OREGON IS DOPED TO BEAT WHITMAN

Three Teams Resting Today Northwest Conference Football.

GONZAGA TO PLAY DOBIE

Dobie's Dictatorial Methods Are Attacked and Reason for Spurning Washington State Is Made Known by Records.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Two games comprise today's collegiate football morsels in the Pacific Northwest. The University of Oregon will tackle Whitman College at Walla Walla in the only conference battle. while, at Spokane, Gonzaga College will play host to the University of Wash-

Idaho and Washington State College are resting up preparatory to their annual mix at Moscow for the Inland Empire championship next Saturday. The Oregon Aggies soon are off on their record marathon hike back to East Lansing, Mich., where a bunch of Wolvering Formers attention of limb and verine Farmers strong of limb and huge in stature will endeavor to show them a few tricks about Middle West-ern football.

So, summing up, three of the conference teams will be striving this after-noon and three will be at peace with The Whitman-Oregon clash at Walla Walla will be largely a clash of Port-land interscholastic talent against for-mer teammates—"dog eat dog," as it were. When Vincent Borleske went were. When Vincent Borleske went from the coachship at Lincoln High to Whitman he pulled four or five of his ex-high school stars along with him, and on the Oregon side of the scrimmage line several of the boys are local graduates, among them Beckett, Risley, Malarkey, Tuerck and Cornell.

Although the dope points to an Oregon victory, this game is sure to be close and hard-fought. Borleske is a good coach and he now has bad sufficient time to instill his own fight into his players. The Oregon Aggles defeated Whitman 34-7, but the Missionaries held Multnomah Club to a 6-0 feated Whitman 34-7, but the Missionaries held Multnomah Club to a 6-0 score, and that shows possibilities.

The Spokane game between Washington and Gonzaga ought to set an attendance mark for Seattle and Portland to shoot at. The town seems to be all excited over this first chance to see Dobie's crew since 1212, when Washington gave Idaho a terrible drubbing at Natatorium Park.

This trip of the Washington team to

This trip of the Washington team to Spokane to meet Gonzaga gives further evidence of Washington's dictatorial policy in the Northwest Conference. Only twice since 1900 has Washington taken turns with Washington State College and played on the eastern side of the mountains. Yet, when Washington State asked that Washington play in Spokane this year Coach Doble gave the Pullmanites the Arctic stare, creatched them off the schedule entirely for their temerity, and then later took on Gonzaga. Doble did not do this because he feared did not do this because he feared Washington State more than Gonzaga. Washington beat Washington State something like i5-0 last Turkey day. Whitman's record would look even Whitman's record would look even worse and idaho can boast of only four games on the other side of the range in 17 years, two of them being idaho victories. The Oregon Aggies played four straight years at Scattle before Dr. E. J. Stewart hove into view in 1913 and made Washington alternate. It was the Aggies' turn to play in Seattle this year, but Washington refused to give the Aggies' turn to play in Seattle this tickets that they received last year at the 0-0 Albany game.

As a result of this selfish policy on the part of the Washington officials, Whitman is the only conference team if will meet this year. There has been ween Washington and Washington State granting that the latter wins from idaho and Whitman, as seems likely. Pullman alumni spiked this move at a dinner in Spokane the other might. An effort will be made, however, to have Washington recede from its buil-necked stand and play the hosts of Dietz at Spokane next Fall.

If Washington goes through its schedule unsullied, defeating California end Whitman, Seattle will claim the Coast championship, and yet Washington State seems lined up strongly for the Northwest Conference title.

As Newt Colver, of the Spokane Spokesman-Review, remarks: "Washington will be champion of Seattle, anyway, and, if Seattle folk are to be believed, that is some honor." way, and, if Seattle folk ar lieved, that is some honor.

Baker and Weiser High School elevens played a scoreless game before a goodsized crowd at the Valley-avenue grounds this afternoon. Weiser's superior weight kept Baker from scoring, while Baker's teamwork was responsible for its defense.

Baker led the offensive all the time and often threatened the visitors' goal, getting the ball to the 10-yard line several times, but was unable to buck it across the line. Captain Keown, of the home team, was the star, making many long runs. The game as a whole was listless with some excitement in the last half caused by Baker's frequent end runs. Injuries were few during the early season, but they have been coming in showers during the past two weeks and the hospital squad is assuming alarming proportions. Eleven are incapacitated from real work by injuries. Allen, halfback: Bissett, center and end: King, guard; Brooke, guard, and "Pete" Anderson, veteran center, who is now starring in a new role at tackle, are the tonsolitis victims. Hoerline, now an important cog in the backfield since the removal of Captain Billie to end, has a badly injured knee.

Hofer, tackle and guard, and Moist, end, have severely battered elbows and appear with the injured members deeply swathed in bandages to prevent permanent injuries. Abraham has not vet participating in a student activity—the term "activity" applying to debating, oratory and, in fact, any campus activity other than the dictations of a scholastic schedule — must pass in three-fourths of his work to be eligible to compute or participate in his cursis. manent injuries.
