BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

LAST night was a gala one for the University Club, on the occasion of their second dinner dance. Perhaps the enthusiasm was due to the fact that there has been little or no social gaiety for the week, but in any event, the dinner dance was charming and gay. Every seat was occupied, extra tables being crowded in, and the decorations were most artistic and effective.

One of the largest and merriest of the parties was that presided over by Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Grell, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Miss Eliza Grell, Mr. and Mrs. L. MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Green, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott E. Corbett, Mrs. Gay Lombard, Mrs. James A. Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Devereaux, Jordan Zan, Clarence Sewall, Rodney L. Gilliam, Guy W. Talbot, E. W. Tortmann, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Lewis.

Next in size was that for which Dr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Nichols were hosts, honoring the latter's sister, Miss Elizabeth Bryan, of Virginia, and Miss Daisy Adams, of Baltimore, sister of Charles F. Adams. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Dams, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Will Miner and Walter Beebe.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Koehler also entertained with a dinner of ten covers, honoring Miss Margaretta Brooke and her fiancé, Richard V. Look. Other guests were Miss Genevieve Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Mills, Miss Dorothy Johnson, house guest of the Brookers, Harry H. Hamilton Corbett and Frederick Forster.

Other parties ranging from four to eight covers were given by H. C. Charlton, six; Wilbur Clark, five; Lee Hoffmann, 10; R. W. Stubbs, five; M. G. Campbell, six; Gerald E. Beebe, four; Frank R. Dudley, four; H. L. Corbett, four; Mr. and Mrs. George R. Sallor, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mackenzie, six; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Wilcox, four; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. McArthur, four; Charles S. Holbrook, six; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cotton, eight, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mead, six.

With a splendid start of $100 which was donated by a sympathetic friend of the Day Nursery, the flower sale has received an impetus. The throng of maids, matrons and men who are intensely interested in this event, proclaim a brilliant success for the day's work. The little ones are anxious to assist with this excellent philanthropy as their elders and the following have begged to help: Mildred Keay, Mayo Method, Jean Skene, Florence Panne, Owena Wolcott and Letitia Pendleton. They will be properly chaperoned and their enthusiasm is bound to win many dimes from the public.

Two days before the opening of the sale, one of the matrons who is an ardent worker for the Nursery, sold a worth of carnations and everyone who is tagged today with either a carnation or chrysanthemum will be a good Samaritan. Chrysanthemums purchased from any of the florists will add to the general fund of the Nursery, as they have offered to donate 25 per cent of their sales for the day.

Mr. George N. Black and little son left Tuesday for Los Angeles to join Mr. Black, who is attending to business matters there. They will be joined by Mrs. Black's mother, Mrs. Charles Kohm, and Mrs. George N. Black, who left San Francisco and the party will pass the winter in Los Angeles. They expect to return to Portland early in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Scott will leave today for an extended trip to visit the California Expositions and in Los Angeles, where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. A. D. Catterlin.

For the benefit of the German Red Cross Society a lecture, which will be given by Fraulein Marie Mayer on Sunday afternoon at 2:45 at the German House. The subject will be "The Message of Oberammergau, Her Country, Her People and Her Play."

As a compliment to Mrs. Rodney Evers (Sara Edwards) a shower was given Thursday evening at the home of Miss Bess Griffin, 317 Cook avenue. The evening was pleasantly passed with music and games, a novel feature being the spider-web arrangement by which the bride located her gifts.

Those present were: Misses Christie MacPherson, Myrtle Staahall, Beatrice Clifford, Anna Bruch, Maud Strack, Thillie Muschalk, Lucile Giles, Della Danner, Blanche Block, Marie McQuinn, Hannah McQuinn, Edith Tainer, Alice Brace, Mabel Smith, Sadie King, Esther Gertsen, Bess Griffin and H. Evers, Harold Abbott, R. Muschalk, W. F. Heitert, A. Arrolsen, R. Rieman, W. F. Elliott, A. Griffith and M. F. King.

Mrs. W. Lautenslager left during the week for San Francisco, where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. F. W. Burch.

Mrs. Nellie Hanan entertained delightfully at her home on East Madison street, Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. Jessie Junnell Shaw, of Denver, Colo.

The rooms were artistically decorated with quantities of ferns and asters.

Miss Leah Cohen, a fascinating singer, delighted the guests with many selections from her large repertoire.

The evening was passed at cards, prizes falling to Mrs. Aiken and Miss Clifton, after which refreshments were served. The dining-room was decked in pink and white. A large French basket filled with flowers was suspended above the table, from which hung miniature baskets for favors. The evening was greatly enjoyed by a large number of young people.

POPULAR MATRON WHO WILL SELL FLOWERS FOR DAY NURSERY TODAY.

Mrs. Harry Coleman

committee, is arranging for programmes to be given at other institutions.

The Oregon branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae will hold a luncheon today in the Hotel Portland.

An event of interest in Eugene was the recent meeting of the Women's Improvement Club, held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Nichols on Dutch lane. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Georg Young.

The officers elected were: Mrs. Joe Nichols, president; Mrs. Helen Thom, first vice-president; Mrs. M. O. Corbin, second vice-president; Mrs. Herman Oberbauer, secretary; Mrs. C. H. McClellan, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Roe, auditor; Mrs. E. J. Mason, Mrs. D. F. Mason, directors.

The members of the club enjoyed a social hour, during which the hostess served an eloquent banquet. The three new members initiated were Mrs. A. H. Hendrick, Mrs. E. M. Jackson and Mrs. H. Oberbauer. The members present were: Mrs. Frank Moorhead, Mrs. E. J. Mason, Mrs. Edger Thom, Mrs. Howard Roe, Mrs. C. H. McKnight, Mrs. A. L. Swartz, Mrs. E. M. Jackson, Mrs. Dave Strome, Mrs. P. O. Bowman, Mrs. E. J. Mason, Mrs. D. F. Mason and Mrs. William Dyer.

The Story Hour Club enjoyed an exceptionally good programme Thursday afternoon in Library Hall. Miss Calko, of Shuntuck, presented language games. Mrs. Lisher, of Couch, told an old story in a new way. Miss Rogers' 3-B class of Holiday sang November songs.

At the regular meeting of the Earnest Workers' Club, at the home of Mrs. Hattie Gimmell, 1263 Borthwick street, with Mrs. Mary E. Palmer, president, an enjoyable programme was rendered. Miss Dagermack, an instructor at the Peninsula mark, gave a talk on "Gym Training and Its Worth." Mrs. Minnie Childcote gave a reading on "Resources." A resolution favoring enforcement of prohibition laws was adopted. A study of the program for next month will be the feature of the next meeting.

At the next meeting of the Portland Psychology Club, Mrs. Mildred Kyle will give a talk on "The Human Aura and Its Relation to Self-Healing." This subject doubtless will attract a large attendance.

The West Side class of the Portland Shakespeare-Study Club will meet Monday with Mrs. Emilie Strupeler, 241 1/2 Montgomery street.

Laurelhurst Study Club will meet on Monday at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse, 1244 Commercial street. Mrs. M. C. Hillyer, 1423 Cleveland avenue.

For the benefit of the social service department of the Woodlawn Christian Teacher Association, a silver tea will be held on Wednesday, from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. C. R. Hillyer, 1423 Cleveland avenue.

GOOD THINGS IN THE MARKET

EASTERN Concord grapes, from Michigan, at 25 cents a basket, and pappaws, from Indiana, at two for 10 cents, seem the only new arrivals among fresh fruits this week.

The very last of Italian prunes from The Dalles, are in market at two pounds for 15 cents.

Grapes are now waning. Flaming Tokay make the best showing, and also with Malaga, are being sold serially at 5 cents a pound. A few Concord grapes are still to be had at two pounds for 15 cents, but the grape wave has spent itself for this season.

Huckleberries still seem plentiful at 15 cents a pound, and Tillamook cranberries at 15 cents a quart.

Ortley, 20 cents, and Jonathan, 25 cents a dozen. These are really choice apples. Brown Oregon chestnuts, from Mount Tebor, at 20 cents a pound, are considered very useful for stuffing.

Boxes of very useful "Family Grade" Spitzbergs are quoted $1.25 a box. Baldwins, $2 a box, 30 cents a dozen. Tolman screen apples, of small size, for pickling and preserving, are 2 cents a pound.

The pack of "Extra Fancy" apples is reported shorter this year than last, and the average price has already risen to $3 a box.

Anjou pears, 15 cents a basket; Winter Nellis, 10 cents a dozen. Some very fine pears are in market, at an average of 20 and 25 cents a dozen.

In the vegetable market: Iceberg radishes are the newest offering for the week, and are quoted at 5 cents each. Sweet green corn (claimed to be still tender) is 20 and 25 cents, and short ears, 10 cents a dozen.

Green peas, 15 cents a pound, and string beans, two pounds for 25 cents. Sweet potatoes, 5 cents a pound, and in some quarters lower still. Yukima potatoes are quoted at $1 a sack.

Local mushrooms are freely displayed at 15, 20 and 25 cents a pound. Okra, 25 cents a pound, and Brussels sprouts, two pounds for 25 cents. Young spinach, 5 cents a pound. Endive, or chicory, 5 cents a head.

Cauliflower, two for 15 cents; curly cabbage, 5 cents each; Hubbard squash, of which some very large specimens are displayed, are 5 and 10 cents each. Artichokes, three for a quarter; egg plant, 10 cents a pound. Little yellow tomatoes, for preserving, 15 cents a basket, and green ones, smaller still, for pickling, 10 cents a basket.

The new crop of asparagus is 50 cents for bunches of two-pounds weight and certainly looks very tender. Fancy celery hearts are 25 cents a bunch, other stock at 10 cents. Lettuce heads, 5 cents each.

Dried onions, 2 cents a pound. Cucumbers, three for 5 cents. Tomatoes, 10 cents a pound, 15 cents a basket.

Owing to recent stormy weather, the supply of fish is unusually limited. Sturgeon is 20 cents a pound; Chinook salmon, halibut and sanddabs are each 12 1/2 cents a pound.

Fresh herring and ocean smelt are 10 cents a pound. Salmon cheeks, 25 cents a dozen, and a whole young salmon is offered for the same money.

Lobsters, 40 cents a pound; crabs, 15, 20 and 25 cents each. Hardshell clams, 5 cents a pound. In the poultry market: Wild geese, at 75 cents each, are newcomers. Turkeys, of which a goodly number are likely to be in evidence for Thanksgiving, are 27 to 30 cents a pound. Hens, 17 to 20 cents; Springs, 20 to 25 cents a pound. Eggs, 55 cents for top-notch; others of teaching our children to "draw," or of having pictures on our walls, or staturary on our mantels; but of having the architecture of our house pleasing to the eye because it is true to the principles of beauty, of having the designs and colors of our rugs artistic and harmonious, of having the colors of draperies and furniture in accord, of having the patterns of our china beautiful; in fact, of bringing art, true art, into every object of our home and dress.

SNAPSHOTS BY BARBARA DOYD.

Art and Each of Us.
ON THE walls of the dining-room of a little country hotel were some crude pencil drawings. One was a head, another the stereotyped farmhouse, surrounded by billowing trees; a third, a little stream in the woods. They were unframed and showed the mark of a child's hand. Probably they were the schoolwork of some member of the hotel keeper's family, and having won praise and high marks at school, had been proudly placed on the walls of the dining-room to show how well the son or daughter of the house could "draw." And no doubt the mother, if not the father, cherished dreams of the child some day becoming a great artist, and the child was held up to fond relatives and friends as having talent.

The ability to "draw" to make a picture, summed up, for that little circle, art.

And do not many of us think of pictures as the chief expression, if not the sum total, of art? We may incline to the schoolwork of some member of the hotel keeper's family, and having won praise and high marks at school, had been proudly placed on the walls of the dining-room to show how well the son or daughter of the house could "draw." And no doubt the mother, if not the father, cherished dreams of the child some day becoming a great artist, and the child was held up to fond relatives and friends as having talent.
