MRS. WILLIAM GIBBS M'ADOO

completely charmed the women who were asked to meet her yesterday by Miss Ruth Teal at a delightful luncheon at the El Comodoro. Miss Teal acting hostess for her mother, who is in the south. Seated around the prettily decked table, the feature of which was a broad bowl of Ophelia roses, corsage bouquets of all Brun and marking the places, were: Mrs. M'Adoo, her cousin, Mrs. A. M. Wilson; Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke and the gracious little hostess.

DAUGHTER OF COMMISSIONER WHO BECAME BRIDE LAST NIGHT AT HOME WEDDING.

The early morning was devoted to motoring about the scenic roads surrounding the city, and after luncheon, the hostess, her honor guest and Mrs. A. M. Wilson went to the Commercial Club to hear Mr. M'Adoo's speech, after which they motored out on the highway until time for the M'Adoo's to leave.

Mr. M'Adoo was the guest of Mr. Teal during the day.

Mrs. Mary J. Coe celebrated her 80th birthday yesterday, and had among dinner guests her son, Dr. Henry Walden Coe and his family. The table was adorned with a huge birthday cake, containing 80 lighted candles. Mrs. Coe is most actively interested in philanthropic work, social and civic affairs. She has a host of friends, and is one of the "youngest" women of her set.

Bishop J. W. Hamilton and daughter, Miss Hamilton, and the former's sister, Miss Beattie, of Boston, the latter being a Virginian, were among the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray for a few days. In addition to trips on the Columbia Highway, Mr. and Mrs. Murray entertained their guests with an interesting visit to the Ice Hippodrome. Bishop Hamilton is one of the prominent members of the Methodist diocese, of Boston. The party left Sunday night for the East.

The Saturday Night Dinner Dance at Chanticleer Inn was attended by the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Spoerl, Mr. and Mrs. Sam C. Jaeger, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Sturdevant, Dr. and Mrs. George Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sandvall, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sturdevant, Dr. and Mrs. Guy H. Ketcherson, Miss Mabel O'Brien, Phil New, Jr., Thomas Sevel and J. E. Allen.

The Boulevard Dancing Club will hold their weekly party at Vincent hall, East Forty-third and Sandy boulevards, this evening. Instructions in new steps from 8.30 to 9.30, dancing to 11:30. A three-piece orchestra will furnish music.

A very jolly "hard times" party was given by the junior members of the Rose City Park Club at the clubhouse last Friday evening. The dinner courses were worn, and "hard times" really seemed to prevail. The ballroom was decorated with autumn leaves and shaded lights. Cider and doughnuts were served. Mrs. Floyd Campbell having charge of the refreshments, assisted by the Misses Alma Scharp and Ruth Crittendon. High school songs and "yells" made the party lively. The invitation committee members were: Laura Shay, Amy Scharp, Lenore Blesinger, Olin Lewis and Donald Flennaghy. Mrs. C. S. Shay had charge of the affair.

The second of a series of bridge teas was given Friday by the Misses McCollum in their Irvington home. The house was prettily decorated in yellow and green, chrysanthemums and ferns being used. The prize was captured by Mrs. William Carlton Ruegruts. Miss Charlotte Banfield gave a reading.

A charming children's party was given by Miss Laura Shay to her pen pals and their friends at Vincent Hall Saturday afternoon. She was assisted by Miss Eunice Cowgill. The party was a Halloween affair with costumes between favors and dances. Cider and cakes were served. The children attending the "fairy matinee" came as guests and enjoyed the evening. The affair was developed throughout the house.

The bride is quite young, and is the third member of the Daly family to be married in the past 18 months.

Miss Maud Ainsworth entertained Ruth St. Denis and her partner, Edmund Ted Shaw during their season in this city, as house guests at her home on Portland Heights. Each morning brought their visit. Mr. Shaw gave a group of Miss Ainsworth's friends dancing lessons in the studio she especially liked for dancing. Sunday Miss Ainsworth entertained her guests with a motor trip on the Highway followed by luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw leaving Sunday night for the north.

One of the prettiest of the season's informal dances that was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ames in honor of Miss Antoinette Mears, one of the season's buds. About 40 of the young contingent made merry throughout the evening, the Ames residence on Willamette Heights being especially pretty for the occasion, with a background of brilliant and autumnal foliage and seasonal blossoms. Miss Mears is a charming debutante.

An affair pleasantly anticipated by the members and friends of the Y. L. S. is the Halloween stepping party to be given under the auspices of that club at St. Lawrence Hall, Third and Sherman streets, Friday. An appropriate halloween feast, consisting of cider, doughnuts, candy and apples will be prepared and served by the following popular young women, the Misses Agnes Tillman, Grace Twichell, Lillian Bullen, Agnes Wank, Elizabeth Cole, Rose Wank and Evelyn Tillman. The patronesses are the Mesdames Tillman, Bullen, Wank, Twichell and Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bland, who visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Shaw during the previous months, are now in St. Paul visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fulton Shaw. They will go later to Chicago and to Finley, Ill. Mrs. Bland's people here are being entertained delightfully en route to New York.

Veazie, Abe Tichnor, A. E. Jackson and John F. Toft.

Prize winners were: Mrs. H. T. Burntrager, Mrs. Lyndon Veysey and Mrs. John F. Toft.

A charming, but simple, home wedding was solemnized at 5 o'clock yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Daly, when their daughter, Miss Hazel A. Daly, became the bride of Charles J. Arndt. The wedding has been planned for some time, but owing to a change in the bridegroom's business, the young folk decided upon an immediate wedding, taking their wedding trip to Washington, D. C., where the bridegroom has been transferred until Spring.

The young couple were unattended, and the bride was crowned in a lovely creation of ivory satin, lace and tulle. Her veil was wreathed with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maidenhair ferns. About 20 guests were seated at the wedding supper. The rooms were decked prettily with chrysanthemums and greenery, a color scheme of white and green being developed throughout the house.

The bride is quite young, and is the third member of the Daly family to be married in the past 18 months.

Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, state president of W. C. T. U., gave a talk at the Central Union meeting on Wednesday. She spoke of the National convention, but she especially told of the great assurance that the National officers and delegates expressed over their royal entertainment in Portland. She quoted many of them as saying that they were surely coming back to spend some time in Portland. Mrs. Kemp expressed her appreciation and thanks to everyone who had helped to make the entertainment of officials such a success. Central Union voted a general vote of thanks to the officials and people of Portland for their generous co-operation and assistance.

Detailed reports of the National convention at Seattle were given by Mrs. Hattie Wilson and Mrs. C. A. Ponnay. Different branches of the work of the convention were reported by Mrs. G. L. Buland, Mrs. C. C. Taylor, Miss Sarah Lyman, Mrs. Lee Davenport and Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden. The Oregon Convention of Music furnished the musical numbers. Miss Beatrice Knowland and Hazel Stradley received the thanks of the union for their numbers.

THE SANDMAN STORY

By Mrs. F. A. Walker

ONE night Granny Fox heard her grandson and granddaughter talking after she had gone to bed, so she pricked up her ears, put aside her nightcap, and listened.

"Granny is old and she does not need much sleep," she thought. "The bones left from supper for her breakfast," said grandson. "She is too old to get food for herself, and cannot expect us to work and take care of her."

"That is so," said granddaughter; she always wants the tenderest part of the food and she eats as much as a strong well fox would eat. She is living entirely too long."

"So Granny Fox is old, is she?" said grandson, "I thought I would take a strong well fox would eat. She is living entirely too long."

"Good morning, grandchildren," she said, smiling. "I thought I would take a little walk before breakfast. And see what I found; I just picked them from the fat duck they had brought home. So you won't have to give me any of your duck today, and this dish of bones you can put in the fire to make it a little warmer. It certainly is chilly these mornings."

SHE COULDN'T PAY CASH

BUT SHE DID BUY A LOVELY SET OF FURS ON CREDIT AT CHERRY'S.

Yes, that is just exactly what Alma did. She was in a wonderful predicament as to how she was going to get her suit and furs and the various things she needed for the Fall and Winter. But she happened to meet Bessie, who had just been shopping, and Alma told her troubles to her.

Well, that ended it all right there. Bessie says: "Come with me and I'll show you where I got all my beautiful clothes, and you know that your income is just as much as mine." So she took her to CHERRY'S—that famous store on Washington street in the Pittock block—and there she found exactly what she was looking for. So, when the simple and easy way of buying on credit was explained to her, she could make a small payment down and the balance by the week or any convenient way for her, her expression showed a radiance of joy and delight that I cannot describe to you.

But dear me, while I was there I happened to take a look at their Waist Department, too, and I saw them. The very latest arrivals in Crepe de Chine, both in white and flesh colors, what other stores are getting $4.00 for, and their price is only $2.95. Also a beautiful striped Silk Waist at the same price. Oh, but they are beauties. Sure, you can get them on the same Easy Payment System, too. Don't fail to see them. Here, for fear that you forget their address, is one of their cards: 333-331 Wash. St., in the Pittock blk.
