BAR VIEW, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)

Waves sweeping in from the sea before a high wind at low tide this morning washed the Bar View Hotel, a number of summer cottages and other buildings along the waterfront out to sea and did damage that some have estimated in the thousands.

No one was injured when the buildings were lifted from their foundations and washed out along the shore. The high waves were seen from the shore and cottagers and residents at the hotel fled to higher ground, and tonight are being sheltered in the homes of neighbors out of reach of the waves.

Telephone Lines Are Down.

Telephone and telegraph lines are down in many places tonight, the light plant has been dismantled by the water and the lines in darkness. The waves are still running high and other cottages are being undermined by the water, among them the $1500 log cabin belonging to Captain Farler.

Among other buildings damaged are the bakery, owned by Mrs. Tobias; the confidence, bowling alley and Mitchell hall belonging to R. E. Jackson and several small buildings. The loss of which will be slight.

A large dance hall near the shore was not damaged.

Section of Coast Washed Out.

A heavy west wind is blowing the waves directly upon the coast and it is estimated that during Monday and Tuesday 50 feet of the shore was washed away. This was particularly pronounced along the section of shore lying between the Government jetty at the mouth of Tillamook Bay and the Bar View Hotel.

The Government jetty is also feeling the effects of the unusual storm and it is reported that several sections have been damaged. It will be impossible to tell the extent of the wreckage until the storm subsides.

The effects of the storm began to make itself felt yesterday morning, about 6:30 a.m., when huge waves swept onto the shore and knocked the Bar View Hotel from the supports upon which it had been raised preparatory to being moved.

Railroad Also Suffers.

From that time the sea began to beat ever the hotel and though the waves were not strong enough to wash the building entirely into the ocean it was wrecked and is expected to be a total loss. The hotel is valued at $1000 and was insured for fire, but not against destruction by the sea.

By noon the waves reached several cottages and wrecked them and also washed away the depot of the Southern Pacific Company. This was a small building, and also was occupied by the Wells-Fargo express office and the Western Union telegraph office. Shortly before the depot was reached by the waves the offices were moved to another building further up the shore.

Rock Sea Wall Is Being Built.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, whose line to Tillamook runs through Bar View, is one of the heavy losers as the result of the storm. Not only was the depot destroyed, but the track through Bar View was flooded for many feet and serious damage done to the roadbed.

The railroad company put on a crew of 24 men and three trains hauling rock for a seawall off the coast in the hope of stopping the inroads of the waves.

ORPHAN BABY IS

Mrs. Percy Proctor Offers to Provide for Tiny Belgian Refugee Entry to New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A 15-month-old Belgian girl baby, known as Jeanne, who came here by the way of England, was today ordered deported by immigration officials. The deportation order was made notwithstanding an offer by Mrs. Percy Proctor, formerly Baroness Nodine von Kieff, to adopt the baby.

When Jeanne arrived on the St. Paul yesterday, in custody of a woman passenger not her mother, she was stopped at Ellis Island. Mrs. Proctor's plea that she would adopt the child was declared by the board of special inquiry to be insufficient.

An attorney for Mrs. Proctor said an appeal would be made to Washington to permit Jeanne to remain here.

Greek Objection to Prox-

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Instead of declaring a general blockade of the Greek ports, the allies, according to a statement issued by the British Foreign Office today, have withdrawn, or threatened to withdraw, the special privileges which Greek commerce has enjoyed since the outbreak of the war.

What those special privileges are is not specifically detailed, but, as an example, Greece has been allowed to draw her supplies of coal from Welsh collieries. To do this, Greek merchants required special permits, as the export of coal from the British Isles is allowed only under a special license.

Privileges to Be Discontinued.

There are many other commodities, the export of which is permitted only to certain countries. Invariably when orders have been issued against the export of such commodities Greece has been among the countries excepted.

Now, unless she concedes the demands made by the allies for assurances for the safety of their troops in the Balkans, Greece will be struck off the list of countries which have these privileges.

While this less vigorous attitude on the part of the allied governments has caused some dissatisfaction in some quarters where strong measures are advocated, the belief now prevails that Greece, having been impressed by Lord Kitchener's visit and the threat to her commerce, will concede the demands.

Testimony Advance Delayed.

Of the fighting in the Balkans, the reports for the Austro-German and Bulgarian troops recount the capture of thousands of prisoners and many guns from the Serbians. From the towns mentioned, however, their advance appears slow. It may be, as reported from Italian sources, that the campaign is waiting on a change in the disposition of the armies, so that the Germans may be the first to enter Monastir. This would avoid the trouble likely to arise through Greek objection to Bulgarian occupation of the city which is so near the border.

Dispatches from Athens, however, say that the delay is due to the fact that the Serbians have defeated the Bulgarians who were advancing on the (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—In the alleged conspiracy of several Hamburg-American steamship line officials to deceive and defraud the United States by sending neutral relief ships with coal and other supplies to German men-of-war in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans at the beginning of the European war, Captain K. Boy-Ed, German naval attaché with headquarters at the German embassy in Washington, remained a leading role according to witnesses who testified in the Federal Court here today.

One of these witnesses swore that Captain Boy-Ed personally directed the expenditure of approximately $750,000, which, uncollected and unexpected, had been deposited to the witness' credit in a New York banking-house early in September, 1914.

Payments of Money Traced.

Of this money, the witness testified, $250,000 was telegraphed to the Nevada National Bank at San Francisco in one lump sum; $212,000 was paid, in several amounts, to the North German Lloyd steamship line here; about $75,000 to the Hamburg-American line here, and by cable money order in Hamburg, and some of the remainder was still on hand. All of these disbursements, the witness asserted, were made by order of Captain Boy-Ed.

This witness, Gustave B. Kulenkampff, a German importer and exporter with offices here, and others testified in the trial of Dr. Karl Suenz, Adolph Hachmeister, George Kotter and Joseph Poppinhaus, all officials of the Hamburg-American line, who are charged with conspiracy.

Treaties Declared Ignored.

The testimony, which opened the Government's case, followed a short address to the jury by Roger B. Wood, Assistant United States District Attorney, in which Mr. Wood said that the Government would show that "the defendants' code roused over the laws and treaties of the United States as contemptuously as if those laws and treaties had been mere scraps of paper."

William Rand, counsel for the defendants, offered to concede certain charges of the Government involving 12 steamers, and in his concession admitted Dr. Benz and his assistants had begun.
