

LAID SHOW NOW IS FACT OF HISTORY

Lights Gradually Die Out on Greatest Exhibition and Crowds Leave for Home.

MUT DOGS ARE FEATURE

Ellsworth Shipley Wins First Prize and Florence Holman Gets Second—Queen is Crowned and Bands Play Everywhere.

"This" was written to the second annual Manufacturers' and Land Products show Saturday night at the Armory and the exhibition was a big success.

During the three weeks of the exhibition it was computed roughly last night that more than 100,000 visited it and saw the myriad varied products on display.

It was a success that is assured it will be an event of each recurring Autumn in Portland.

promptly at 11 o'clock last night the lights were dimmed and all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne"; then the show closed.

It was "Mut" night at the Armory and they made a lasting impression on the crowds by giving them something different.

Mut Dogs Attract Thousands. The Mut Dog Show in the Armory last night was the outstanding feature of the evening.

In between were every possible variety of dogs of low degree—perfectly good dogs, most of them, but sadly lacking as to blue blood and pedigree.

It took a remarkably keen eye to pick out the best points in the collection of dogs that were brought by boys and girls of the city to be judged.

Ellsworth Shipley Wins First. It was contended by a few dissatisfied persons that foreign dogs received the preference over the back-alley denizens.

The second prize went to the Irkutsk seeger pointer benched by Florence Holman, Henry Meek, with his whiffle fish retriever Dan, won third prize, and the dodo pointer shown by Howard Rabbe took fourth money.

Other Prizes Awarded to 36. There were waffle pointers and chum hounds and many other dogs whose breed was not so clear.

Queen is Crowned. There was a band concert in the main exhibit pavilion by the band from 8 to 10:30, while other bands came to aid the Muts' celebration that were of a more or less of their nature.

Queen of the Muts. The Muts' queen, Mrs. Luella Williams, was crowned by the band.

Tuberculosis Week Set. The week beginning December 5 will be Tuberculosis week in Portland and all over the country.

EXTENSIVE CAMPAIGN FIXED, BEGINNING DECEMBER 5. Special Days Designated to Aid in the Fight Against Disease All Over Country.

The week beginning December 5 will be Tuberculosis week in Portland and all over the country. It is a week set aside for an extensive campaign to secure within that time a presentation of the subject of tuberculosis before the greatest possible number of people in the United States.

During this time it is planned to place before every church, school and club a knowledge of the disease and its prevention.

The days especially designated are: Medical examination day, December 5; children's health day, December 10, and tuberculosis Sunday, December 12.

The day is non-denominational and has received the endorsement of all the leading churches in America. Last year 100,000 churches helped to spread the good gospel on Tuberculosis Sunday.

day. During that week the children in the public schools in many cities honor the time with essays, orations and plays on matters of public health.

During the week and all through the holidays the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is active in the distribution of Red Cross seals.

WALLACE McCAMANT IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ALUMNI. Higher Educational Institutions in Many Parts of Country Are Represented at Gathering.

College spirit and good fellowship prevailed Saturday night at the annual University of business meeting of the Portland Alumni Club of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity at the Benson Hotel.

Wallace McCamant acted as toastmaster, among those responding were Ralph Wilbur and A. C. Shaw.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows: Wallace McCamant, president; Miles Standish, vice-president; Wilbur Howell, secretary; W. M. Huntington, treasurer; E. P. Cornell, chaplain.

Those present at the meeting were the universities and colleges which they represent follow: Wallace McCamant, University of Oregon; W. P. Conroy, University of Missouri; H. B. Beckitt, University of Oregon; H. B. Beckitt, University of Oregon; H. B. Beckitt, University of Oregon.

It took a remarkably keen eye to pick out the best points in the collection of dogs that were brought by boys and girls of the city to be judged.

There was, of course, some harsh comment directed against the placing of first honors.

GIRL OF CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Robert Schiffbauer Arrested at Reno on Portland Warrant.

SCORNED BRIDE IS ANGRY

Eleanor McAllister Alleges That Man She Wed Here Already Has Wife in Los Angeles and Now Has Left With Another.

The old adage concerning the fury of a scorned woman was amply verified Saturday night by pretty Eleanor McAllister, 1641 Patton avenue, when she learned that the man she says married her and deserted her four days later had in fact wed another.

The girl says that Schiffbauer, 33 years old, was arrested on a charge of polygamy. The girl is an orphan, only 17 years old. She formerly was a student at the Benson High School.

The charges against Schiffbauer were first brought before the police when Eleanor McAllister had Mrs. Minnie Spaulding, 642 East Oak street, arrested on a charge of bigamy.

The McAllister girl says that she was married to Schiffbauer by the Rev. W. E. Hinson, pastor of the White Temple. The marriage culminated a courtship of several years.

The police say that the first Mrs. Schiffbauer, of Los Angeles, was given the divorce by the court in Los Angeles, where she lived.

MAN HANGS SELF IN TREE Farm Worker at Raymond Scorns River or Razor for Suicide.

RAYMOND, Wash., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—The body of a stranger, who reportedly walked over the trail from Aberdeen and gave his first name as Alec, was found Saturday hanging from the branches of a tree in Willapa. He worked for a couple of days on a farm and Wednesday night asked for a gun, saying he had lived too long.

Being refused, he climbed a tree, tied his suspenders about his neck and stepped off a limb. The body was hanging directly over the road but was hidden by branches, and searchers failed to notice it until this morning. Although within a few feet of the river and with razor and pocket knife the stranger went to considerable trouble to hang himself.

PLOT CHARGE DENIED Austrian Embassy Calls ex-Consul's Story Blackmail.

MONEY DEMAND RELATED Dr. Gorlick Said to Have Offered to Discontinue Utterances on Payment of Monthly Allowance of $20 or $30.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Baron Erich Zwiednick, charge of the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, called at the State Department today and denied in person for his government the published charges of Dr. Gorlick, formerly of the Austrian consular service, that Austrian consulates in the United States were "hotbeds of propaganda" for fomenting strikes in munitions plants.

After the charge's conference with Acting Secretary Phillips at the State Department, the Austro-Hungarian Embassy gave out a statement declaring that Dr. Gorlick offered to discontinue his utterances against Austria-Hungary if he were allowed a monthly sum of money. It characterized Dr. Gorlick as "one of those happily very limited number of Austro-Hungarian officials who impressed with the over-optimistic combinations of power forming a threatening circle around the two central powers, thought it best to join the outbreak of the war to leave in time what they thought a sinking ship and offer their services to the other side."
