

DR. W. B. HINSON QUIT WHITE TEMPLE

Baptist Pastor Accepts New Position as District Evangelist of Church.

CHANGE EFFECTIVE JAN. 1

Successes in Union Revivals in Many Cities of Northwest Have Created Demand for His Supervision of Division Work.

At the close of the services at the White Temple Baptist Church yesterday morning Rev. Walter B. Hinson, who has been pastor of that church for the last five and a half years, announced to his congregation his resignation to take effect January 1, 1916.

Dr. Hinson plans to accept the position of division evangelist of the Baptist Home Mission Society, which was offered to him about 19 days ago. The new position will place him in charge of the evangelistic work of the church in the western and northern parts of the United States.

The resignation of Dr. Hinson probably will be taken up for consideration at the regular meeting of the board of deacons tonight at the Y. M. C. A. Later it will probably be considered by the prudential board, which has finally submitted to the membership. Members of the board were unable to say last night what recommendation, if any, would be made relative to the resignation.

Church Regrets Departure.

One member said that while all would regret to see Dr. Hinson leave, there was satisfaction in his new position would give him opportunity to do more good and be a greater factor in the advancement of the church, no barrier should be placed in his way. Dr. Hinson came to the pastorate of the White Temple from San Diego five and a half years ago. He succeeded at that time Rev. J. Whimomb Brougher, who has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Temple Baptist Church in Los Angeles.

Dr. Hinson's work here has been remarkable because of the evangelistic success with which it has been attended. Since his coming here, approximately 1500 have joined his church and his pastorate has been considered one of the strongest in the city. Hardly a Sunday has passed under his leadership that new members have not been added to his congregation.

Evangelistic Work Notable.

He has also been in great demand for addresses at the various gatherings of his own church and other Christian denominations not only in Oregon, but also in the Northwest.

Dr. Hinson's coming here, has been looked upon as one of the best theologians in the city.

The new charge offered Dr. Hinson was created at the last session of the Northern Baptist convention, the National governing body of that organization. It is accepted the position it will place in the evangelistic work carried on by the Baptist church in the states of Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Arkansas.

His work will not only be to hold evangelistic services in the cities but also to instruct and direct other evangelists of the church in that territory.

Step is Not Expected.

It was a tense and rather dramatic moment when Dr. Hinson handed in his resignation, following the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. He was known that he was considering the resignation of the evangelistic position offered him, announcement having been made of the offer in the Oregonian Saturday, and when he began reading an introductory note to his resignation practically all the members of the congregation knew of the announcement.

Members of the board of deacons said last night that no thought had been given to a successor for Dr. Hinson. They said they would have come up so suddenly that as yet there had been no opportunity to consider such a thing.

Dr. Hinson goes to Corvallis Tuesday to take charge of union evangelistic services to be held at the Presbyterian Church there. Rev. C. A. Brooks, of New York City, will succeed him at the White Temple pulpit next Sunday in his absence.

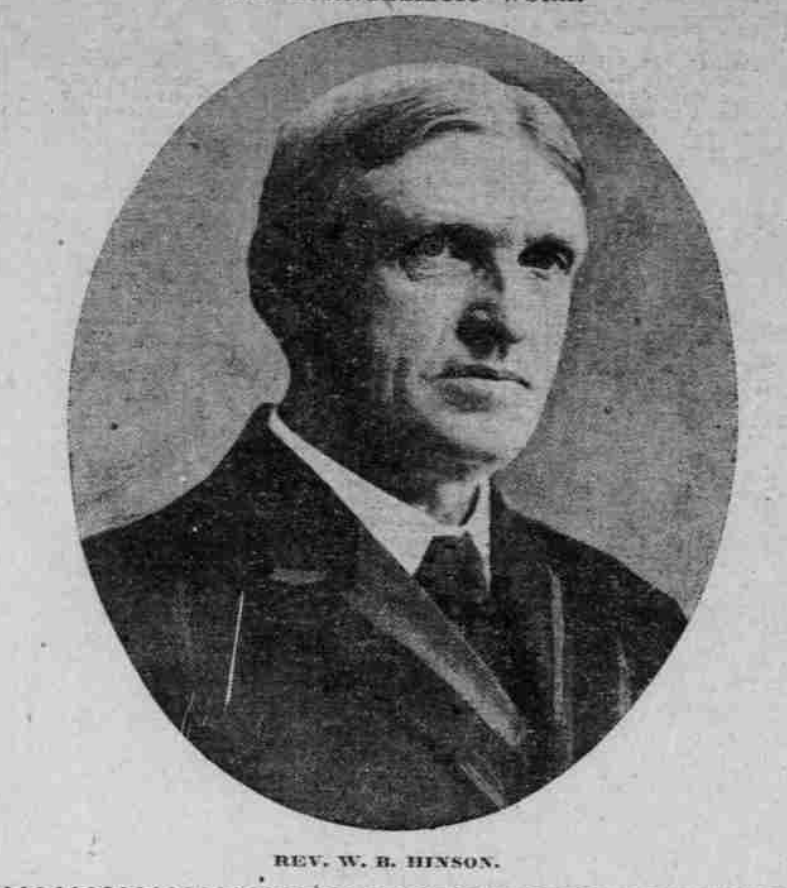

STOCKMEN COME TO CITY

FARMERS OF ESTACADA DISTRICT TO INSPECT LOCAL YARDS.

Visitors Will Arrive on Special Electric Train and Be Guests at Union Packing Plant.

Nearly 50 farmers and livestock growers from Estacada and the surrounding country will spend today in Portland, with a view of familiarizing themselves with the problems involved in the transportation, marketing and manufacture of their livestock into meat products. The visitors will leave Estacada by special train over the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company interurban line at 3 o'clock this morning, and will pick up delegations of the Portland Union Stockyards and Union Meat Company, with board and other special train at Second and Stark streets for the trip to the North Portland stockyards. The excursion, being managed by R. M. Standish, editor of the Estacada Progress and secretary of the Estacada Commercial Club. During the forenoon the party will be conducted through the spacious stockyards, and all the operations involving the handling of cattle, hogs, sheep and livestock in general from the time it leaves the farmer's hands until it is ready for the packers will be explained to the visitors in detail. The visitors will be entertained at luncheon at the Terminal Hotel as the guests of William Baughnighy, president of the Union Stockyards, and the afternoon will be devoted to an inspection tour through the big packing plant of the Union Meat Company, under the direction of its officials. Today's visit is the direct result of the co-operative efforts of the local stockyards men, packers and railroad officials. Officials of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company have been taking an active part in the movement to build up the livestock industry in connection with the farmers and stockyards people.

PASTOR OF WHITE TEMPLE WHO ANNOUNCED RESIGNATION YESTERDAY TO TAKE UP HOME MISSIONARY EVANGELISTIC WORK.

REV. W. B. HINSON.

FOYS AT ORPHEUM

Tiniest of Comedy Family Arrives in Satchel.

SONGS AND DANCES AMUSE

Reine Davies Is Fetching as Lonely Widow in Musical Act.

BY LEONE CASS BAER.

Foys for Joy! Seven dupliques of Paw Foy and their attractive Italian mother brought undiluted joy to the orpheum audience yesterday. Paw Foy is as unchanged as the hills ever-lasting, which are supposed to be the last word in unchangeableness. His husky, throaty voice, so dear to correct imitators as "copy"—and his wry, twisted smile, these, too, are unchanged.

One of the little Foys is an exact replica of father and brings down the house with his following in paw's footsteps in a song number.

The intangible little Foy uses a clever idea in introducing the curtain slides. A policeman's telephone box and asks for a connection with his home in New Rochelle. A part of the seven artist progeny all done up in immaculate white and blue, gathered around mother and a library table.

Tiniest Foy Carried in Satchel.

In turn paw talks to each and then asks them to show-horn themselves in the satchel and come to help out in his act.

Presto! Here they come in stair-step lines—two lovely girls and four boys—all but the tiniest Foy and father fetches him in a packed satchel. Individually and collectively the Foy tribe sings and dances, with little hops and slides into the plot intervals.

It's a great family, and I'd rather miss a dozen other headliners I could mention than miss the Foys.

Reine Davies is one of the big-bosomed-blond-dolly types with a soprano voice and a million dollar smile, running with a curly mane and a train. She has a sense of humor, her pretty head, for she has collected some nasty songs of the never-been-heard-before variety and that in itself is enough to bill her as unique.

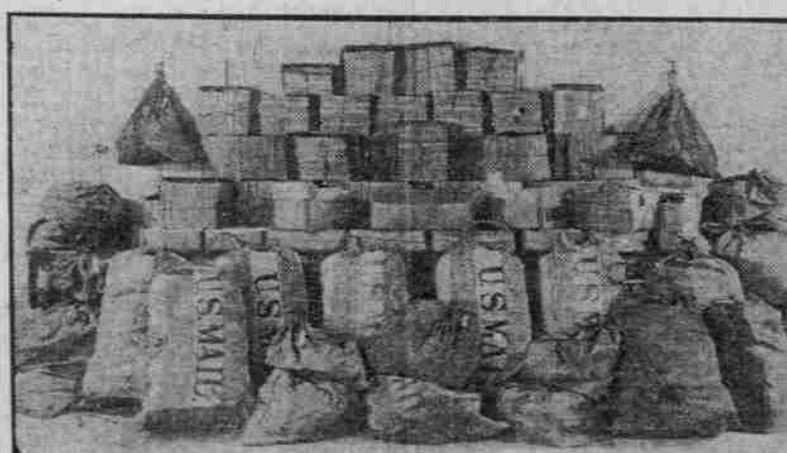

One ballad, done up in black, is an emotional plaint of a lonely widow, another is of a little girl, one is a new patriotic outburst and the cleverest of all is about a Tokio girl sung in a white lincolntow (a thing you ride in, not a garment).

The Leightons are a riot. They come in trio form, masculine gender. One is an acute brunette with an inquiring mind, one is a joyous comedian who tries to answer a few of the questions and the third is a wayward youth in stripes, who dances amazingly well. They sing, too. Believe me, it's some act.

Scot Sings Delightfully.

Glen Ellison made a home run on the bill yesterday. He is a canny Scot without the kilts. That is to say, he wears a dress suit, rather than a kilt. Also, he has a home field here in his voice, and he sings beautifully. His

THIRTY THOUSAND PIECES OF MAIL MATTER WERE SENT OUT SATURDAY BY SECRETARY OF STATE OLCOTT.

LETTERS TO REGISTERED CHAUFFEURS AND OWNERS OF MOTOR VEHICLES.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Approximately 30,000 pieces of mail were delivered from the office of Secretary of State Olcott to the Salem Postoffice yesterday. It includes a letter to the owner of every registered motor vehicle, and to every registered chauffeur in this state, containing a blank and instructions for applying for registration for 1916. More than 24,500 motor vehicles, 5180 motorcycles, 4900 chauffeurs and 173 dealers in motor vehicles are registered in Oregon. The current registrations do not expire until December 31, 1915. These blanks are sent at this time so as to give all motor vehicle owners and chauffeurs who desire to do so an opportunity to apply for 1916 registration and secure their licenses by the first of the year.

SUNDAY CLOSING FIGHT ON JURIES

Rev. Mr. Tufts Attacks Judge Gantenbein's Decision of Unconstitutionality.

REVERSAL IS EXPECTED

Campaign for New Statute Planned by Weekly Rest-Day League in Event State Supreme Court Upholds Portland Jurist.

Should the Supreme Court allow the Oregon Sunday closing law to rest in the desuetude which has claimed for it, to these many years, and to which it was sent, temporarily to abide again by Circuit Judge Gantenbein Saturday—the end of the law would be close.

Furthermore residents of Alaska may be sitting on the seat of uncertainty if the Oregon law is cast into the scrap heap. The well-known Sunday closing law of Alaska Territory is the identical law previously enacted in Oregon, according to its defenders, and it was handed to Alaska by the United States Congress a few years ago. Where are better constitutional lawyers than in Congress?

Interests working for a Sunday blue law enforcement yesterday said that, viewed from any angle, it is an open-and-shut case. Judge Gantenbein, highest court upholds Judge Gantenbein, then the way is opened for having a newer and better law enacted, and if Judge Gantenbein is reversed, the law stands.

Rev. Mr. Tufts Takes Issue. Rev. G. L. Tufts, superintendent for the Weekly Rest Day League of Oregon, speaking for those interests, took open issue with Judge Gantenbein in two addresses yesterday, one at the Mount Tabor Methodist Church in the morning, and at a mass meeting of five churches in the St. Johns district last night. Mr. Tufts denied the law was aged and declared that Judge Gantenbein's decision probably would not hold water before the Supreme Court, citing cases in other states. In case it did, however, Mr. Tufts made it clear steps would be taken at once to obtain a properly worded and eminently correct law, constitutionally speaking.

Mr. Tufts is the author of the Idaho Sunday closing law, which, incidentally, was commended by Judge Gantenbein. In the reference Judge Gantenbein made to the Idaho law Mr. Tufts found relief, yesterday, incidentally adding that, generally speaking, the Oregon law is as correctly worded as the Idaho statute.

Language is Contested.

Judge Gantenbein, for the second time, has declared the Sunday rest law of Oregon to be unconstitutional, said Mr. Tufts last night at St. Johns. He based his opinion upon a marginal note of the old Deady Code that this statute was against the "profanation of Sunday." But the language was not used by the legislator and is not an integral part of the act. Even if it were, the title of the act would not invalidate it, according to the highest courts of the land.

"Another sandy foundation upon which the opinion was based was the wording of the act, namely, the first day of the week, commonly called the Lord's day, or Sunday." The learned judge contended that the expression, "Lord's day," rendered it religious legislation and hence unconstitutional. But the Sunday laws of a dozen other states contain the same expression, and yet they have never been held unconstitutional, even when this very point was under consideration.

California Case Cited.

"We would refer the learned judge to the case of Los Angeles v. Hummer, in California, the dissenting opinion of Judge Fields, and the unanimous decision of the state Supreme Court in California. This dissenting opinion of Judge Fields was affirmed in the Andrews case, and has ever since 1861 been the law of California. It is also adopted and affirmed by the entire bench of the Federal Court of the United States. I do not hesitate to predict that Judge Gantenbein's decision will be reversed by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Congress of the United States contains some of the best constitutional lawyers in the world, and if the territorial law which the judge of our Circuit Court held unconstitutional here, Congress enacted in 1906 for the Territory of Alaska.

"This 'unconstitutional,' 'musty,' 'stale,' 'blue law' is today the law of Idaho. It is not this slapping Congress in the face, but it would remind those who are ignorant of the fact that the law under which Mr. Kellaher was convicted was enacted in 1903 and not in 1854. It's hoary head is but 12 years of age—quite a kid yet."

SOCIETY

Miss Maxine Hembree left Monday for San Francisco, where she will meet her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ames Lowell, and her cousin, Miss Antoinette Lowell, of Tennessee. From there they will go south and west, returning to San Francisco for the closing of the exposition.

Miss Hembree and Miss Lowell are popular in the South, where they attended school, and they will be tentatively entertained in the different cities.

From San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Lowell and Miss Lowell will sail for Honolulu, H. I., to pass the winter, and Miss Hembree will return to her home in Portland.

Mrs. Walter M. Daly and her daughter, Nancy Stack, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Stack, Sr., at Escanaba, Mich., returned to Portland Tuesday.

Mrs. Vina Opycke, deputy county clerk of Grant County, was at the Imperial Hotel for several days, where her many friends greeted her before her return home.

Mrs. Leon La Forge entertained with a luncheon Thursday in honor of Mrs. Steeth, who will leave soon to make her home in California, and Mrs. Frank Mangold.

Mrs. Frank Mangold, with her four children, Frank, Mary Louise, Ruth and George, left Saturday to pass the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bundy, in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Neal, who have been the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Woodcock, left Saturday for several months, left yesterday for their home in Southern California.

Mrs. R. Dunsmuir entertained Miss Ruth Woodcock, bride-elect, with a luncheon on Friday. A color scheme was carried out in yellow and white, and places were laid for the prospective bride, Miss Irene Connel, Miss Nora Woodcock, Miss Mildred McClung, Mrs.

Inauguration Month!

Marks a supreme united whole-hearted effort in every department to demonstrate the completeness, the readiness, the outstanding excellence—in a word, the UNIQUENESS—of the greater new Meier & Frank Store. It confirms emphatically what you already know—this store's ability to save you money—to give you the most—and BEST—always—for the money expended.—Conformably to our inauguration plan, our ads of yesterday announced these sales for today:

Women's Suits, including Max M. Schwartz and other splendid models: $48.50-$52.50 values, $34.50; $55-$65 values, $42.50. Women's Dresses of serge and silk $11.45; satin and crepe $18.45. Women's Neckwear—fur trimmed, lace and ostrich pieces—radically underpriced. Silk Negligees, regularly $15-$25, at $9.95. Beds and Bedding sale continues with values so extraordinary that every home should profit now.

—See Sunday papers for details of these and sales of Laces, Men's Watches, Blankets, Pillows, Outing Flannel.

Our Complete Grocery

—Greatest Pure Food Market in the entire Northwest—people come from far and near to see and wonder at it. New, spacious, well-lighted, with immense fresh stocks of the best obtainable—it never fails to excite admiration. The extreme moderation of prices, too, is a feature favorably remarked by all.—In connection are the Delicatessen with its wonderful brine system, the clean Candy Kitchen, the Ice Cream Factory and Daylight Bakery. Also on the ninth floor—the Picilla Tea Room, the Dutch Room (for men), the Bakery Lunch.—A truly notable collection assembled on one floor with every one of which it will please and profit you to become more familiar.

Famous South Bend Malleable Ranges

—Having, in addition to all the desirable qualities of other high-grade ranges, features not shared in by other makes—notably the Patented Aluminum Fused Rustproof Flues.—Big Range Exhibit and Special Demonstration all this week.—See our Alder Street window and examine the range more closely in our Stove Department, where an expert from the factory is in attendance.

Free During Demonstration—Set of high-grade pure Aluminum Cooking Ware, value $12, given away with each South Bend Malleable Range purchased this week.

Cook Book and Useful Souvenirs Given Free in Stove Department—Eighth Floor, Sixth Street.

Established 1867. THE QUALITY STORE OF PORTLAND. First, Sixth, Morrison, Alder Sts.

N. M. Nease, Janet McKay, Dorothy Donaldson and the hostess.

To make plans for a party in the near future, the Brooklyn School Alumni Association met in the school assembly hall last Friday night. A committee of four was named by the president to set the date and arrange details. The next meeting of the association will be held Friday night, December 3.

Mrs. George B. Collins, 324 East Eleventh street North, left Portland hurriedly yesterday morning for Eugene, where her daughter, Mary, was suddenly taken critically ill. Miss Collins is a student at the University of Oregon.

The Laurelhurst Club held its semi-monthly card party Friday evening, November 5, with 14 tables engaged. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Murray were host and hostess of the evening. Honors in five hundred were won by Miss Grace A. Rose and Miss Emmalita Zanello. Bridge honors were won by Mrs. William H. Smith and H. A. Smith.

The next card party will be Friday, November 19, when Dr. and Mrs. J. Emil Nelson will be host and hostess.

Mrs. Otto F. Muesel gave a dinner Sunday, October 31, at her home in Beaverton, complimenting her sister-in-law, Anna Barbara Muesel, and cousin, Ted P. Flynn, of Stevenson, Wash., whose wedding will take place in the near future. The engagement came as a complete surprise to their host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Means entertained Saturday evening with a dinner party and dance in honor of Miss Alice Antzen and fiancé, Mr. Morris. Covers were laid for 14 of the younger set. An enjoyable silver tea was given

"Ye Oregon Grille"

Feature this week, a Spanish ballad entitled "La Espagnola"

An attractive costume song by Miss Hallie Foster and girls; also

Miss Dolores Francis, a soubrette of unusual charm, is added this week to the "All Star Cabaret" For refined entertainment, cuisine and service, visit

"Ye Oregon Grille" Hotel Oregon Broadway at Stark. N. K. CLARKE, MANAGER. E. E. LARIMER, ASSISTANT MANAGER. New Year's Eve Table Reservations should be made now. See Mr. Larimore.

Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edgar Allen. The house was tastefully decorated with Autumn flowers and potted plants. Mesdames R. L. McBride and Charles Maurz assisted the hostess in receiving. Mesdames S. Lamont, Joe Anderson and Edgar Allen, Jr. presided in the dining-room. Musical numbers were given by Mesdames A. V. Wells, Anderson, Clayton and a violin number by Miss Isabel Steele.

BOISE CHINESE ARRESTED Louie Tong, Who Escaped From Idaho Officers, Captured Here.

Wanted in Boise for transporting two pretty Chinese girls from Portland to that city in violation of the Mann act, Louie Moon, aged 44, was arrested here early yesterday morning by Police Lieutenant Harms and Patrolmen Martin and Powell. The girls, Wah Toy and Le Sue, both well known in Portland police circles, were arrested with another Chinese in Boise.

There is high feeling in Boise among the tongas as a result of the arrests, and police officers fear that the arrest yesterday may precipitate a long war in several of the Northwest cities. Moon has already served a term in the Idaho penitentiary. Moon escaped when his companions were placed under arrest in the Idaho city, and fled to Portland, where he had been in hiding.

Bank's Control Purchased.

W. R. Phillips has purchased a controlling interest in the Central Bank & Trust Company of North Yakima, Wash., from George C. Mitchell, formerly president of the institution. Mr. Phillips succeeds Mr. Mitchell as president. A. E. Root, who was formerly connected with the Royal Bank of Canada, has been made cashier of the Central Bank & Trust Company. Mr. Phillips was recently said to have acquired a controlling interest in the Bankers' Trust Company of Tacoma, and to have become president of the company. He is also president of the Broadway State Bank and the Northern Bank & Trust Company, both of Seattle.

Who Wants Better Light?

Now is the time to plan and install your Lighting Fixtures for the Holidays, both in your home and place of business. The best and most beautiful in Electric and Gas Fixtures, Reading Lamps and Electric Supplies can be secured only at

The M. J. Walsh Co.'s Show Rooms

311 STARK STREET BOTH PHONES

Always Say FRANZ'S When You Buy Bread Get The Genuine FRANZ'S BUTTER-NUT BREAD