

541,843 MEN AND MILITIA IS PLAN

Increase of Regular Army to 141,843 and 400,000 Citizen Soldiers Wanted.

AERO SQUADRONS PROVIDED

War Department Proposes in Addition to Call on Railroad, Bridge and Engineering Men in Case War Should Follow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—An outline of the Army's part in the National defense programme to be submitted to Congress in December by the Administration was made public tonight by Secretary Garrison disclosing for the first time details of the plan to raise a great continental, or citizen, army to supplement the regular establishment.

It is proposed to increase the Regular Army from 108,000 to 141,843 officers and men, changing the term of enlistment from four years with the colors and three years on furlough to two years with the colors and four years on furlough.

Citizen Army to Be 400,000.

It is proposed further to organize a Federal citizen army of 400,000, to be enlisted 12,000 a year for three years, to strengthen the state militia by increased appropriations and closer cooperation; and to spend $20,000,000 a year for four years on coast defenses and $25,000,000 a year for four years in the accumulation of reserve material for use by a force of 500,000 men.

Mr. Garrison says that the framers of the new policy are fully conscious of the possibility of formulating military theories much better in theory, but that "after legal and other conditions they think it will be found that almost insuperable objections and difficulties arise in the carrying into practical operation suggestions that from the military standpoint might otherwise be very acceptable."

Private Specialists Aid.

The preparation of the plan, War Department officials have called into consultation specialists in various lines of private industry.

"It has been proposed," it says, "to make available in time of need the services of those in various lines of employment requiring special knowledge and skill, such as railroad men, bridge builders, engineers of all descriptions, etc., and leading men in these lines and professions have been collaborating with the War Department in an endeavor to formulate by legislation or administrative action an acceptable and useful plan with respect thereto.

Employers Asked to Co-operate.

"In this connection and because of the patriotic spirit thus displayed, it seems desirable to say that if those who are the employers of the young men of the country cannot by reason of age, or situation in life, give their personal service, they can do that which will be equally useful by encouraging in every way the participation of those in their employ in the plan of National defense.

"If they would so arrange their business that a certain proportion of those whom they employ could undertake this National service without sacrificing their personal interests, those who do this thing would be acting in the most public spirited and patriotic manner possible."

The citizen army would be recruited throughout the entire country and organized in geographical divisions. Its members, though enlisted for six-year terms, would be required to report for intensive training only for short periods each year for three years, and during the remaining three years would be furloughed subject to the call to the colors in time of war.

Schools May Provide Officers.

In addition to officers who may be developed in the course of its operation, Mr. Garrison proposed to draw officers for this force from men who have served in the National Guard or in the regular army or who have been trained in private military schools.

Individuals or organizations in the existing National Guard free to do so would be permitted to come into the citizen army without change of rank.

For the next fiscal year, when it is proposed to put this new policy into operation, Congress will be asked to appropriate $182,717,026; the second year the amount will be $212,813,879; the third year $228,910,879, and annually thereafter, if the policy were continued without change, the Army budget would be $182,254,353.

Four Aero Squadrons Planned.

The additions to the regular Army contemplated were 12 regiments of infantry, four regiments of field artillery, 52 companies of coast artillery, 15 squadrons of engineers and four aero squadrons, to be brought in half next year and half the following year.

This plan, when completed, would place in the Panama Canal zone, Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines and Alaska 1453 officers and 47,456 enlisted men. In the continental United States there would be 2356 officers and 126,000 men, including 11,243 regiments and cavalry, 28-23 regiments of infantry, seven regiments of field artillery, 179 companies of coast artillery and about 4000 officers and men in engineer and signal corps.

BRYAN QUILTS MR. WILSON

charging the solemn obligation I owe the country were I not to speak in terms of the deepest solemnity of the urgency and necessity of preparing ourselves to guard and protect the rights and privileges of our people, our sacred heritage of the fathers who struggled to make us an independent Nation."

Politicians in Washington are interested in the dispute which has arisen between the President and Mr. Bryan less because of its effect on Congress with regard to the adoption of the preparedness programme, which admittedly will be important, than because of the influence it will exert on the fortunes of the Democratic party during the coming Presidential campaign. In his letter of resignation last June Mr. Bryan expressed "the heartiest good wishes" for Mr. Wilson's welfare and "the success of our Administration."

Farmers Support Hoped For

Democrats close to the President say the Nebraska is now seeking to rally the farmers behind him and against the President by pointing out that the Government is spending annually ten times as much in the Army and Navy as it is on agriculture; and also to concentrate in opposition to the chief executive all the peace propaganda by his general objection to preparedness of any kind.

Mr. Wilson and his advisers realize fully that Mr. Bryan's conduct is certain to, and they believe was designed, to alienate support from the Administration. They believe further that Mr. Bryan is actuated by a desire to serve his personal ambition. The olive branch which was extended to him for months now has been withdrawn.

Mr. Bryan, having taken up the cudgels against preparedness, is expected to continue to "beat them and even to direct his blows against other Administration policies which do not meet with his favor.

Representative Gillett, of Massachusetts, expressed his opinion of Mr. Bryan when he said tonight: "The Democratic fight is on and we are awaiting with a great deal of interest and delight the results of the battle between Mr. Wilson and the man who made him President."

TRANSPORT'S LOSS 300

LONDON GIVES DETAILS OF SINKING OF RAMAZAN.

Indian Troops Are Chief Sufferers. Boats Smashed by Shell Fire of Enemy Submarine.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Official announcement by the War Office tonight of the sinking of the British transport Ramazan by a hostile submarine in the Aegean Sea, previously reported in September, has been confirmed.

The War Office announces that the British transport Ramazan was sunk by an enemy submarine by shell fire on the 6th of September, 1915, off the island of Antikythra in the Aegean Sea. There were about 300 Indian troops on board, of whom 75 were killed. Twenty-eight of the crew also were saved. Several boats were smashed by shell fire.

The survivors reached Antikythra in their own boats the same night and were kindly and hospitably treated by the inhabitants.

Previous announcement of the loss of the Ramazan came in a dispatch from Athens on September 28, which told of the presence of survivors of the transport on Greek territory, whence they had been sent by the Greek government to accept the $100 offered by the transport's loss were given at the time.

OFFICIALS' VIEW TOLD

OLCOTT AND KAY TELL WHY THEY REFUSED $200.

Letter to Clubwoman Gives Reasons for Declining Donation to State Tuberculosis Hospital.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—That members of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs may not misunderstand the motives of Secretary of State Olcott and State Treasurer Kay, in refusing to accept the $200 offered by the federation for use of the State Tuberculosis Hospital, these officials today sent a communication to Mrs. Evans, president, giving their reasons for the action.

Secretary of State Olcott and State Treasurer Kay, in their communication to Mrs. Evans, inform the position of the Board of Control with reference to the gift. They say:

"We wish to state that we appreciate the motives which prompted the donation for the institution. We think, however, that it was an imposition on the state to have asked it, inasmuch as it is the state's duty to care of its institutions and the money that deal of work and should not be borne by something that it is the state's duty to support.

If the Board had known in advance that Dr. Bellinger, of the tuberculosis hospital, expected to make a request that he would not have permitted it.

Advocate state will have to support the institution for the same reason. The only difference being that since in lack of funds, which is the duty to do, rather than the women. The Board of Control is not a proper one from the standpoint of the federation, but it was an imposition on the part of the state in having asked it.

CAR VICTIM ASKS $51,000

Woman Charges Fender She Stepped Into Should Have Been Folded.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Alice Alford stepped off a streetcar, turned to cross behind it, but instead stepped on the rear fender. It caught her foot; the car moved on and she was dragged more than 100 feet over the ties, she says. She asks $51,000 damages.

Such was the substance of a damage suit opened today in the Circuit Court and which promises to be lengthy. The jury selected today, was taken by the railroad to the scene where the accident occurred last June, a point in the outskirts of the city on a suburban line.

The woman declares that the fender should have been pulled up out of the rear of the car.

She asks $50,000 general damages, $50 for medicines and nurse hire and $1000 for medical services.

TERM 'LORD'S DAY' MAY DEFEAT LAW

Judge Gantenbein, in Decision Today, Expected to Hold Phrase Is Sectarian.

APPEAL ON ACT CERTAIN

Case Is Cited as Indication of Views—City Attorney Believes Hands of Police Are Tied.

The Sunday closing law may be knocked in the head today because it refers to Sunday as "Lord's day."

Lawyers and Courthouse attaches who have investigated court decisions in connection with Oregon's blue law freely predicted yesterday that Circuit Judge Gantenbein today will decide that Dan Kellaher cannot be punished for keeping his grocery store open on Sunday. In that case the court order restraining officers from enforcing the law will be continued until the Supreme Court has a chance to pass on the Kellaher case.

"Lord's day" is a sectarian phrase. Judge Gantenbein himself made the point, but the hand of the court order in connection with this same law, and his decision was never appealed. The Supreme Court has been manifested in intense interest today before Judge Gantenbein. If Dan Kellaher is convicted, he will appeal. If the law is declared unconstitutional and he is released, an appeal will be taken by the Retail Grocers' Association, which is backing the prosecution.

INJUNCTION HELD ABSOLUTE

Opinion on Sunday Closing Enforcement Given by Mr. LaRoche.

Not only is the State of Oregon, District Attorney Evans and all of his assistants specifically restrained from enforcing the Sunday-closing law by making an arrest or issuing a complaint, but the hand of the police is tied, according to an opinion written yesterday by Mayor Albee by City Attorney LaRoche. Mr. LaRoche says the law cannot be enforced while the restraining order stands.

"While the police are not specifically enjoined to arrest, they are restrained from doing so, because the complaint could not be issued. The District Attorney alone could issue a complaint, and he and all his assistants are restrained."

LIQUOR ISSUE IN COURT

COLORADO'S RIGHT TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION QUESTIONED.

Denver Authorities Contend It Is Acting Under Special Charter Giving Control of Affairs.

DENVER, Nov. 5.—The case to determine whether the state has the right to enact and enforce state-wide prohibition legislation was placed before the State Supreme Court today with the filing of a reply brief by Fred Farrar, Attorney-General. A decision is looked for in December, and is expected to form a basis for the enforcement of state-wide prohibition in Colorado, which becomes effective January 1, 1916.

The Supreme Court took original jurisdiction in the proceedings, at the request of Governor Carlson and Attorney-General Carras, the Denver City authorities agreeing. The case involved issuance by city authorities of a saloon license extending beyond January 1, 1916, to August Koch.

The state contends that under the constitutional amendment and Legislative enactment the manufacture, importation or sale of liquor in Colorado after January 1 is illegal and that the state possesses authority to enforce these enactments.

The city argues that it is operating under a special charter granted by the Legislature and that this charter gives to the city the right to control the manufacture, sale or giving away of intoxicating liquors.

GIRLS' HOME IS DELAYED

State Insists on Permit Fees for E. Henry Wemme Institution.

The establishment of the White Shield, a home for unfortunate girls, is held up for the present because H. J. Schulderman, Corporation Commissioner, cannot see his way clear to California in favor of the Valley lumbermen. Strong resolutions of the club will appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission when the hearing is held in Portland.

A determined effort will be made to have the present rates kept. It is pointed out that with the same rate prevailing in Portland as prevails in the Willamette Valley, Willamette Valley lumbermen will be unable to compete on the California market with the Portland mills.

LUMBER RATES UPHELD

Dallas Club Opposes Contemplated Change for Portland.

DALLAS, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The Dallas Commercial Club has gone on record as opposed to the fight of the Portland lumber interests against the slight differential in freight rates to California in favor of the Valley lumbermen. Strong resolutions of the club will appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission when the hearing is held in Portland.

S. Yanoff Gets News From Brother Now in Bulgarian Army.

A letter from a brother in Sophia has recently been received by S. Yanoff, an elevator operator at 705 Davis street.

S. Yanoff, the brother, who is a Bulgarian, was about a year ago forced to fight in the Serbian army against the Austro-German forces, so the letter reads. After being in the trenches for seven months he was taken prisoner by the Austro-German forces and, being exhausted from service in the trenches, was removed to the hospital in Sophia. He was in the hospital for three months and upon his dismissal from there he determined to fight in the Bulgarian army against the Serbians.
