Governor Speaks for Fair Play in Dealing With Capital Invested Here.

FREE SPACE CONDEMNED

Publishers Entertained at Banquet Given by Commercial Club and ex-News Writers—Deep Channel Project Indorsed.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special).—Seventy-five editors and publishers from all parts of the state convened here today for the two-day annual meeting of the Oregon State Editorial Association. The sessions are being held in the Hall of Representatives at the State House.

The convention today listened to addresses by newspaper men and others upon subjects of special interest to the profession, and was entertained at two banquets given by newspaper men now holding state offices, and by Salem Commercial Club.

Governor Withycombe, who returned from San Francisco at noon, spoke informally to the newspaper men, dealing upon the importance of Oregon offering a "square deal" to invested capital.

Fair Deal Urged for Capital.

"I am absolutely opposed to prostrating ourselves in any way in inducing investors to come to Oregon," said the Governor, "I am against anything even approaching the extension of special privileges. However, I do believe it is imperative that Oregon build up a reputation of offering real inducements and safety and square dealing to those investors who would place their money here.

"I believe the press of Oregon should make it clear that we are desirous of having investors in Oregon. Progressiveness in legislation is excellent and the safeguarding of labor is of prime importance, but this can be accomplished without sacrificing the investor."

The association indorsed a resolution offered by E. H. Flagg, of Warrenton, favoring terminal rates for Astoria and Lower Columbia River points. E. Hofer, of Salem, suggested that the resolution be referred to the resolutions committee, but objection was made and the resolution was adopted unanimously.

President Brodie Makes Report.

The program tomorrow will consist of addresses, consideration of the resolutions and election of officers. The editors will be entertained by Dr. R. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the Oregon State Hospital for the Insane and by the Board of Control tomorrow noon at a luncheon at the hospital. They will then visit the penitentiary and witness an exhibition game of baseball by the prisoners.

The session this morning with prayer by Dr. T. B. Ford, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this city. R. J. Hendricks, publisher of the Oregon Daily Statesman, Salem, gave the welcome address and E. E. Brodie, president of the association and publisher of the Oregon City Enterprise, responded and gave his annual address.

That publishers of Oregon should oppose attempts to fill their papers with free political advertising was one of the suggestions advanced by Mr. Brodie. He declared that when the paper had supported the party platform and the head of the party ticket that its duty had been performed.

Own Business Neglected.

"Oregon editors boost everybody's business, their own," declared Joseph P. Hurley, editor of the Washington County News-Times, in a speech on the subject of "What is the Matter With Newspapers and Printers of Oregon?"

Elbert Bede, of the Sentinel, Cottage Grove, and A. E. Voorhies, of the Rogue River Courier, Grants, also gave addresses respectively on "What Editors Say" and "System in Various Departments."

In the afternoon Arthur H. Deute, of Portland, spoke on "Co-operation Between the Press and the Agency," after which there was a brief discussion on points brought out in Mr. Deute's talk.

Frank Davey, formerly publisher of the Harney County News at Burns, and now bookkeeper at the Oregon Penitentiary, explained the workings of the parole law to the editors and other facts in connection with the prison and its government.

Convict Reform Is Object.

"The desire of our Governor and all officials connected with the conduct of the Penitentiary," said Mr. Davey, "is to improve conditions there and turn out better men from its walls."

The need of better methods in the administration of county affairs was emphasized by Rufus Holman, Multnomah County Commissioner, in an address on "Some Things of the Past Importance to the Development and Prosperity of Oregon and Their Dependence Upon Accurate and Honest Publicity."

Mr. Holman declared that until 1913 Multnomah County had conducted her county business the same methods as in 1864. The necessity of good roads in Oregon and their ultimate economy was brought forth.

Other speakers of the afternoon were Eric W. Allen, of the department of Journalism of the University of Oregon, who spoke on "Some Recent Improvements in the Teaching of Journalism in the Universities"; P. H. D'Arcy, Salem, "Honest Editors and Printers of Oregon"; and John P. Carroll, Evening Telegram, Portland, "Some Ideals in Newspaper Work."

TILLICUM CLUB IS BUSY

LABOR UNION POLITICAL ORGANIZATION PLANS DISCUSSIONS.

Debate on Preparedness Policy to Be Feature of Meeting on Saturday.

Athletic Programme Planned.

The Tillicum Club, a political organization composed of labor union men, will discuss city, county, state and National events at its regular weekly meetings to be held through the coming winter. As a forerunner to the interesting programme to be held, a debate on the topic, "Should the United States Adopt a Policy of Preparedness?" will be the feature of the next meeting, Saturday night, November 6, at 8 o'clock in the Labor Temple.

The affirmative will be supported by W. H. Fitzgerald, Harry Gurr and C. T. Frederick; and A. W. Jones, O. E. Hibbs and W. E. Baldwin will present the negative. Considering the great interest in the question, a big audience is expected.

The club plans later to hold meetings to which men of National prominence will make addresses, to which the public will be invited.

On December 4, the Tillicum Club will hold an athletic and musical programme, and on December 18, it will give a dance in Moose Hall, Royal building, Broadway, and Morrison streets.

Officers of the Tillicum Club are: B. W. Sleeman, president; A. W. Jones, vice-president; J. D. M. Crockwell, secretary; and Harry McCullough, treasurer. The club will take an active part in the coming political campaign, and will endorse candidates and measures.

NEGRO KILLING JUSTIFIED

Grand Jury Refuses to Indict When C. D. Crawford Tells Story.

C. D. (Cupid) Crawford was justified in killing Robert Broadnax on the night of October 24, according to the findings of the grand jury yesterday. A not true bill was returned in the case, and Crawford was released.

The quarrel of the two colored men was recounted vividly to the grand jurors when Crawford voluntarily appeared before them.

BUSINESS WOMAN AND EARLY RESIDENT OF OREGON DIES.

Mrs. Cordelia Krebs, a prominent business woman and early resident, died at her home, 1111 Williams avenue, Thursday, at the age of 82 years as a result of a stroke of apoplexy sustained about two weeks ago. Left a widow with a large family, Mrs. Krebs came to Oregon more than 30 years ago, settling near Brooks, in the Willamette Valley, where she acquired about 700 acres of raw land and went into the business of raising hops. She is survived by the following children: John, Frank, Conrad and Michael Krebs; the latter two prominent hop growers near Independence; Mrs. Pauline Thiel, Margaret Krebs, Cordelia Kettinger, Mrs. Josephine Holton and Mrs. A. B. Gillis, wife of Dr. A. B. Gillis, of Salem, Or. Besides there are 20 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

appeared before that body to tell his story, Crawford, a blacksmith, 50 years old, had lived in Portland practically all his life. Broadnax, a Southern negro, had recently come North.

Broadnax lived at Crawford's house. They quarreled, and according to Crawford, Broadnax drew a revolver and chased him downstairs.

Gunplay occurred in the quarrel on October 24, and it is alleged Broadnax was the first to draw a revolver.

"I did it, I admit I did it, and I'm glad I did it," Crawford declared. "He abused me, he ran me down my own stairs, he told me he would kill me."

The grand jury returned indictments against Ed Winkler, James Dawson and John Doe on charges of rioting, against August Pottinger and Henry Nikand on a charge of burglary near a dwelling, and against Emmett Lusk and Arthur Russell on charges of assault with intent to rob.

Mrs. R. A. Van Gorder and Margie Kuttner were exonerated from charges of running disorderly houses.

ROAD SURVEY NEAR FINISH

Work Now Being Done on Laterals to Mount Hood Highway.

All the preliminary survey work for the proposed scenic road around to the east and south of Mount Hood will be completed within a week or ten days, according to the report of J. T. Schuyler, engineer in charge, who was in Portland yesterday. Mr. Schuyler says that the survey of the main line is completed and that the work now being carried forward is for proposed side roads to points of scenic interest.

The Forestry Department will ask the coming Congress for an appropriation for the construction of the proposed road.

Co-operative Company at Tampico Is Under Foreclosure.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 5.—(Special).—The lines, poles, franchises and other property of the Tampico Telephone Company, a co-operative organization which has operated a telephone system in the Tampico Valley for the last five years, will be sold under foreclosure proceedings.

The trustee of the company is held to satisfy a judgment of $733 in favor of Sinyard Culver. It is expected to result in a change of management.

BEAUTY IN OLD AGE.

You often see a beautiful old lady and she seems to be as happy as she is beautiful for beauty and happiness both depend largely upon good health. Indigestion and constipation are to a great extent responsible when old age lacks beauty and happiness. This can be remedied by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the digestion, invigorate the liver and regulate the bowels. This banishes nervousness and despondency, clears the skin and improves the appetite. Give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with them.
