ROAD AND BRIDGE PETITION IS FILED

Initial Step Is Taken for Connection of Cornell and Linnton Boulevard.

FEASIBILITY POINTED OUT

Usefulness and Importance of Stark Street Extension Argued in Plea for Further Improvement. Quick Access to City Possible.

The initial move in the plan of property owners along Cornell road, Willamette Heights and Blythewood to construct a bridge over Balch Creek Canyon to form a connection between Cornell road and the new Linnton boulevard, was made yesterday when property owners filed a petition asking the City Council to start proceedings The petition will be before the Council tomorrow.

It is signed by many property owners, including Percy H. Blyth, F. V. Holman, Mr. Lewis, Wiley Hydraulic Company, M. L. Holbrook and J. B. Holbrook.

The project new proposed has been talked of for years. The construction of the Hillside boulevard from Linnton to Portland has stirred the proposal into the form of a petition. The bridge is a part of the proposed project for the extension of Stark street from its

Road Leading to Bridge Is Plan From Cornell road it is proposed to have a road lead to the bridge and from the opposite end of the bridge to the boulevard by way of Aspen street, which already is paved nearly to the petition filed yesterday reads as

We, the undersigned owners of property in the vicinity of the Cornell Road, Willamette Heights, Blythewood and the Hillside boulevard, de respectfully petitlen for a bridge connecting the Cornell road with Willamette Heights, and for such changes in the Cornell road as may make approach to such bridge more convenient and accessible.

o such bridge more convenient and accessible.

Plans for the extension of Stark street from Thirteenth and Burnside streets to the Cornell road, at the head of Lovejoy street, are being prepared by the City Engineer moder authorization of your honorable commission, and it is the purpose of this petition to increase the importance and usefulness of this Stark-street extension by consecting it directly with the new Hillside soulevard through the Cornell road, a bridge scross Balch's ravine to Willamette Heights and Blytheawood, such bridge to reach Willamette Heights at Aspen street and to meet the Cornell road at a point near Madleay Park to be hereafter determined by the City Engineer.

As changes required in the Cornell road will be insignificant, and as Aspen street in Williamette Heights is open and hard-surfaced, throughout its whole extent, and as the right of way for the bridge is offered by adjoining property free of any expense, the cost of this improvement will be nominally the cost of the bridge, and the feasibility and quickness of the work's completion must be most apparent. the feasibility and quickness of the work's completion must be most apparent. Your petitioners would call attention to the large area of property adjacent to the market without quick access to the city and in great need of a direct artery to the business district; and recognizing the value to the city and to them as individuals, of the Stark-street extension, most unitedly indoree such extension and pray for an acceptance of this petition as a continuation thereof, and as absolutely necessary to the proper expansion of the city.

sion of the city. They helieve quick access to Macleay They helieve quick access to Macleay Park, Willamette Heights, and the whole western hillside will naturally follow the direct extension of Stark street to the beginning of these hills, and that these two improvements should go hand in hand. Stark street furnishing the trunk or direct entrance to and from the main city center, and the Cornell read and the bridge the Seeders to the hillside property. Because so much can be so quickly accomplished with so little expense, we tragently request that our petition be speedly granted.

Waggoner home, which Mr. Smith purchased recently.

The new Smith home contains 10 rooms, all finished in solid Circassian walnut. The exterior of the residence and the adjoining garage building is and the adjoining garage building is

ARSON SENTENCE DAY HERE

Four Members of Alleged Ring to Be Punished.

Four members of the alleged "arson syndicate" will face Circuit Judge Gantenbein this morning and will receive sentences of from three to seven years in the penitentiary.

Those to be sentenced are Mordie Keeney, convicted Friday night; George W. Woollette and Mont Akeyson, who pleaded guilty, and Sanford W. Currier, alleged leader of the "syndicate," who has indicated his intention to plead guilty. Currier already has confessed. Although Woollette and Akeyson turned state's evidence and testified against Keeney, official declared that no leniency would be shown them.

Between 30 and 50 school officers are expected to be in attendance at the meting. Mrs. Josephine Preston, super-intendent of the Washington schools, will be here, as will C. A. Cooper, super-intendent of schools in Seattie; Reuben R. Jones, secretary of the Seattle school board; Superintendent Geiger, of the Tacoma schools; Alfred Lister, secretary of the Tacoma school board; C. A. Thomas, secretary of the Spokane school board and many other promises Thomas, secretary of the Spokage school board and many other promi-ment school officials.

The meeting will last but one day. A similar gathering was held in Scattle last year and was declared to be an important factor in bringing closeer together school officials of the states.

AT PANTAGES, SHARES HONORS WITH HEADLINERS.

Billy Batchelor and Broadway Revue Have Spectacular Number, With Comedy, Girls and Music.

A sassy, flossy little dog named Buster shares honors with the spectacular, colorful, real headline number, Billy Batchelor and his Broadway Revue, at Pantages this week. Billy Batchelor is a capital funster, and he is surrounded with material enough to make several vaudeville acts.

For instance, two chaps in the Broadway Revue act are an excellent teamone as a double-voiced wonder and the other in Italian character songs. These two yodel, and have a hand organmonkey-Italian act that gets over in great style.

If w weeks ago to stir up interest in the Manufacturers' and Land Products Ma Buster shares honors with the specterchange. One of their ballads, a tele-phone song conversation, is new and catchy. Miss Deerie is pretty and wears the latest cry in fashion. From old Virginia come Alexander and Scott, blackface singers, and the beautcheous girl turns out to be an impersonator. The act is unusually in-teresting.

Virginia Thornton and Charles King. assisted ably by Erman Seavey, offer a dramatic sketch that has the eternal question of money power as its basis. It is melodramatic in the extreme.

Opening the bill are Wills and Hassan, sensational acrobatic folk, who go to extremes in daring and originality. to extremes in daring and originality in hand balancing.

The budget of 1916 has been based on the demands that representatives of the taxpayers originally made when several years ago they ordered a survey made of the city schools with a view to determine where the district should improve equipment. This schools are the city of the company of the city schools with a view to determine where the district should improve equipment.

view to determine where the district should improve equipment. This school survey, for which a special appropriation was made, pointed out those details of school administration that should receive impetus, and it is the contention of Mr. Thomas and certain members of the Board that the representatives of the Taxpayers League have this year acted in direct opposition to what the league that they represented demanded.

The school survey asked that larger appropriations be made for the increase of vocational training, and this was one of the points where the members of the Taxpayers' League took issue with the Board.

The first publication of the school budget for 1916 is ordered by law to appear tomorrow.

Mayor Prepares Streetcar Ordinance in "Safety First" Interests.

Talking to the motorman on a streetcar or interurban train in Portland will be made an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment, if an ordinance pre-pared yesterday by Mayor Albee is passed by the City Council. The ordi-nance will be before the Council to-morrow.

At present the streetear company has a rule against talking to motormen unnecessarily and has a sign reading, "Don't talk to motorman." The proposed ordinance would require the posting of a sign reading, Talking to motorman prohibited by law." Mayor Albee says the measure is for "safety first."

Boyer explained that he had long wished to warn the young against drinking and smoking. He says he wrote a book about it in San Francisco, but hadn't the money to pay for a set of stereopticon sildes that he wanted to use in lecturing.

"But I didn't practice what I preached," the old fellow said smilingly. "I was decorating saloons and I began drinking again. I learned to drink as a newsboy on the trains Nobody knew where my property was, If it had been saved. That was when I got into trouble."

Boyer smiled again and glanced at one end of the jail corridor where feligious exercises were being held. Boyer had been called from the religious assembly for the talk.

"I'm getting old," he said wistfully. He is about 65 years old find quite gray. "If I'm ever going to amount to anything it is time I was starting."

Boyer says that he suggested a lecturing scheme to the Anti-Saloon League, but has not received a definite answer.
