BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

A white and green wedding was selected by Miss Margaretta Brooke and Richard V. Look, which was celebrated yesterday afternoon at Trinity Church. The beautiful chancel was adorned with stately palms, delicate ferns being stretched across the chancel, forming an arch over the entrance. A profusion of white roses decked the altar, where the bride and groom were joined by Rev. A. A. Morrison, who officiated, Bishop Walter T. Sumner pronouncing the blessing at the conclusion of the ceremony. It was a most impressive service and the simplicity of the affair was charming.

Several unusual features characterized the wedding, the bride being given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Edward H. Brooke, and the absence of the conventional and time-honored bride's bouquet, a white leather prayer book being substituted.

The bride, who is a charming and attractive girl, wore a creation of shimmering silver lace, tulle and ivory satin, made on the newest lines, simple and lovely. Her tulle veil was wreathed with a tiny spray of orange blossoms.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Genevieve Brooke, who was attired in a charming frock of pastel pink satin, tulle and filmy lace. She carried the bride's bouquet, a shower of orchids and maidenhair ferns.

The guests were ushered by Andrew Kerr, Kurt Koehler, Lewis Mills and Harry Reed. C. Hunt Lewis attended Mr. Look.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the C. Hunt Lewis residence, 2005 Commercial, from 5 until 7 o'clock. The rooms were charming with fragrant roses and chrysanthemums, the drawing-room being done with Richmond roses, fluffy yellow chrysanthemums being arranged in the dining-room and halls.

Mrs. Lewis was assisted by Mrs. Elvott R. Corbett, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Misses Maile and Aileen MacLennan, Margaret Mearns, Evelyn Carey, Mrs. Arthur M. Sherwood, Mrs. Kenneth Beebe, Mrs. Kurt Koehler, Miss Dorothy Jocelyn, Miss Caroline Park, Miss Barbara Bartlett, Mrs. Kirkham Smith and Mrs. Lewis H. Mills.

Mrs. George M. Downey, of New York, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Dorothy Jocelyn, of Burlington, Vt., came West to attend the wedding.

Mr. Look is from Louisville, Ky., and is of an old Southern family. The Brookes formerly resided in Washington, D. C., and recently came to Portland to make their home.

Since the announcement of the young people's engagement in August, they have been feted extensively, especially since Mr. Look's arrival early this month.

One of the interesting features of the big Cathedral bazaar, which is to be held at the Cathedral hall from Monday, November 15, until Friday, will be the pioneer tea, the Ladies Aid Society of the Cathedral parish. The members of the old society have rallied loyally in support of this effort and the following members have announced their intention of helping during the week: Mesdames John Barlett, M. Baldwin, Edward Boyce, P. J. Groun, Horace Cushing, J. C. Ouellet, J. B. Collins, Annie Corbett, T. E. Doe, B. S. Doyle, George Dunning, James Doherty, Mary Dugan, John Evans, H. H. Flynn, M. E. Foley, John George, B. Gildner, J. M. Gravelle, F. W. Isherwood, William Jesson, J. J. Dunning, Mary Jackson, G. H. Johnson, John McGinnis, C. P. Maginnis, John Manning, McDougall, Charles Marchand, James Monks, A. C. Martin, D. Maloney, George E. Moore, Joseph M. McCusker, Robert McBride, T. J. Noud, William O'Donnell, P. T. Roe, Margaret Walker, J. W. Sweeney, T. J. Souffert, Andrew Smith, M. E. Waldron, J. H. Wiley, C. M. Wolff, Helen Kenny, McDermott and Misses Mary McKay, Katherine Madden and K. Gile. The pioneer tea will specialize in house furnishings and in addition the members of the society will serve a pioneer tea on Tuesday from 3 to 5 o'clock. All pioneers of the city and parish are invited and will receive a hearty welcome.

Mrs. Martha Anderson entertained a group of friends Tuesday at her home with an informal tea. The rooms were decked prettily for the occasion with chrysanthemums and dahlias.

Mrs. L. G. Johnson, of Myrtle Point, Or., is visiting relatives in this city for a fortnight.

The Maxilians have issued invitations for their much anticipated step-dance party that will take place on Friday evening, November 13, at the Cotton Hall. This affair is invitational.

The G. N. C. B. Girls will give a dancing party tonight at the Cotton Hall. A jolly time is promised by the committee.

A vaudeville and dance has been arranged by the entertainment committee of Portland Lodge, 416, L. O. B. B. to take place Tuesday night, November 16, at the B'nai B'rith building. The evening is planned for the benefit of the lodge and the friends of the lodge and their friends. A splendid program has been provided and dancing will conclude the entertainment.

Miss Joe Pauline Weiman and Edwin Warner Griley were quietly married by Rev. H. Boyd at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents in Alameda street. The bride wore a simple gown of ivory charmeuse—round length. Mr. and Mrs. Griley left at 12:40 o'clock for a two weeks' trip through California. The bride and groom were attended by the brother of the bride and Mrs. Lillian Jacobson. Little Marvel Jacobson acted as ringbearer.

At the Scottish Rite dance, to be held tonight, the sovereign grand inspector has selected a special committee to attend to the entertainment of the guests. It bids fair to outstrip any previous dance given by the organization, and a full attendance of members is anticipated.

The special committee is: Thomas McArthur, Anderson, B. Beckman, John B. Cleland, M. C. George, C. W. Lowe, Wallace McCammy, Joseph M. McCusker, W. B. Thomas, C. Taylor, F. W. Bates, Dr. Norris R. Cox, D. Solis Cohen, W. W. Johnston, Sig. Richey, R. W. Hoyt, Adrian McCammy, A. C. Martin, F. H. Holdenheimer, Charles L. Baker, Archibald Turlow, E. D. Jorgensen, Dr. William A. Cummings, Edward J. Failing, Rufus Holman, J. G. Mack, J. W. Schmeier, J. C. Ainsworth, James Muckle and J. A. Stroubridge.

For the benefit of Gordon Granger Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies Aid Society of the Woodlawn Methodist Episcopal Church, T. B. Rife will give a humorous lecture on "The Green Soldier Boy" in the church, Tenth and Highlands, Friday night, November 12. This lecture is Mr. Rife's own experience as a soldier from a Southern State.

Mrs. W. A. Coomer, of Sioux City, Ia., who is on her way to the Panama-Pacific Exposition, is visiting her cousin, Virgil and J. M. Coomer, of this city.

THE SANDMAN STORY

BY MRS. F. A. WALKER.

Caroline's Lesson.

Caroline had a very bad habit of replying when she was told to do anything. "Oh, dear, I don't want to!" if her mother wanted her to do an errand before school she would reply: "Oh, dear, I don't want to. I want to play."

One day her mother said: "I want you to take this basket to Grandma Bailey."

"Oh, dear," replied Caroline, "I don't want to. I think you might let me play on Saturday without asking me to do anything."

But her mother told her she must go, and so Caroline took the basket very unwillingly and started for Grandma Bailey's house, which was at the end of the town.

Grandma Bailey, as she was called by all the people in town, was an old woman who lived all alone, and Caroline's mother, as well as many others, sent her food and did many things to make the late years of her life happy.

Caroline thought as she walked along that she would leave the basket and hurry back as fast as she could to her playmates, but when she knocked at Grandma Bailey's door and heard the cheery "Come in!" she forgot her hurry.

"Good morning, Caroline," said Grandma Bailey. "How nice and clean you look in your pretty white dress! What a good mother you have to make you such pretty dresses and keep you looking so sweet and clean!"

Caroline had never thought about her dresses in that light before, and she did not reply.

"What is the cupboard, dear?" said Grandma Bailey, "and in the blue sugar bowl you will find some peppermint drops. Help yourself."

Caroline dearly loved the peppermint drops that Grandma Bailey somehow always seemed to have on hand, and before she realized it she was seated at Grandma Bailey's side eating peppermints and looking at a box of pictures that she had seen in the cupboard and asked to look at.

"Who is the pretty lady with the baby in her arms?" asked Caroline.

"That is the picture of my mother," Grandma Bailey replied, "and that baby was my little brother. I must tell you a story about that picture," she said.

"A terrible thing happened just after it was taken, and although I am an old woman now, I have never been able to look at it without crying."

Caroline sat very quietly as Grandma Bailey wiped away her tears, and then Grandma began her story.

"I was about your age," she said, "when this picture was taken, and my mother was getting the baby ready to go to the village when I came in from school."

and hurried away to watch my brother build my doll house.

"Mother reached the village and had this picture taken, and started home. She had to put the baby on the seat while she was driving, and just as she approached the woods, which had to be passed before our house was reached, a shot was fired by a hunter so near to the road that the horse ran and threw mother out. The baby was thrown to the bottom of the carriage, and when the horse was caught farther down the road it was found that my little brother was injured so that he could not live."

"My mother never mentioned it to me, but I am sure she knew that I suffered and never once after that have I ever said: 'Oh, dear, I don't want to!'"

"Goody," said Grandma Bailey, "she was really resolved never again to say 'I don't want to' when her mother asked her to do anything, for she felt sure that it must be a dreadful thing to remember all your life an unhappiness such as Grandma Bailey had told her of that morning."

REPORTS ON HOME GIVEN

Work Done by Boys' and Girls' Aid Society is Discussed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society was held yesterday in the chambers of Judge W. B. Gilbert. Superintendent Arne read an interesting report showing that during October there were 41 children received and 31 children placed out and 17 new commitments made.

At present there are 68 children in the receiving home.

Mrs. C. H. Templeton, in her report as secretary of the ladies' advisory board, said that the value of an institution that is ready at all times to help a helping hand to be given to the children cannot be over-estimated. She expressed the hope that the society would be remembered generously this Thanksgiving.

Roseburg Tax Levy to Be 10 Mills.

ROSEBURG, Or., Nov. 10.—(Special).—At a meeting of the Council here Monday night, it was decided to vote a half-mill tax with which to purchase modern fire-fighting equipment for Roseburg. Nine and one-half mills will be set aside to pay the actual operating expenses of the city. The tax levy for 1916 will be 10 mills, compared with 8 mills last year.

Mrs. W. Wood Dies in Klamath.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Nov. 10.—(Special).—Mrs. William Wood, wife of one of the pioneer settlers of this section, died yesterday at her home in Bonanza, 25 miles east of this city, from pneumonia. Prior to her marriage to Mr. Wood in 1908, Mrs. Wood was Mrs. Etta Vincent. She is survived by her husband and two daughters.

Douglas Tax Levy is 12.5 Mills.

ROSEBURG, Or., Nov. 10.—(Special).—

ALBANY, Or., Nov. 10.—(Special).—

Dr. Wallace Howe Lee, professor of education, has been named as temporary president of Albany College to succeed H. M. Crookes, who has accepted the presidency of Alma College, Mich. He will be in charge of the college during the remainder of this school year.

To select the new president of the institution, Frank J. Miller, chairman of the board of trustees, has named a special committee composed of members of the board. This committee consists of H. H. Hewitt, of Albany, chairman; Dr. John H. Boyd, of Portland; John E. Wheeler, of Portland; Fletcher Linn, of Portland; Dr. Henry Marquette, of Portland; Carlton E. Sox, of Albany, and William Fortmiller, of Albany.

Nothing Stops This Man

The man with vigorous, virile health, and a clear mind, who brushes away obstacles, and rejoices in overcoming difficulties, is bound to succeed. His is the joyous outlook on life.

Physical and mental conditions like these come largely through proper eating—"Food makes the man."

Now it is a fact—attested by food experts—that the modern dietary is woefully lacking in the very elements that put success into a man. They are the mineral salts—Phosphate of Potash, etc. White bread is almost wholly lacking in them. But there is one food that richly supplies these vital elements, and that food is

Grape-Nuts

Made from whole wheat and barley, Grape-Nuts contains all the nutriment of the grain, including the valuable mineral salts. It is easily digested, is concentrated and has delicious taste. A daily ration of Grape-Nuts along with other food helps build vigorous bodies and keen brains.
