When Multnomah County decides to build a new hospital the Commissioners first will consider a standing invitation from the medical department of the University of Oregon to erect the structure on the new campus site, overlooking Terwilliger boulevard and the Willamette River. Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, dean of the medical school and member of the board of regents of the university, extended the invitation yesterday while the County Commissioners were in session. Armed with huge rolls of blue prints, drawings and color sketches of the proposed medical center, Dr. Mackenzie told the Commissioners what the school proposed to do, and showed them what property would be available for a hospital.

When the first plans for new medical school buildings in Portland were formulated two years ago, the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company presented the hilltop site to the board of regents of the university for a campus. An appropriation of $50,000 was procured from the state, contingent upon $25,000 additional being raised, for the construction of the first unit of the university buildings. It is planned to begin construction on the first building within the next year. The portion of the campus site devoted to the medical school will be decided to that department. The remainder will be held in trust by the board of regents. Dr. Mackenzie said, and may be given to associations for the purpose of establishing hospitals.

NEW BUREAU VOTED. Mr. Baker Has Municipal Employment Division Created.

OPERATING RULES PASSED. Directors Not to Be Under Civil Service Rule and Are Instructed to Co-operate With Employers in Locating Jobs.

By unanimous vote the City Council yesterday passed an emergency ordinance abolishing the present Municipal Free Employment Bureau and creating a new Public Employment Bureau. The measure was introduced by Commissioner Baker.

Under the provisions of the new ordinance the Bureau will consist of two divisions, one for men and boys and the other for women and girls. A director will be placed in charge of each division and will have such help as is necessary. The ordinance does not specify the salaries, that being left to another ordinance to be presented later. The new Bureau will be established December 1.

Orders Given for Operation. The directors under the provision of the ordinance are required to get in touch with the principal manufacturers, merchants and other employers and gain their co-operation. The directors are authorized also to do some advertising to procure positions. No fee will be charged, and the Bureau will be required to give all available information regarding jobs, including information as to whether or not the job is to be one as strikebreaker.

Originally it was planned to have an advisory board to co-operate with the Bureau, but provision for this was cut out yesterday before the ordinance was passed. Persons failing to take positions after they are tendered will be disqualified from further service from the Bureau unless the refusal to take the position is because of the position being as strikebreaker or because the wage offered is less than the current wage for such work.

Residents to Get Preference. The Bureau is to give preference in all cases to residents of Portland and to married people. Private employment agencies are required to co-operate with the Municipal Bureau to the extent of keeping a register of all applicants for work and all applicants for men to perform work.

Employers or representatives of employers or any employe may file with the Bureau a signed statement with regard to existing strikes or lockouts affecting their trade, which statement is to be exhibited in the Bureau. Commissioner Baker said yesterday he had not definitely decided who will get the jobs of directors of the Bureau. He will name a man and woman for the positions before December 1. C. P. Christensen, who has charge of the present employment bureau, is not to be retained. The directors are not to be subject to civil service, while other employees in the Bureau will be. The Council in the ordinance reserves the right to remove the directors for cause at any time on a majority vote.
