Epic--Epicure! Dear Friends: Homer was the greatest writer of epics the world has ever known—the epic-tetus of all time. Epicurus was probably the greatest epicure. He poached his own eggs and touched nothing that was not prepared after his own recipes. Imagine Epicurus' joy if a Hotel Multnomah cuisine had been handy. Of all the Multnomah's claims to distinction, the greatest, perhaps, is the ability to forecast and properly cater to a jaded appetite. No man is quite sane who is not well nourished. Jealousies, unkindnesses, inefficiencies, taking every form and shape, belong only to people who are not well fed. Therefore, come to Hotel Multnomah. And come to live. A few months will make you different—an agreeably different person. Ask me about the extraordinary special proposition we are now making to prospective resident guests.

The Eyes of This Generation are equally efficient as those of previous generations, but the demands upon them are greater. The growth of manufacturing and commercial pursuits, the increased reading of newspapers, magazines and books, and the introduction of moving pictures have emphasized the need of exact vision. An early picture has emphasized the need of exact vision. Newly all defects of vision can be remedied by properly fitted glasses—and in no other way. Many of the minor diseases of the eye may also be arrested by the skilled specialist. We examine your eyes by the most modern methods, and supply glasses which absolutely correct your defects of vision. Let us attend your eye needs. We make no charge for consultation.

WHEELER OPTICAL CO. 5TH FLOOR, OREGONIAN BLDG. Move Paper in Circle and See Wheels Go Round. ELKS TO HONOR BIRTH. Portland Lodge Will Be 26 Years Old Thursday.

BIG PROGRAMME ARRANGED. Henry Griffin, Only Surviving Charter Member, Past Exalted Ruler, Will Be Master of Ceremonies. Social to Be Old-Time Stag. The Portland Lodge of Elks will be 26 years of age Thursday night of this week and the officers and members are planning to celebrate in fitting style. The entertainment committee has prepared an interesting programme that is expected to serve as a magnet to attract at least 600 Elks to the club-rooms, where the festivities will begin right after the regular lodge meeting tomorrow night, and the regular meeting will be brief. Henry D. Griffin, who is the only surviving charter member who served as exalted ruler, will be master of ceremonies. All the other past exalted rulers—13 in number—and all the living charter members—23 in all—will have seats on the stage. While time will not permit all of them to speak, each will be introduced in turn. The records in this connection show that D. Solis Cohen is the oldest living past exalted ruler. He served in 1894 and 1895. Mr. Cohen will give a brief address on the history of the lodge. The remainder of the entertainment will take on the form of an old-time stag social. There will be music aplenty and some surprises. The Elks' band will be out in force and start off the musical entertainment. Frank Hennessy will sing a song written for the anniversary by Dean Collins. Other musical numbers will be furnished by Ross Fishburn, of the Portland Lodge, and by Oscar Woodland, of the Oregon City Lodge. Miss Edith Olson and Miss Tena L. Ledwidge will sing; David Cohen will recite Shakespeare and Joe Hayes will furnish some comedy selections. Carl Reiter, manager of the Orpheum, will give some Yiddish interpretations, and a quartet from the Lyric will offer popular songs and dances. A. J. Harper, a member of the lodge, will play a solo on the xylophone. Other entertainment features will be added to the programme today. The entertainment committee consists of Henry E. Reed, chairman; Henry D. Griffin, A. E. Jenkins, Sig Wertheimer, F. V. Wagner, M. E. Spalding, John Falconer and Emil Waldman. They will have charge of all the festivities tonight. Every Elk who attends will receive a souvenir. Following the musical entertainment supper will be served.
