

PRISON SELF RULE RESOLUTION HALTED

Women's Federated Clubs Defer Action When Told Plan Is Not Feasible.

MARRIAGE LAWS DISCUSSED

Opposition Holds Up Resolution for Physical Examination of Both Sexes—Election of Officers to Be Held Today.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs today refused to adopt at this session a resolution urging the State Board of Control to introduce the self-government plan for prisoners at the Oregon Penitentiary.

With the prisoners' self-government plan the convention referred a resolution requesting the State Board of Control to allow convicts unrestricted mail privileges, and one providing for investigation of the Penitentiary.

Plan Deems Unfeasible. Deferring action on the resolutions for prisoners self-government and unrestricted mail privileges was referred to the legislative committee.

Opposition which developed to a resolution favoring physical examination of both men and women obtaining marriage licenses, led to its being referred to the legislative committee.

Public Kindergartens Favored. That school boards should provide kindergartens in the schools was urged in a resolution adopted unanimously.

Hospital for Cripples Advocated. Mrs. P. L. Campbell told of the work being done for crippled children and expressed the hope that a hospital for their care might be established in Portland.

C. S. BARLOW NEAR DEATH. Wealthy Pioneer Merchant of Tacoma Caution Recognize Family.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—With memory shattered by a sudden depression of the brain, superinduced by a high blood pressure which he has been afflicted for several months, Calvin S. Barlow, wealthy pioneer merchant of Tacoma, president of Tacoma Trading Company, and a state Representative at the last session of the Legislature, is near death at his home.

Representative Barlow was stricken last Saturday night while seated in his automobile in front of the Public Library, waiting for his daughter, who had gone to exchange a book. When Distressing Sensation. So Bad Could Hardly Endure It.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My family was all troubled with an itching which broke out in small pimples and caused a distressing sensation. The pimples were in a very small festering spot and itched until one could not resist scratching, and when scratched they caused a large sore eruption. The itching irritated the eruption and they finally became so bad that we could hardly endure it."
