression of the Legislature must prevail." The court held that chapter 194 did not limit the Commissioners in making the division into road districts and that they could the head with a cleaver, Jim Bourpassed by the last Legislature after maste-deterioration-loss of strength --inferior flavor--are some of the things you are cautioned to observe about > the coffee contained in a package or can that is throwing off aroma.

What Aroma Means

Coffee Week October 17 to 23

EDWARDS

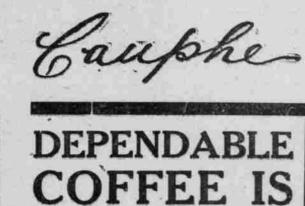

The aroma is noticeable from the time the coffee comes out of the roaster and continues until the strength and flavor is all gone or the coffee is used.

This flight of aroma is simply the evaporation of the oils which represent strength and flavor, and it means deterioration in proportion to the length of time elapsing between the time of roasting and the time of using-even though it is packed airtight and moisture-proof.

The less you pay for coffee the less strength and aroma it has and the quicker it evaporates. Therefore, the best (at an average of 40c) is the cheapest, and the sooner it reaches you after it is roasted, the more delicate and delicious it is in the cup.

It is only in this way, in fact, that one may get full value and satisfaction for coffee money expended.

Moral: Get your coffee fresh roasted, and in amounts only that can be easily used before it deteriorates.

SOUTHERN MANUFACTURERS ADD MUCH EQUIPMENT.

Market for Increased Output Is Not Revealed and Unaual Buyers Are

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 28 .- The outbreak of the European war, with the business depression, especially in the South, which followed, was accompanied by the urging of manufacturers—cotton manufacturers in particular—to "grasp the opportunity at hand" in increasing their output and building up trade in places which had been domi-nated by foreign manufacturers. That the South has responded to this oppor-tunity is verified by figures just made public.

During the last year, a year when investors had less capital for expansion and consumers had less purchasing power than has been the case almost since the Civil War, the cotton manufacturers have made large increases in the capacities of their plants. The figures at hand just now do not show where the increased output of these mills was placed. One thing is sense.
