New Premier Gives Assurance That Neutrality Will Be Sincerely Benevolent.

FRENCH SAID TO ADVANCE

Adjustment of Pending Crisis at Athens Not Yet Made—Majority of Cabinet Favors Dissolution of Chamber.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The French government received today from Premier Skouliadis, head of the new Greek Cabinet, formal assurance of "our neutrality with respect to the Greek benevolence toward the entente powers."

Premier Skouliadis expressed the hope that the feelings of the entente powers toward Greece would not be influenced toward attempts to impair their friendship.

The communication was in the form of a communication from the Greek Premier to Athos Romanos, Greek Minister at Paris, which the Minister delivered to Jules Cambon, general secretary of the foreign ministry.

French Advance Reported. Reports from the Serbian front represent the situation as satisfactory for the allies, says a Havas dispatch from Athens, filed yesterday.

The question is not formally settled yet, I can say now, however, that the Cabinet will not appear and that the Chamber will be dissolved.

Ministers Favor Dissolution. Another dispatch from Athens says: "The Cabinet meeting was held today, but nothing transpired as to whether the Premier will accept the proposals of M. Venizelos with a view to avoiding the dissolution of Parliament."

These proposals are either that Minister of War Yanakitsas shall express regret for the incident which resulted in the overthrow of the Zaimis Ministry, or that all the followers of M. Venizelos shall absent themselves from the sessions of the Chamber, giving in their stead a quorum of deputies, who constitute a quorum.

It is understood a majority of the ministers favor dissolution. General Yanakitsas, the Minister of War, is credited with being responsible for the vote in Parliament which showed a lack of confidence in Premier Zaimis and his fellow ministers after he had refused to comply with the demand of M. Venizelos that he apologize for a remark to which the Parliament had taken exception. M. Yanakitsas retains the portfolio of War Minister in the reorganized Cabinet.

BRITON PREDICTS CRISIS

Does it portend good or evil that these two giants have buried their differences and stand united?

America to Have Conflicts, Too. I have not seen Lloyd George, but I have talked with Northcliffe. You must hunt him industriously at the Times, the Daily Mail or a dozen other offices between which he hurries, for the time of the man who made $50,000,000 in 20 years with his other editors were starving is limited.

What is America thinking of us? What do its citizens believe the issue of the war will be? asked Lord Northcliffe, and, barely awaiting your answer, he continues: "Your country will have its conflicts also. Yes, I think you are right. It will be an internal reflex-action of the great changes taking place here."

Before the beginning of next year my income tax will be $2.50 on every $5 of income. In my opinion this tax will never be less, even after the war. On the other hand, the working classes are receiving higher wages than they have ever received before. In view of the cheapness of living in this country, they are receiving relatively higher wages than those of American workmen today.

Wealthy Britons Reconciled. "In my opinion these wages will never be lower. The rich are going to be poorer and the poor richer, and by the end of the war England will have a species of state socialism. We (I judge that he meant the wealthy classes) are reconciled to and have accepted these conditions. A million and a half of young men who have been through hell for their country will come back and demand better working conditions as the price of their sacrifice. They will not put up with any nonsense. This situation is bound to have an effect on your country, where the difference between the rich and the poor is as great, if not greater, than it has been with us. I have been through your slums in New York and Chicago and know the conditions."

In addition there is the subtle influence of the war. For months your people have been reading about the spilling of blood. This constant diet of war is sure to bring about an internal upheaval. The American Revolutionary war was the precursor of the French Revolution.

As I have said, there is a small party of powerful men in English politics

State Department Learns Famine Has Become Thing of Past in Capital.

RAILROADS RUNNING AGAIN

Law and Order Restored in Larger Cities and Towns Under Carranza Control and Bandits Are Being Exterminated.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Conditions in Mexico are improving and there are signs that give hope for a gradual return to order and prosperity there, according to a summary of advices from various parts of the republic tonight by the State Department.

The famine in Mexico City is said to be over. Railway service is said to be re-established in many directions, the government is distributing food to the destitute and while business is still dull, compared to peacetime, it is pictured as better than at any time since the revolt against Diaz began.

Advices received by the Department today that Hermosto was taken by the de facto government forces on November 7, with little resistance. West coast ports were reported quiet.

Famine Is Thing of Past. "Conditions in Mexico are such as might be expected in any country that has passed through about six years of civil war," says the statement. "Those hopeful for the restoration of order and of Mexico's former prosperity believe that there now is a chance for them to improve."

"In Mexico City the famine is a thing of the past. Now, through government action, there is food for everybody, and the improvement of the railroads service makes it certain that food conditions will be better every day. The government has been maintaining 46 stations where food is free, consisting of a portion of soup, frioles and bread, distributed daily to every woman or child who comes. In addition there are 56 commissaries where food is sold to those in better circumstances at cost. Further, there are ten dining-rooms where meals are served at a price which is so much better that the government is considering the reduction of the number of these free stations."

Stores Open and Well Stocked. "While business is not flourishing with former years in Mexico City, it is probably better than it has been at any time since the trouble started. The stores are open and well stocked, in contrast with the conditions of a year and a half ago at the end of the Huerta regime."

Restoration of Railroad Service throughout the country will not only be the big step towards resuming normal conditions, but will also be the barometer of peace and order in the country. Railroads have been in the last few weeks transferred from the military to the civil authorities. The latter are now attempting to get the railroads on a running schedule, working under the most discouraging handicaps of the former regime.

The great national system of railroads, more than two-thirds of the engines, cars and rolling stock, has been destroyed. One-half at least of the rolling stock is still being used by the military.

WOMEN SEEK TO DEPOSE STEVENS. Stevens showed that the credentials of official secretary of the Woman's Press Club had been placed in the hands of the state committee on Wednesday of the convention, but that the report was given to the committee the day before the credentials were turned over by Mrs. Stevens.

Resolution of Protest Adopted. The session yesterday was called to order by Mrs. Leary, the secretary, at the suggestion of Mrs. Hidden. Mrs. W. S. Fortner, the organizer and former president of the club, was elected chairman. The substituted resolution demanding the resignation of the president was then adopted over the protest of several women that the meeting was illegal.

Mrs. Fortner tried to get at a more peaceful method for settling the trouble, but the insurgent members were determined to have the affair their way. They prevailed.

The status of the club and the fate of Mrs. Stevens are now in the hands of the State Federation Board. Several of the club members signified their intention of resigning from the Political Science Club when the result of the meeting was discussed last night.

Mrs. Evans' Opinion Given. The opinion of Mrs. Evans, which the club refused to hear yesterday, was as follows: My interpretation of the clause in the constitution is that...
