

BRITISH DECIDE ON
WAR COMMITTEEAsquith Announces Cabinet Will Meet Objections Offered by Critics.

FULL STATEMENT MADE

Sir Edward Carson Explains Resignation, Which He Declares Was Due Mainly to Delay in Aiding Serbia.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, in the House of Commons today delivered before the largest assembly of the year his widely heralded and much-discussed statement on the progress of the war. The Premier's speech was a characteristic one. His most important declaration was that the war will be conducted by a Cabinet committee of from three to five members, which will consult with the full Cabinet on questions of the most serious nature.

It is taken for granted that Premier Asquith, Lord Kitchener, Secretary for War, and A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, will be members of this committee. The plan was explained and seems in the nature of a compromise to meet the criticism that a Cabinet of 22 members is unwieldy.

Dardanelles Move Explained.

With respect to the Dardanelles operations, the Premier insisted on taking his full share of the responsibility. These operations, he said, were designed to influence the Balkan situation, open the way for supplies for the Russians and strike a blow at the heart of the Turkish Empire. The allied forces at the Dardanelles, Mr. Asquith pointed out, were holding up 200,000 Turks. He gave no indication of what the future policy would be on this important section of the war front, saying merely:

"I cannot say more as regards this particular sphere of the theater of the war. It is too soon to pronounce final judgment. The situation in the Dardanelles is receiving our most careful and anxious consideration, not as an isolated thing, but as part and parcel of the larger strategic question."

The opinion in the cabinet, Mr. Asquith stated, according to some reports, is that it is not proposed to abandon the Dardanelles operations.

Carson Tells Why He Resigned.

Sir Edward Carson, the ex-Attorney-General, was listened to with almost great attention as Mr. Asquith. He made the assertion that he would throw more light on the reasons for his resignation. Those who awaited his explanation were not disappointed.

Sir Edward declared that the Cabinet's slowness in deciding whether the policy of aiding Serbia was the main reason for his disagreement. He asserted that the country was anxious to know whether its resources of men and materials were being used to the best advantage. He described the Cabinet as a machine utterly incapable of carrying out a policy. He said that the government was not prepared to give its aid to the British policy in the Balkans.

Aid to Serbia Insisted On.

On September 28, Sir Edward Grey said that Bulgaria's mobilization had resulted in Bulgaria's assuming an aggressive attitude on the side of Great Britain's enemies and that Great Britain should be prepared to give its aid to the British policy in the Balkans.

Perhaps the gravest instance, and the most recent, of how the Cabinet and the government were not prepared to be found in the Balkan situation. Nothing had astonished him more than the gyrations they had gone through in relation to the British policy in the Balkans.

Peace Move Is Hinted.

Central Powers Said to Favor Berne and Entente Geneva as Place for Holding Congress.

GENEVA, via Paris, Nov. 2.—The Swiss press is commenting extensively on the visit of Prince von Buelow to Switzerland. Although it is said that the Prince has come to Switzerland merely for a holiday, the Basel Nachrichten asserts he is accompanied by two high officials of the German Foreign Office.

Geneva newspapers say that the movement in favor of peace negotiations has been carried to such a point that the meeting place of the proposed peace conference is now under discussion.

They say this congress will be held in Switzerland and that the central powers favor Berne and the quadruple entente Geneva.

PEACE MOVE IS HINTED

SWISS PRESS BELIEVES NEGOTIATIONS ARE UNDER WAY.

Central Powers Said to Favor Berne and Entente Geneva as Place for Holding Congress.

GENEVA, via Paris, Nov. 2.—The Swiss press is commenting extensively on the visit of Prince von Buelow to Switzerland. Although it is said that the Prince has come to Switzerland merely for a holiday, the Basel Nachrichten asserts he is accompanied by two high officials of the German Foreign Office.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—President Wilson returned to Washington tonight after voting in the New Jersey elections at Princeton. He spent the evening receiving returns from contests in his own and other states.

Even before casting his ballot in an effort to resign the New Jersey Legislature to the Democratic column, the President had been told by state leaders that the Republicans would retain control.

Mr. Wilson evinced particular interest tonight in the returns from Massachusetts, Maryland and Kentucky, where Governors were chosen today, and in the woman suffrage contests in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2.—For the third time within a few weeks, President Wilson returned home today to vote. He cast his ballot in an effort to help restore the New Jersey Legislature to the Democratic column and to elect Democrats to local offices.

The President arrived in Princeton shortly after noon and was met at the station by a small group of students and professors. In contrast to his last visit here, there was no cheering by the students.

The President, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his physician, and a guard of Secret Service men walked to the polling place in an old fire house. There the President received a ballot, scanned it carefully, walked into a booth draped with an American flag, and marked it.

After voting, the President walked back to his private car and had lunch. The President cast his ballot for William J. Coan, proctor of the university when Mr. Wilson was president, who ran today for freeholder.

ARMY QUARRELS AIRED

BITTERNESS SHOWN BY OFFICERS IN AVIATION BRANCH.

Lieutenant-Colonel Said by Witness to Have Said He Was Going to Drive Captain From Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Undercurrents of Army life and the antipathies of Army officers splashed over their usual confines today at what is officially the court-martial of Lieutenant-Colonel Lewis E. Goodier, Judge-advocate of the Western division of the Army.

Proceedings thus far have been taken by persons familiar with Army affairs to indicate that the main purpose in so far as the defense is concerned is to bring into the open the conditions existing at the Army aviation school, near San Diego, under the management of Captain Arthur S. Cowan, and testimony given today by Lieutenant-Colonel Samuel Reber, chief of the aviation section of the Army, seemed to point that way.

Colonel Goodier, according to Reber today, remarked to Captain Dennis P. Quinlan, assistant to the judge-advocate, referring to Captain Cowan, that he "was going to get that out of the service."

Quinlan had been summoned to Washington on another case, said the witness, and at the time of his visit told him of the remark attributed to Colonel Goodier. This was after charges had been preferred against Captain Cowan. The case against Cowan has never been heard.

SUPREME PERSONALITY

By DR. DELMAR EUGENE CROFT

THE BOOK OF A THOUSAND SMILES

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND SOLD.

The book that is making people laugh, well, happy, brave. A money-burdened group read it, now is a millionaire of cheerfulness. A cross-and-offer boy, perfectly straight, only he looked crooked. Now he is a bank clerk. A minister, so sad that when he said grace it froze his coffee, read it, now is preaching to a quivering room. His church janitor, a hard-luck goat, so poor if it rained soup he didn't have a bucket to catch it. "Now, here is a salesman at $25 per. Several maidens of hopeless, impossible age, rejuvenated their cosmo by it. Then, married at all. Now, here is a woman's tongue and cute the fuss out of the husband's ear. Shows you how to love your relatives and not be miserable doing it. Fills you with desire to live your life all over again, though married."

Where it is sold mills have started full time; they're building schoolhouses; hinges on cemetery gates are turning; undertakers going out of business; people are dying habit. A Sunday school teacher says: "It beats the devil." That's just its purpose. A bank president says: "Every business man in the United States should have your little book."

A great automobile maker says: "It is the biggest little book I ever read."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening Gray hair, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's remedy, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is one of the greatest advantages.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mummy mixture at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 10 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair—Adv.
