

MUTS ARRANGE FOR SHOW'S LAST NIGHT

Close of Displays Is to Be Marked by Parade and "Coronation" Features.

AUCTION TO HELP NEEDY

Surplus Supplies Are to Be Sold to Highest Bidder and Money Used in Relief Work—Dog Show Attraction in Afternoon.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME, CLOSING THE MANUFACTURERS' AND LAND PRODUCTS SHOW. Closing day. Muta night and mut dog show—W. P. Strandborg, chairman. Afternoon. Doors open 1 P. M. 2 to 4:30 P. M.—Tigano's band. 5 to 8 P. M.—Kaufmann and motion pictures in free theater. 8 P. M.—Boy Scouts' band, under Robert King. Evening. 7:15 P. M.—Benching entries in mut dog show in ballroom. 8 to 10:30 P. M.—Tigano's band. 8 P. M.—Formal opening mut dog show. 8 P. M.—Mut auctioneers unlimber for action. (Proceeds of sales to help the poor.) 9:30 P. M.—Announcement of dog show winners. 9:50 P. M.—Crowning of Mrs. Luella Williams of Sperry flour booth, queen of demonstrators; master of ceremonies, Carl Reiter, manager Opheus Theater. 11 P. M.—Closing of exposition by singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

There will be only one place in Portland tonight, and that will be the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show at the Armory. The Order of Muts has taken over the closing night of the show and has fixed up a final "blaze of splendor" that will make most of the faces look like insignificant tallow candles. The afternoon will, of course, be devoted to general entertainment and closing features, and the Muts, under the leadership of Chief Mut Bill Strandborg, will descend upon the show in a body at night. Besides the attractions offered in the afternoon in the little theater, there will be a concert by the Boy Scouts' band, of 14, who will visit the show under the leadership of Scout Leader Robert King and the Rev. J. D. Corby. In the ballroom, after the Muts will be devoted to completing the arrangements for the mut dog show, which is to be the feature of the evening. Muta, and Bands to Parade. At night the Order of Muts will parade through the streets and draw after them every "live" person in Portland, to witness the closing events of the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show. Efforts are being made to secure a number of bands for service at that time. The Muts will not confine their activities to any one section of the Armory; they will pervade it. The mut dog show will be in the ballroom, and in another time and place the coronation of the most popular demonstrator in the show will be the feature of the evening. Mrs. Luella Williams has been elected most popular demonstrator, and the coronation ceremonies will be under the direction of Chief Mut Strandborg, "champion aggregation of Oriental queen crowners." The actual coronation and the speech of the occasion will be made by Chief Mut Strandborg, of the Orpheum and one of the new stars in the local firmament of Mutton.

And then there will be the general auction sale. The purpose of the auction is to dispose of goods on hand at the close of the show, and the proceeds will go toward the winter holidays of the Muts are raising for the benefit of the poor in the Christmas holidays. There will be 28 auctioneers scattered about the building wherever it is convenient and wherever there is anything to be sold. Ad Club quartet and some others of the most popular singers in the city leading. This feature will definitely mark the passage of the 1915 Manufacturers' and Land Products Show into history. The exhibitors and demonstrators are to hold a party among themselves after the show closes tonight, provided there is anything left them by the Muts, but that isn't to be open to the general public or to anybody who hasn't learned the password or found a friend who knows it.

Storage Law Advocated. Food Commissioner Favors Act to Require Proper Labels. The need of a law regulating cold storage plants and enforcing the labeling of all cold storage food is presented by J. D. Mielke, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, in an article appearing in the October issue of the Oregon Dairy and Food Bulletin. Mr. Mielke says that such a bill will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature. "If the law demanded honest labeling of all cold storage food products and all dealers and retailers, the housewife would soon learn that cold storage is not the bugaboo that it is now looked upon by many, and that proper cold storage and proper handling after cold storage is much safer than much of the present-day 'hen-house storage' and 'barnyard storage'."

Centralia Auction Day Is Here. CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Centralia's 8th monthly auction day will be held tomorrow under the auspices of the Commercial Club. J. H. Roberts, financial secretary of the club, will act as clerk at the sale. Farmers have been invited to list articles for sale, and enough already has been listed to keep the auctioneers busy the entire day.

DOG SHOW TONIGHT

Canines of Every Description to Be Entered.

BLOOD IS DISQUALIFICATION

Boys Go Into Highways and Byways in Search of Mongrelst Type and Youngsters Will Be Guests of Muts After Awards Made.

GIRLS AS WELL AS BOYS MAY ENTER MUT DOGS.

Girls as well as boys are eligible to enter dogs in the mut dog show at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show this evening. The office at the land show has been besieged by girls, who for some reason had obtained the idea that only boys were eligible to enter their pets. "We want the girls and the boys, too, to enter their pets—the more the merrier," said Mr. Strandborg last night.

3D PARTY NOT EXPECTED

Democrat Thinks 1916 Campaign Will Be With Republicans Only.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 12.—A few days before the recent elections, Mr. McComb, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, expressed the conviction that the campaign of 1916 would be fought out between the two big parties, the Republicans and the Democrats. The Progressive party, he said, "has practically disappeared. Most of its members have drifted into the Democratic party."

SHIP SEARCHED FOR FUSE

Piece Found on British ship Turned Over to Authorities.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 12.—Pieces of the fuse were found in No. 2 hold of the British steamer Rio Legion, which was put in here last week with a portion of the cargo of sugar. The fuse was found in a small box, and was turned over to the local officials for further examination. The fuse is composed of a compound of leather and rubber, and a part of it, about a foot in length, was discovered by stevedores. It is believed that the fuse extended almost from the top of the hold to the bottom, and more of it is expected to be found as additional cargo is discharged from that hold. To make sure that no bombs were placed in the other parts of the steamer, the hatches of the other holds will be taken off and an examination of the upper portion of the cargo made.

MAIL THEFT NET SPREADS

Arrests by Government for Looting of Santa Clara Wreck Threaten.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 12.—Scores of arrests growing out of the reported looting of the mail steamer Santa Clara, wrecked a few days ago off Marshfield, Or., while carrying 200 sacks of parcel post matter from Portland to Marshfield, are threatened by the Spokane postoffice inspection department, which has charge of parcel post matter in the entire Northwestern division. A telegraphic report from Inspector P. N. Nell, who was sent to investigate, stated today that only 37 of the 200 sacks of mail had been recovered. Not since 1892, when a mail train was looted in the Coeur d'Alene during the mining riots, has a case of the present magnitude occurred in the Northwest, according to the postal authorities. The Coeur d'Alene case resulted in the indictment of 40 men. The theft or receiving of stolen mail matter is punishable with a maximum fine of $5000, five years in a Federal penitentiary or both, say the postoffice inspectors.

CLUB THRIVES ANEW Reorganization of Chamber at Vancouver Completed. MEMBERSHIP GAINS 250 Paul E. Poindexter, Expert in Charge of Campaign, Finishes Task and Work Will Be Perfected at Meeting Wednesday. VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Paul E. Poindexter, organization expert, who has been working with the reorganization committee of the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce for the past several weeks, has completed his work here and has gone to another point. The re-organization committee, including W. J. Kinney, chairman; Donald McMaster, Chester C. Turley, Charles W. Davis and John H. Elwell, will go ahead with a "follow-up" campaign. During the past several weeks the members of this committee have given a large amount of their time and personal service in reorganizing the Chamber, and at the last two meetings of the club have received a standing vote of thanks for their hard work. The committee was authorized to appoint four other members from the club to assist them in their follow-up campaign. Already about 250 members have been obtained and it is the aim and hope of the club that at least 400 members will be had when the new Chamber of Commerce is in full operation. A meeting of the new members will be held next Wednesday night to perfect the reorganization. The committee also will suggest an outline for by-laws and a constitution for the Chamber. There is more interest being taken in the organization than ever before.

SALES TO FRANCE LIMITED Steel Corporation Withdraws Quotations on Heavy Tonnage. NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Eliert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, issued a statement today confirming reports that the corporation had withdrawn temporarily from the French market quotations on its finished steel products, with certain exceptions. "The United States Steel Products Company," Judge Gary said, "has recalled, temporarily, quotations in the French markets, except as to pipe, tinplate and some specialties that involve small tonnages, for the reason that steel products for delivery in the near future are sold well up to maximum capacity. 'Until the general questions of supply and demand are carefully considered, it is impossible to tell how much surplus we shall have for sale in France for the present.'"

CRIME WARNING IS GIVEN Judge Announces Determination to Deal Severely for Violence. CRIME OF VIOLENCE WILL NOT BE LIGHTLY EXCUSSED THIS WINTER, declared Circuit Judge Gantenbein yesterday. Two alleged highwaymen and two accused burglars had just been arraigned before him. "If this court can do anything to prevent it," said the Judge, "there will be no winter wave of crime in Portland this year. I will deal severely with all those convicted of any crime of violence. All such will go to the penitentiary."

GRESHAM FOLK HERE SEVERAL HUNDRED VISITORS HOLD AUTO PARADE IN CITY. Boring Delegation Swells Crowd at Armory—Schools Take Part in Portland Day Exercises. Gresham, the home of the Multnomah County Fair, atoned for the failure of Multnomah County to have an exhibit at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show by sending a delegation of several hundred citizens yesterday to visit the show in a body. The Gresham delegation was joined by a small delegation from Boring, and the whole party came to Portland by automobile. It was a pageant of fully 100 automobiles decorated with pennants and with signs setting forth the attractions and advantages of Gresham, that made its march through the streets of Portland before the opening of the show in the afternoon, and throughout the remainder of the day the Gresham autos were parked up along the curb for blocks on every side of the Armory. Mayor George Stapleton headed the delegation and the following committee of prominent Gresham citizens handled the event: George F. Honey, Benjamin Cameron, H. L. St. Clair, H. E. Davies and G. M. Zimmerman. The visitors gave no formal programme but spent the afternoon and evening examining thoroughly all of the exhibits shown in the various pavilions. One of the most popular entertainment features offered yesterday afternoon was the four-reel production in motion pictures of the Bendleton Roundup, which was given in the little theater. The series of films closed with the thrilling smashup and runaway in the stagecoach race at the Roundup. All afternoon the little theater was packed while the films were running. The City of Portland, which had its day at the show yesterday also, was represented by several classes sent from the playgrounds of the following committee: J. D. Conville. They held their programme in the auditorium and gave a series of drills, folk dances and games such as are featured in the playground work.
