

MILLEN REVEALS TRAFFIC COMPACT

Moves to Get Grip on New England Through Strategic Railways Are Related.

TERRITORY IS DIVIDED

Ex-President of New Haven Testifies That "Corsair Agreement" Was Entered Into at His Own Suggestion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Official steps taken by the board of directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, in pursuance of an alleged conspiracy to control the transportation traffic of New England, were placed before the jury at the trial of the 11 New Haven directors today.

They were revealed in minutes of the directors' meetings and various letters written to or by Charles S. Millen and which Mr. Millen, a witness for the Government for the third successive day, identified for the jury and in some instances elucidated.

Four of Directors Still Living. William Rockefeller, Charles F. Brooker, defendants; George Macculloch Miller, a defendant not on trial, and Chauncey Depeew, alleged conspirators in the case, were the only directors recorded as present at the meetings who are still alive.

Rate Agreement Made in 1881. Frank L. Swaker, the Federal prosecutor, began by introducing, over the protests of the defense, an agreement made by the New England steamship and railroad lines in 1881, called the "Sound Lines agreement," never before made public, whereby the Sound Lines Association agreed to fix rates on traffic and to impose $3000 penalties for its infraction.

Then, through a resolution in the minutes of the board of directors' meeting, held in 1891, a year after the Sherman law was passed, he showed that the directors had taken official cognizance of the agreement as a threat to cut off its joint traffic arrangements with the New York & New England road, which had notified the association of its intention to start a new water route from Wilson's Point, Conn., to New York.

Complaint Made to Millen. Further evidence that the New Haven continued to carry on the agreement was introduced in the form of a letter written by the general freight agent of the New Haven to Mr. Millen, complaining that the New York & New England had cut the rate on wash boilers "in direct violation of the Sound Lines agreement."

Evidence was next put in to show that after the New York & New England had carried out its determination to start a new water route from Wilson's Point, Conn., and sold them to the New Haven "at cost."

Mr. Millen apparently scored a point for the New York & New England by getting him to say that since the New Haven reduced its rates to the West against the New York Central there had been no advance.

When the session adjourned until Monday the witness was describing to the jury that after the so-called Corsair agreement, dividing territory of New England between the New Haven and the Boston & Maine.

SU PERRAB SINGH. In more ways than one have the colonials of Great Britain shown their loyalty to the "motherland" since the war began. The Canadians have shown their qualities in more places than at Ypres, and the Australians are showing their worth in the Dardanelles.

The Indian troops are doing more than their share. Early in the war when the expeditionary forces were being mobilized and equipped, Sir Perthab Singh, a 70-year-old veteran Indian Prince, who had seen active service in the past, organized and equipped a corps of his subjects and offered both King George. The moral effect of this action and the acceptance of the volunteers by the King of England has ended to cement the feeling of loyalty existing between the Indian colonies and England.

Sir Perthab Singh has distinguished himself with his command with the British forces in France.

Residents of Mountain View District Assert Noise Continues Till Early Morning and Often Call for Police to Quiet.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Rev. Andrew C. Baker, pastor of the Pentecostal campmeeting at Mountain View, was arrested today by Chief of Police Shaw on a charge of disturbing the peace. Mrs. Dorothy Smith, who lives near the meeting place, was the complaining witness. Rev. Mr. Baker was released to appear Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when he will have a trial before Recorder Loder.

Woman Found "Under the Power." When arrested, Baker was nailing boards on his half-constructed church. Inside the building, one woman was lying on the floor, as if in a trance. The pastor explained that she was "under the power." Several other women were in the building.

Residents Complain of Meeting. Following Baker's release, a party of Mountain View citizens presented their side of the case to Recorder Loder. They argued that the city authorities should put a stop at once to the meetings and one is said to have urged that the leaders be deported.

Baker's arrest follows a series of complaints which have extended over several months. For a time a special police force was kept at the meeting place and for the last week calls for the police have been sent in almost every night.
