Now the student is swayed by the tense interest that will prevail until the final score is flashed over the wires next Saturday. Victory Is Hardly Expected.

Hopes for a victory over the Middle West team were somewhat shattered by the returns from Ann Arbor Saturday proclaiming the Eastern Aggies victors over the strong university team by a decisive score, thereby establishing themselves firmly among the greatest gridiron machines in the United States.

It is the sentiment here that victory

It is the sentiment here that victory over such a team after the long overland trip is almost too much to expect, and that holding the Eastern team to a reasonably low score will be a good indication of the strength of the Pacific Coast game.

The Michigan Aggies have one of the greatest backfields which the Middle West has ever seen.

Da Prato, their versatile fullback, has torn every line which has opposed him to shreds and has developed into a scoring machine in himself. Not only is he a master in the art of advancing the ball, but, according to Detroit papers, is handy in the drop-kicking department.
