

OREGON BIG ANIMAL LIVESTOCK SHOW

Many Important Prizes Taken in Successful Contests at Exposition.

D. O. LIVELY EULOGIZED

Milkmaids' Competition One of Interesting Features - Four-Year-Old Monmouth Girl Most Composed Milker of All.

BY ANNE SHANNON MONROE. OREGON EXPOSITION BUILDING, San Francisco, Oct. 24.—The livestock show closed yesterday with a very successful session. D. O. Lively, chief of the livestock division and formerly of Portland, was eulogized for his success.

The performance after the splendid stock parade was the dairy maids' contest. The pretty dairy maids, in white aprons and sunbonnets, with a three-legged stool in one hand and a milk pail in the other, stood in a long line parallel with the row of protesting and temperamental, if not contented, Holstein cows, which were to be a part of the transaction. Now, these cows, throughout the exposition season, have been milked only by milking machines.

The milkmaids were timed, and the one having the most milk in her pail won the prize. N. C. Maria, of Portland, acted as the judge, and he was a busy man. There must have been 30 or 40 of these milkmaids, every one with her followers, and with their shouting and hurraing, and the calls from the scales man, "Come, come on, 25, or 30, or 40—whatever it was—come on and get weighed."

Ayreshire Exhibit Noteworthy. The Ayreshires, which were judged last of all, were mostly entered by Clise, of Seattle. This judge, who has been judging stock all over the United States for years, said that he had never found as fine an exhibit by a single exhibitor, that no breeder of any breed whatever could give such a good cow as the Ayreshires shown by Clise.

Other Championships Won. Alex. Chalmers, the pioneer Short-horn breeder of Oregon, took first and senior championships on aged bull, and all the Oregon championships, as he had no competitors. George Chandler, of Baker, got all the Oregon championships for Herefords, as he was the only exhibitor, and something like 2500 or 3000 of these Herefords are in Oregon on Jerseys, competing with California and Washington. D. H. Looney, of Jefferson, Or., got two blue ribbons and first prize on the calf, Dainty Fairy, a perfect specimen. Mr. Looney won all Oregon championships in Guernseys. D. P. Inniss, of Junction City, the only Brown Swiss exhibitor, who won all the prizes for Oregon, was told that his stock would compete successfully with any in the United States.

CHARACTER IS BORN OF WAR. (Continued From First Page) sery, and upon occasion it may make him more helpful. In the railway station at Maubeuge a year ago I had to go out into the air while Colonel Couteau stayed within, to be of what use they could during the dressing of wounds.

TYPIST BREAKS RECORD. New York Girl Again Wins World Speed Championship.

WAR EFFECTIVE DISCIPLINER. Very white and shaken, they were being lifted into freight cars drawn up in front of what remained of the Jaramila railway station. Across the cars seats of pine had been roughly knocked together and on these the jads settled themselves. There was not room for them to lie down on the seats, so crowded was the car, so they sat upright, each man helping to support the other. Pretty soon a surgeon came along and looked closely into the white faces. When he saw a man that looked particularly weak he said: "Can you bear to sit up, or do you want to wait for the hospital train?" To one and another and another and so on he put that question and each one would wobble a feeble hand and say: "Yes, yes, I can sit up."

Not one of them was sorry for himself, though they were very tender toward each other. War is the greatest disciplinarian and stealer of a people. But only when they go into it trained for it and knowing what they are about. Possibly it is from the training that half the benefit accrues. I have been tempted into this digression by the things I have seen and the lessons I hope I have at least begun to learn during the last year.

POSTOFFICE THEFTS HEAVY. Warning Is Issued for Precautions Against Burglary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Postoffice burglaries have been so numerous of late that an order went forth today to all postmasters, except of the first class, throughout the country to keep on hand a smaller number of stamps and other papers of a commercial value and to guard them more carefully.

Reports to the Postoffice Department accounting for last year's business show that 1400 claims, aggregating a loss of $100,000, resulted from burglary of postoffices. Inspectors were unable in most cases to find any trace of the stolen goods, because of the lack of identification marks. Their investigations, however, have led Department officials to believe that stamp brokers in several of the larger cities make it their business to dispose of stolen goods. The Department is endeavoring to develop some means for identifying stamps and other papers.
