SECRET DEAL BOOMERANG

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Heretofore unpublished details of the story of the six-year traffic war between the Joy Steamship Company and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, which ended in the acquisition of the boat line by the New Haven in 1905, were placed before the jury today at the trial of William Rockefeller and the charge of violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

Letters read today told how the New Haven made use of the influence of Mr. Rockefeller with the late Henry M. Flagler to prevent the Joy line from chartering boats from the Florida East Coast Railway Company; of its own influence with the Long Island Railroad Company to prevent the line from chartering a boat from that road; of a corcession in rates made to the American Sugar Refining Company, if it would divert its shipments from the Joy line to the New Haven lines; how the two companies temporarily buried the hatenet by entering late a secret agreement to fix rates and how the Joy line suffered a decrease in its traffic as a result.

P. M. Dunbaugh, ex-president of the Joy line, said that he had begun business in 1892 with one boat and that when he sold out to the New Haven in November, 1995, the line was operating six boats. The secret traffic arrangement had then been in effect since October, 1992, he said.

John M. Hall, president of the New Haven during most of the Joy line transactions, and other authors of letters introduced today, did not mince words in their characterization of the Joy line interests.

"We will take their sugar for nothing rather than let the other fellow have it." Haskins wrote in reference to American Sugar Refining Company shipments, "We ought to keep the whole matter a secret from the public, if possible," wrote Hall to Todd, in reference to the agreement which the New Haven entered into with the Joy line to fix rates and which also restricted the Brees service between New York and Providence.

The initiative in seeking the agreement, it was indicated by the correspondence, came from Dunbaugh, but it appeared from the minutes of the New Haven board of directors, authorizing it, that a question came up as to whether it was legal. The board gave its approval that the president was 'satisfied that it cam be legally done, but in case it proves, for technical or other reasons, that it cannot be legally done by the railroad, then he is authorized to execute the contract in the name of the Providence & Stonington Steamboat Company (a New Haven subsidiary)."

The contract was, however, made in the name of the railroad company, ac-

AND I AM GOING TO HELP YOU

By Ray Barkhurst.

Work is scarce with my tailors and I am going to keep them busy by giving you a chance to pick a Suit or Overcoat from my stock that is worth from $25.00 to $30.00 for $18.00.

My store is brimful of new heavyweight Winter woolens that are a pleasure to look at. None of them bought to sell for less than $25.00 to $30.00. Some even more.

I cannot keep my skilled force of tailors busy at high prices. I haven't the heart to lay them off. So I have just reduced everything in the house in order to keep them busy. I WILL WIN LATER WHEN TIMES GET BETTER.

A word about linings and trimmings. If they wear out you get your suit relined free at any time.

If the fronts break or turn back you get a new suit—that's my guarantee. I wonder if any other tailor or ready-made man cares to do this.

My confidence in my organized force of tailors allows me to guarantee my Suits. Come in Friday and ask to see what I have to show you. I will be on hand to meet you.
