OREGON TEAM HOLDS FIFTH PLACE IN NATIONAL MATCH.

Local Militiamen Outshoot All Competitors in Difficult 1000-Yard Contest With 44 Entries.

With the conclusion of the National Rifle matches held at the range near Jacksonville, Fla., representatives of the Oregon National Guard have, in individual and team matches, made a better record than at any other National shoot.

The Oregon team stood in fifth place when the team matches had all been disposed of, and only one state team, Massachusetts, had made a better record. The Oregon men beat the teams from both Government schools.

Details of the National team matches reached guard headquarters yesterday by telegram from the team commander, Captain Buchanan. In the telegram Captain Buchanan said that the Oregon team ranked highest of the 44 teams entered in the 1000-yard match, considered the most difficult match of all the ranges.

At the conclusion of the first day's shooting, when the short ranges had been concluded, the Oregon team stood in 16th place. The longer ranges were shot so accurately by the Oregon men

FOREST GROVE IS WON

DELEGATION TO COME TO MANUFACTURERS' AND LAND SHOW.

Decision is Reached After Flying Squadron Disperses Hostile to Portland.

Part of the "flying squadron" sent out by the Chamber of Commerce to advertise the Land Products Show ran up against a snag at Forest Grove Thursday night.

When the business men of Forest Grove discovered that the representatives of the Portland Chamber of Commerce were to speak in that city a large delegation turned out with the avowed purpose of telling the Portland men that they were ruining the business of Forest Grove by advertising Portland, thus diverting the business.

A banquet was tendered Mr. Mosesohn and H. H. Haynes, the members of the Portland delegation, and speeches were made by the score by business men of the college town against such methods of advertising as the Chamber of Commerce had conceived and executed.

Whenever something hostile to Port-

EXHIBITS GO INTO PLACE

Headquarters at Armory Ready to Open Land Products Show.

Offices of the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show have been moved into the quarters in the temporary annex at the Armory and the final preparations for the opening of the show on Monday morning are being hurried through.

In the west annex, where the county exhibits are being installed, the Polk County and Jackson County exhibits are already nearly installed. Mrs. Braden, secretary of the Polk County Fair Association, is one of the women in sole charge of an exhibit at the show.

In the main building, where the manufacturers' exhibits are to be installed, the booths are practically finished. The installation of the exhibits will be done tomorrow.

MRS. LEON GOTTLIEB SUES

Divorce Complaint Calls "Doctor" Swindler and Deadbeat.

"Deadbeat," "impostor" and "swindler" are terms applied by Clara Herschberger Gottlieb to Leon Paul Gottlieb, with whom she eloped to Ore-son City September 15, in a suit for divorce instituted in Circuit Court yesterday. Among the false representations she declares he made to her are the following:

That he was a man of education and culture, that he was a doctor by profession, that he came of a wealthy and socially prominent Austrian family, that he was honest, upright, and of good character and that he had funds in a New York bank.

Mrs. Gottlieb reiterates the accusations against her husband, now in jail on a charge of passing a worthless check for $12 on J. B. Neubauer, a grocer, made by the police.
