

SOCIETY NEWS

BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

MR. and Mrs. William J. Strong, of Skamokawa, Wash., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ella, to Charles Channin Carson, of Portland. The wedding will take place November 20 at Strong's, the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Strong.

Miss Strong is a very popular girl and has numerous friends and relatives in Portland.

The wedding will be a notable event socially. Many prominent Portland folk are to attend.

Announcement has been made of the first social dance of the season to be given by the business men of the Portland Social Turn Verein on Saturday night. Unique dance features and special music are being arranged for by Otto Emick, chairman of the floor committee. The dance is to be held at the German House auditorium on Thirteenth street, near Jefferson street.

This is to be the first of a series of dances to be given this season by the classes of the Turn Verein.

The Portland Rowing Club has made preparations for an informal dancing party to be given tonight at its house, foot of East Ivon street. All members and friends are invited.

The G. N. C. B. Girls will entertain with a dancing party Thursday evening, November 11, at Cottillon Hall.

Dr. Nellie Erickson, superintendent of the Portland Surgical Hospital, left last week for a month's business trip to Chicago and other Eastern cities. While away she will visit the larger hospitals in Chicago and Colorado.

One of the prettiest affairs of the early week was the card party given Tuesday afternoon by the Laurelhurst Card Club at the clubhouse, Mrs. William H. Smith, chairman of the season, was hostess for the event. One of the attractive features of the afternoon was the musical program given during the tea hour. Miss Lillian Morgan contributed violin solos and Mrs. Robert Thompson sang, accompanied by Miss Constance Piper.

Card honors at both five hundred and bridge were won by Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. Owen Summers, Mrs. Frank Ballam, Mrs. Joseph Kaho, Mrs. Frank Looker and Mrs. Holmes.

The next party at the club will be a Thanksgiving party, at which Madame Jomelli will sing. It will be a brilliant affair at Hotel Multnomah, and in addition to the musical program by this well-known singer, there will be a reception and ball. Both ballrooms on the mezzanine floor will be used for the affair, in which prominent folk from various sections of the city are actively interested.

Mrs. William P. Lord and Miss Elizabeth Lord, of Salem, are the house guests of Mrs. Willis Dunaway, of Willamette Heights. They doubtless will be the inspiration for many social affairs.

A party of Eastern folk, the majority from Chicago, who have been attending the fair in San Francisco, stopped off in Portland en route to their home this week and Mrs. Dunaway at the Ice Hippodrome. With the exception of two, the entire party thoroughly enjoyed the sport. Tourists were Mr. and Mrs. R. Davidson, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wallas, Joseph B. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Otto G. Lang, Jr., all of Chicago.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. W. Blackwood are planning to leave Sunday for San Francisco, sailing on the Rose City. After a week at the fair they will proceed to Honolulu, and then on to Sydney, Australia, to pass the winter with the former's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Blackwood. Dr. and Mrs. Blackwood will return to Portland early in the Spring.

Miss Josephine Lewis entertained with a delightful Halloween party Saturday evening. The house was artistically decorated in Halloween colors and autumn leaves. Miss Minerva Holbrook assisted with the party.

Music, dancing and games were the diversions of the evening, after which a collation was served.

The invitation list included Misses Ina Irvine, Arlene Statten, Minerva Holbrook, Josephine Lewis, Jessie Laird, Dorothy Young, Miss Studer, Marian Ashby, Lucile Hickox, Dorothy Warner and Andrea Patro and Charles Holbrook, William Enke, Carl Burgard, George Baker, George Statten, Clyde Zollers, Joe Carlson, Desore Patro, Robert Lamar and Wilbur Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Major, of Ogden, Utah, are guests of Mrs. Major's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. George S. Breittling, of Irvington.

Chaperones have now been appointed to look after the young girls who will devote Saturday to selling carnations for the Day Nursery, under the auspices of the Fruit and Flower Mission. They are Mrs. James A. Daugherty, Mrs. Walter M. Cook, Mrs. Frederick C. Malpas, Mrs. Roger Sinnott, Mrs. W. P. Sinnott, Mrs. Frederick H. Page and Mrs. Wilbur E. Coman.

The girls will include high school girls, debutantes and the attractive and most charming of the smart set. They are eager workers and it is predicted that this year's sale will be by far the largest ever held by the mission for the nursery.

The girls will be assisted by the local theatrical artists from the local theaters who will appear to help the noble work along.

All social events will be cancelled for Saturday until evening.

Knights of Columbus, Fourth Degree, Portland Assembly, will hold their third annual ball tonight at Hotel Multnomah. The affair has the interest of many prominent folk, leading business and club men and their families, and bids fair to be a brilliant function. Patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Brady, Dr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Dooley, Judge and Mrs. J. P. Kavanaugh, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Casey, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Clarkson, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Lonergan, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Sinnott, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Sinnott, Mr. and Mrs. D. McDougal, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Heitkemper.

An event that is being eagerly anticipated by the friends and members of the Piedmont Club is the opening dancing party to be held Saturday evening in the attractive Kanton Club. The committee arranging this affair includes John Clancy, J. Clifford Shalely, Dick Clancy and Jack Warwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Husted entertained at luncheon at the University Club Saturday in honor of their cousin, Miss Helen E. Husted, of Peckskill, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Blauvelt, formerly of Peckskill. Miss Husted is a daughter of the late General James W. Husted, for many years Speaker of the New York Assembly.

Mrs. John Forbis and daughter, Miss Marjorie Forbis, left yesterday for California, where they will pass several weeks.

They have been in town for a few days at Hotel Norton.

The Arcadian Dancing Club will hold its opening party in the main ballroom of the Hotel Portland tonight. This event has been anticipated by the members of the younger set for some time. The evening will be the forerunner of several delightful affairs this Winter.

Serving on the committee appointed for the evening are Ralston J. Clay, Arthur C. Dayton, C. E. Travillion, C. J. Jerald Owen, Frederick L. Carlton, Lawrence Cunningham and Raymond K. Maynard. Misses Jeannette West, Anne Dillingham, Aza Genevieve Paget, Doris Elkington, Marie Dooley, Mrs. Arthur C. Dayton and James H. Abrey.

Mrs. K. F. Ervin, 925 Hawthorne avenue, is in San Francisco visiting the exposition. En route home Mrs. Ervin will stop off at Medford, Or., to visit old friends.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WILLIAM FIELDING OGBURN'S address and Mrs. Lillian Myers-Herst's violin solos were the gems of the program given yesterday at the regular meeting of the Council of Jewish Women. Dr. Ogburn gave a comprehensive review of the causes that have led up to the changing condition of the home.

In summing up his talk he said: "You are wasting your time when you try to adjust yourselves to the new conditions. You must adjust the old conditions to the new. Young women of today should be trained in some vocation. Do not think because you have a college education that you have solved all problems."

He said that while at one time women's work in the home had made her a contributor to the family income, now the woman's part is comparatively small, but there is a large work for her to do with time at her disposal to help those less fortunate than herself.

Later and fewer marriages are the result of economic conditions and the decrease of interest in the home, declared Dr. Ogburn. The kitchenette in a modern apartment was cited as an example of the change that has come over the home.

Mrs. Herst's solos, "Madrigal" (Simone) and a theme selection, were played with skill and beauty of expression. It was the only opportunity many of her friends have had to hear her. She will return to her home in New York City within a few days. Mrs. Herst was accompanied by Mrs. Simon Harris.

In the social hour Mrs. Ben Selling presided as hostess and Mrs. Fred Selzer and Mrs. Abe Levy were stationed at the samovars. The table was centered with flowers.

Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, who was a guest, thanked the council for its cooperation during her presidency in the federation and asked for its continued friendship.

Mrs. A. Bernstein announced the tea of the Needlework Guild, which will be held on November 10 in the Unitarian Church chapel.

Mrs. M. Barish urged a broader friendliness among the older members for those who have recently joined the organization.

The Portland Art Club had one of the most interesting meetings of the season yesterday in the Art Museum. The organization is studying the modern movement in art this year. Mrs. G. H. Marsh, president, read a paper yesterday on "Realism—Its Relation to Naturalism." Truth to Nature was considered in the modern trend of art.

Mrs. Harry Seal Torrey spoke on the comparative estimate of the realism of Shakespeare's plays and of Galsworthy's.

A paper, "Tristan and Isolde and the Golden Age," written by Mrs. Charles Edwin Sears, was read by Mrs. H. C. Wortman. The program for next Wednesday will include addresses by Mrs. Hugh Henry, Mrs. H.
