3 REALTY DEALS

John A. Bell, Wholesale Grocer, Buys $30,000 Site in East Side Wholesale District.

B. LEE PAGET HOME SOLD

Two-Story Brick Amsterdam Apartment and Store Building at East Twenty-First and Powell Streets Brings $24,000.

Three reality deals of importance were concluded in Portland yesterday, the most significant one involving the sale of the entire northeast corner of East Third and East Alder streets to John A. Bell, of the large wholesale grocery firm of Bell & Co., for $30,000. It is one of a number of transactions that indicate the eventual transfer of the wholesale produce district from the West to the East Side.

The property, which includes 100 by 100 feet of vacant land, was formerly owned by the Hawthorne estate, and the deal was handled by W. H. Mall, of the reality firm of Mall & Von Borstei. Mr. Bell said yesterday that the purchase was made personally as an investment, but it is understood on Front street that it may mean the removal of the Bell company to the East Side district, which is fast coming to be the center for wholesale produce firms.

Directly across the street from the corner Mr. Bell is buying a $10,000 building is being erected for the occupancy of the W. B. Glafke Produce Company, of the W. B. Glatke Produce Company, while the Pearson-Ryan Company and the Pacific Fruit & Produce Company are located at East First and East Alder and East Second and East Alder streets, respectively. Page & Son also own land in that locality, and if they should ever build there it would make the removal of the large firms from the pioneer market center along Front street to the new East Side district almost complete.

The wholesale produce firms are said to favor the new district because it affords better shipping facilities and nives them more room to expand by the construction of refrigerator plants and other requisites of the trade.

Also, through Mr. Mall, W. G. Glafke yesterday paid B. Lee Paget approximately $10.000 for the latter's country home and fancy fruit orchard of about four acres, located at Oak Grove. The place is planted to more than 75 fruit trees, each of a different sariety. Mr. Glafke will improve the estate extensively and make it his home.

The third big deal made known yesterday was the purchase by H. O. Triplett of the two-story brick Amsterdam apartment and store building at Last Twenty-first and Powell streets.

The structure contains 14 apartments of three rooms each, five store rooms and several offices. The completed ing erected for the occupancy B. Glafke Produce Company, Rain in Australia Assures Abundant Crops.

RETURNING SHIPS ENGAGED

One Effect of Temporary Scarcity in Antipodes Is Opportunity of Northwest Exporters to Find Market in South Africa.

There will be no shipments of wheat and oats to Australia during the pres-ent season, late reports from there in-dicating that crops will be abundant.

The Yucatan was not allowed to remain idle long, as she was fixed for business between Puget Sound and Alaska, while the General Y. Pasqueira, a Mexican carrier, accepted a lumber engagement to load on Puget Sound for Port Pirle. The Colon has reported at San Francisco from Australia by way of Makatea, having proceeded there in ballast after getting rid of her grain to load phosphate. The Mackinaw, which was sold soon after leaving here, has an engagement to load Australian wool for Boston and probably will take on general cargo there for this side.

Australia and South Africa being as an engagement to load Australian will be substituted for later arrival, probably of for Boston and probably will take n general cargo there for this side.

Australia and South Africa being of approximately 200,000 bushels of again out of the zone of Northwest ce-real exports, grain promises to move mainly to Europe, as before, though there are prospects that South Africa will remain a more or less steady pur-chaser so long as a dependable steamship service is assured from here.

Along the waterfront an optimistic view is taken of the present situation, for despite the closing of the Canal and detention of considerable grain tonnage on the way, it is argued that the de-mand abroad for wheat will not be diminished and that soon after January proceeded direct to San Francisco to visit the fair, while others of the crew came to Portland.

Another surveying party from that office is engaged on the Umpqua River in charge of J. H. Folhemus, junior engineer. Unless weather conditions detain them they are expected to complete the undertaking in a week, Coast projects along the Oregon coast being directed by Major Williams are said to be advancing. Until the dredge Col. P. S. Michle finishes her work on the Coos Bay bar it will not be known definitely whether she will be sent to Grays Harbor to operate part of the

It is asserted that red cedar is superior to redwood from the standpoint of durability, and, being lighter, they will be more desirable for transahipment by rairoad to the interfor. The L. B. Menefee Lumber Company is handling the introductory lot, and with plants turning out 1,250,000 shingles a day in this district officers of the corporation feel that they will be in a position to furnish the Australian trade with all required.

Judge Condemns Literature.

Some of the boys said that they had been reading detective stories and such books as "Peck's Bad Boy." The judge took occasion to condemn stories in which bad boys are made heroes and elicited a promise from each of the lads that he will eschew such literature in the future. In at least one case it was shown that the parents have been separated for years.

Judge Clecton evidenced a disposition to consider the cases from a psychological rather than a criminal standpoint. He spent a great deal of time delving into the mind of each of the boys, with a view to learning his ideas as to right and wrong and whether he was criminally inclined. None of the boys was disposed to blame his parents, all stating that they had been taught that it was wrong to steal. All spoke of the love of adventure and they were unanimous in stating that it took less nerve to accomplish each succeeding burglary.

Restitution is Demanded. Judge Condemns Literature.
