

OLD ANTI-DUMPING BILL IS REVIVED Administration Proposes to Offer Substitute for Upward Revision of Tariff.

PROVISION DEFEATED ONCE

Special Duty on Cheap Products Lost in Democratic Senate—Republicans Will Fight for Restoration of Protection.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo will oppose any proposal looking to such upward revision of the tariff as will provide ample revenue to run the Government, and likewise they will resist any proposal to utilize the tariff in barring from the United States the contemplated flood of cheap products from Europe after the restoration of peace, if Mr. McAdoo can have his way, there will be but one modification of the Underwood tariff law—the repeal or suspension of the free sugar clause, and late indications are that the President is disposed to approve the tariff ideas of his son-in-law.

Special Duty Provided.

The anti-dumping bill favored by the Administration provided: "That whenever articles are exported to the United States of a kind made or produced in the United States, if the export or actual selling price to the importer of the United States or the price at which such goods are sold, is less than the fair market value of the same article when sold for home consumption in the usual and ordinary course of the country whence exported to the United States at the time of its exportation to the United States, there shall, in addition to the duties otherwise established, be levied and collected and paid on such articles on their importation into the United States a special (or dumping) duty, the amount of the difference between the said export or actual selling price of the article for export, or price at which such goods are sold, and the fair market value thereof, for home consumption, provided that this said special duty shall not exceed 15 per cent ad valorem in any case, and in any case where the duties otherwise established are equal to 50 per cent ad valorem, shall be exempt from such special duty.

"Export price" or "selling price" or "price at which such goods are sold" in this section shall be held to mean and include the exporters' price for the goods, exclusive of all charges thereon after their shipment from the place whence exported directly to the United States.

Republicans Will Oppose. There will be Republican opposition to such an anti-dumping bill, and as a substitute, it will be proposed by the protectionists in Congress to revise generally the tariff upward, thereby increasing American production against out-throat competition from Europe, and at the same time providing revenue to run the Government and to subsidize the war effort. It is estimated that there will be some Democratic sentiment in favor of upward revision of the tariff, rather than the enactment of the contemplated anti-dumping law.

After the restoration of peace, with low wages prevailing abroad, and with low prices made necessary as a result of the war, European exporters will be able to sell in American markets cheaper than ever before, even though they sell in the United States at a price lower than they are getting at home. That being true, protectionists will assent the Administration bill on the ground that it will not operate as an anti-dumping law, but will enable European exporters to sell in this country for the same price they get in their home markets.

CANADA SUFFERS BY WAR Stringency in Finances and in Labor Is Notable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—"The extent to which Canada has suffered by reason of the European war can only be appreciated by a visit to the Dominion and observation of the conditions," remarked F. A. Sutherland, of Detroit, Mich., at the Raleigh. "It is seen in the reduced output of the big railway and other corporations; in the thousands of men seeking admission to the home guards, which promises no glory, but only the $1.10 a day; in the thousands of empty houses in Toronto; in the deficit of about $3,000,000 that the city of Montreal is facing; in Quebec, where real estate has depreciated greatly in value, but most of all it is observable in the official reports.

"A short time ago I read a report issued by the Department of Trade and Commerce, which disclosed that in the last year imports had fallen from close to $200,000,000 to less than $150,000,000, a drop of nearly 25 per cent. This is explained by the cutting off of trade with Germany and Austria-Hungary, which until the beginning of the war had been increasing rapidly and had actually quadrupled between 1908 and 1912.

LOOKING FOR WORK Everywhere men complain about work; even boys and girls in school or business find work tedious and irksome, but it isn't the work half so much as their own lack of physical strength that makes it hard.

Rich blood, strong lungs and healthful digestion make work pleasurable in business, in school or even housework, and if those who are easily tired—who are not sick, but weak and nervous—would just take Scott's Emulsion for one month and let its pure concentrated food create richer blood to pulsate through every artery and vein—let it build a structure of healthy tissue and give you vigorous strength—you would find work easy and would look for more.
