

ACTORS ARE FAR FROM HOME TODAY

Few Lucky Ones Will Have Real Thanksgiving With Relatives Here.

MANY PARTIES PLANNED

Player Folk Will Eat Turkey at Hotel Grills and Pass Holiday Making Others Happy by Special Performances.

Thanksgiving is accepted by Americans generally as the one day in the year when members of families gather round the home fireside and share the bounty of the family dinner table. It is essentially a "home" day, and luckless indeed the wight who spends it on a train or far, far from the family circle.

There is one set of Americans, however, who give thanks if they find themselves in even the vicinity of home. They are the playfolk, and Thanksgiving finds them usually a thousand leagues from home.

There's many a plain little gray cottage in middle-class Middle Western hills enshrined in the memory today of plays and performers. Never, so much as on Thanksgiving day is there no place like home.

As a matter of fact the Thanksgiving day dinner means very little in the life of the actor far away from home. For this day is one of the most profitable in the theatrical business. Attendance is always big at matinee and night performances.

There are fewer actors in Portland today than during seasons that have passed. But the big stars of folk at the Baker stock company, the Orpheum, the Lyric, provide a colony of earnest endeavorers who, if they cannot know the joys of a Thanksgiving dinner, will try to make up for it by having a merry little after-play supper party.

So, here's to the player people! If they do not, share in Portland's Thanksgiving celebration today at least they help to make the holiday happier.

Baker Players Lay Plans

The Baker Players for the most part are going to spend Thanksgiving at their homes or apartments. Edward C. Woodruff, Walter Regan, Frances McHenry and Mary Edgett Baker are to be guests at a family party in the home of friends.

Miss Townsend dines with her parents. Judge and Mrs. Lighter, at the National. Her first Thanksgiving dinner at home in a half-dozen years. John Humes, Elizabeth Ross, Will Lloyd, Walter Gilbert, Henry Hall, Walter Stiergied and Mammie Hall are to eat turkey dinner at the hotel grill. William Dilla, Nancy Curran, Gladys Morgan, Ray Johnson, Curry Jones and Sidney Isaac all will have their dinners among their own home-folks.

Thanksgiving in general will be gay for the 25 members of the Orpheum show. Nocturnal and her traveling company, Edith Bethel, will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Parvin at Thanksgiving dinner at the Multnomah Hotel. Mrs. Nelson Hall, the hostess, has invited her entire company to dine with her at Hotel Portland. A feast of a caterer will be enjoyed by the nine girls of Hall's Dancers, who are in the city for the Thanksgiving party. They and the Flying Wrens duo will eat their holiday turkey together after the matinee.

Hotel Grills Get Some

"General" Ed Lavine, Mrs. Lavine and Hall, Harrison and his assistant, will have their Thanksgiving party at one of the downtown hotels, and Lew Hawkins. "The Chatterbox" of Minn. strategy, who is accompanied on his vaudeville tour by Mrs. Hawkins, will enjoy the day at the Imperial.

The four Warren sisters—Betty, Alice, Hilda and Frieda—of Portland will dine at their home at 284 Hamilton street and special preparations have been made in honor of the beginning of the realization of the girls' vaudeville ambitions.

Maurice Barrymore Smith, dean of Portland's stage doctoreds, will be the guest of Henry Bettman, of the Oregon orchestra.

A nice, big Thanksgiving party has been arranged for all the performers on the Orpheum bill, to take place on the stage after the second show last night, which will be conducted by Jim (Slim) Williams, the stage manager, and assisted by his entire working crew. There will be a jolly gathering which will include Edith Lovett and Mabel Wyatt, Otis Carey, Mumford and Thompson, Happy Jack, Gardner, C. Ward, Bruce, P. Gallagher, Edna Beard, Ames and Corbett, Raymond and Robinson and John Fribourg, of the "Original Art Beautiful."

Stag Dinner Arranged

Frank O'Neill, of the Prosperity Eight at Pentagon, will be the guest of C. Cowan, H. H. Hall to dine at the home of Robert Craig. The remaining six are to have a bachelor dinner at the apartment of one of their number, O'Neill, on Hill, Hume and Main, will be the guests of local friends. Bates and Hayes will have a spread in their apartment, and John and Jennie Yank are going to a grill. So are the Society girls.

At the Lyric there is to be continuous shows, and Dillon and King are planning their big holiday party for after the day's work at midnight.

Charlie Kelly is to have dinner with his mother, the first time they have been together in years. Grace Allen, the legende, is also to be Mrs. Kelly's guest.

"MURDER" IS DOUBTED

Confessor, Hurt by Automobile, Is Believed Insane.

"Bring on a priest! Bring me a priest!"

This cry, uttered by Joseph Grimes, an English laborer, as he lay tossing on a cot in the Emergency Hospital yesterday, was the first intimation the authorities received of the man's confession that he had murdered a man while robbing him in Seattle six months ago. The police doubt the statement, however, and are holding Grimes under a tentative charge of insanity pending an investigation.

Grimes was injured slightly in an automobile accident yesterday morning, and was taken to the hospital for treatment.

During the day, the patient became hysterical. Toward evening he asked for the clergyman.

Then he told the steward that he had murdered a man for his money on the Seattle waterfront. Grimes said that he had come from Alaska with three men with whom he had worked in a cannery. Grimes and two of his companions spent their money for liquor. When they were penniless, the man says that they attempted to rob the third companion.

Grimes says the man made a desperate fight, and that he shot him during the affray.

Detectives Maloney and Swensen and County Jailor Hurlburt questioned the man, but are inclined to doubt his story. Pending a further investigation, Grimes is held in the County Jail on a charge of insanity.

DEPUTY IS EXONERATED

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS INQUEST OVER GEORGE JOHNSON'S VICTIM.

Unidentified Man Shot at Vancouver Was Walking Arsenal and Fired Three Times at Officer.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—George Johnson, deputy sheriff, who Monday night, in the railroad yards, killed an unknown "yeggman" in a duel, was exonerated from all blame by a coroner's jury, composed of Charles A. Blarock, foreman; John Fues, Gladys White, Mrs. W. E. W. Haderick and Gordon Stuart.

The inquest was conducted by W. S. T. Dorr, Justice of the Peace, and J. O. Blair, County Attorney. At the Knapp funeral chapel, Johnson told how the shooting took place, and Hoyt Blair, another deputy sheriff, corroborated his statements. Minter Barbeau, Chief of Police, who was there shortly after the shooting, also testified. The jury was out but a few minutes.

While an effort has been made, no clue to the man has been found leading to the identity of the dead man, in whose possession were found eight sticks of dynamite, percussion caps, flashlights, brass, wire and rifle, and cartridges for his revolver. He fired three times at Johnson, and tried to shoot again, but the shell did not explode.

The victim was a good-looking young man, about 25 or 26 years old, fine and well-combed deep hair, square forehead, regular features, five feet six inches tall and weighed about 150 pounds.

MOVIES TO ASK NEW ACT

BOARDS OF APPEALS TO BE REQUIRED OF COUNCIL.

Amendments to Ordinance to Be Presented Soon—Mayor Albee to Oppose Change.

The City Council will be asked to amend the city motion picture censorship ordinance so as to provide some sort of appeal from the decisions of the censorship board. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by D. H. Cohen, representing the motion picture interests which have appealed to the Chamber of Commerce for assistance in taking away the present financial burden of the censor board decision.

The amendments are being considered at present and will be ready for submission to the Council within a few days. Cohen says that the change will make a hard fight to win their point. It is expected the question will become an important issue before the Council.

Mr. Cohen says the people he represents do not care particularly what form of appeal is provided so long as there is an appeal. "We would be satisfied with one of the judges or all of the judges or a committee," said Mr. Cohen yesterday.

Mayor Albee is opposed to the board of appeals. Under the present system, said the Mayor yesterday, "the pictures are viewed by persons selected by the censorship board for that purpose or perhaps by a member of the board. If a dispute arises regarding the decision of the viewers the theater people have the right to appeal to the board as a whole."

STATE WARDS TO FEAST

NO THANKSGIVING DINNER ARRANGED FOR SALIM HOSPITAL.

Edibles Are Prepared by Ten and Penitentiary Prisoners Will Share in Festivities.

SALIM, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—The biggest Thanksgiving dinner in Oregon will be served tomorrow by the state to the 1000 patients and 200 employees of the Oregon state hospital.

In preparation for the event, 700 chickens, turkeys and ducks paid the death penalty today and the hospital gardens contributed heavily of their products for the enjoyment of the patients and employees. With the exception of turkey, the flour used in the making of cakes, pies and bread, all of the edibles were produced on the hospital farm.

The Thanksgiving dinner menu as given by Dr. R. Lee Steiner, superintendent, follows: 337 chickens, weighing 1320 pounds; 153 ducks, weighing 675 pounds; 11 turkeys, weighing 120 pounds; 110 gallons of giblets, 100 gallons of plum pudding, 100 gallons of cabbage, 130 gallons of soup, 140 gallons of tea, 225 pounds of celery, 160 pounds of cold slaw, 540 pounds of fruit cake, 250 pumpkin pies, 1200 loaves of bread, 180 dozen eggs, 45 bushels of apples, 100 gallons of cider and 20 bushels of potatoes.

At the Penitentiary the 332 prisoners will be treated to a big dinner and in the morning a picture and entertainment in the prison theater. Special dinners and entertainment also will be featured at other state institutions.

CHAMBER NOMINATES FOUR

Vancouver Body Organizes and Elects Three Directors.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—The new Chamber of Commerce organized here with the election tonight of three directors from the various countries in the following were nominated for the presidency, the election to take place on the evening of December 1.

J. L. Sutherland, W. B. Bonekamp, Lloyd Duffin and W. G. Drowley.

SHIP-PURCHASE BILL IN FOR FIGHT

Poll Indicates Administration Will Be Defeated by Narrow Margin in House.

10 TAMMANYITES OPPOSE

Nine Other Democrats Counted in Negative, While Only 13 in All Are Required if Measure Is to Be Passed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(Special.)—John Callan O'Loughlin, in a dispatch from Washington to the Herald, says that President Wilson and his Administration are leading for their fight in Congress over a bill they will present providing for the creation of a Government merchant marine.

The President and Mr. McAdoo, his Secretary of the Treasury, are absolutely confident both Houses of Congress will pass the measure. They believe that producers have been impressed by their experience with the necessity of prompt provision of vessels to carry their goods to foreign markets and that they will use their influence with Senators and members of Congress to secure the adoption of the Administration's plan.

Changes made in the bill which failed in the last Congress obviate, it is asserted, many objections which were raised, and it is argued there will not be the excuse for rejection which was advanced during the session a year ago.

Democrats Reluctant to Reply.

In order to ascertain the feelings of Congress on the bill, the Administration's measure, the Herald sent the following question to each member of the Senate and House:

"Do you favor the Administration's ship purchase bill?"

No eager desire was manifested by Democrats to answer this question. In the House, with the exception of New York and the other Tammany members, and Bailey of Pennsylvania, and Gordon of Ohio, make no secret of their hostility to the Administration bill.

The Democrats have a majority of only 22 in the House, with the exception of the other Tammany members, 12 Democrats voting with the unified opposition would be sufficient to defeat the measure. The ship purchase bill indicates that the Tammany members, who are an independent, and Miller of Pennsylvania, Republican, will support the Administration bill.

Ten Tammany Men in Negative.

The votes of 12 Democrats are required, therefore, if the bill is to be passed. Tammany controls 15 votes in the House. Ten of these will be cast against the bill, according to the Herald's estimate. With them in opposition besides Gordon and Bailey will be Kitchin and George of North Carolina, Morrison and McLean of California, and Clayton of Texas, and Saunders of Virginia.

STURGIS HOME IS HAPPY

RETURN OF SON, THOUGHT DEAD, BRIGHTENS THANKSGIVING.

Aged Father and Mother Recover Partially From Shock and Are Able to Join in Festivities.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Sturgis, of Canby, was a happy one yesterday, because the body in the family plot at the Canby Oddfellows' Cemetery is not that of Charles Sturgis, their son. But the observation, she said, that the parents have not yet fully recovered from the shock of his unexpected return after all thought him dead and a body, identified as his, was buried.

"It will be a happy Thanksgiving for us," exclaimed Mr. Bertha Hurst tonight. "We are so happy because Charles, who was a happy one, longed for us, and he has been turned to joy."

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sturgis were able to leave their beds for the first time yesterday, but are still weak from the shock. Charles Sturgis will not be taken back to the State Hospital for the insane, said Mrs. Hurst tonight. When it would be decided, said she, she did not know, but the family does not intend to let it remain in the family plot after burying it May 17 as Charles Sturgis, she said, was still weak from the shock.

The body was taken to the present an investigation would be held in an attempt to learn whose body it was and the cause of death.

The body was found at 23 at Marcola, on the Wandering branch of the Southern Pacific, near Eugene, interred after Lane County authorities were unable to identify it. It was taken from the ground and identified as Charles Sturgis, a missing inmate of the State Hospital for the insane.

CHAMBER TO HAVE VOTE

NATIONAL BODY SEEMS TO SUBSTITUTE LAW FOR WAR.

Referendum Is Sent to All Allied American Organizations, Covering Also Trade Proposals.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce, as an affiliated member of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, has received for consideration two statements in a referendum on the new law for the National organization. One deals with plans for the substitution of international law for war in settlement of international disputes, and the other deals with plans for improving the commercial representation of the United States abroad.

Six recommendations are embodied in the first referendum. Not only will the Chambers of Commerce in the United States vote upon them, but also the American Chambers of Commerce in Berlin, Paris, Constantinople and Milan, and the American Chamber of Commerce in Rio Janeiro. The committee preparing the statement for the referendum is headed by E. A. Filene, of Boston.

One recommendation advanced is for the United States to take the initiative to secure conferences among neutral countries to define and enunciate rules which will at all times give due protection to life and property on the high seas. Secondly, it is recommended that this country take the initiative in joining other nations for the establishment of an international court, and, thirdly, in forming a council of conciliation for the handling of questions that arise which do not depend upon rules already established in international law.

Forty-five days will be allowed for the various members of the National Chamber to vote on this referendum.

The second referendum submitted outlines suggestions for the increase of the commercial service of the United States abroad for the purpose of making it possible for American business to grasp and handle better the peculiar opportunities that present world conditions present to it.

SALMON PACK MODERATE

Past Season at Lincoln County Ports Unusually Poor.

NEWPORT, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—The salmon-fishing season just closed has been the poorest for years in Lincoln County. This industry is carried on in four rivers and bays in the county, and furnished employment for a large number of men.

The fish caught on Salmon River are shipped to McMinville, and from there reach the Portland market. There has been no cannery in operation on Yaquina Bay for several seasons owing to the scarcity of the fish therein, and the fish caught there are also shipped to outside dealers.

On Siletz Bay a cannery is operated by the Elmore Company, and they report only a moderate pack. At Westport there are two canneries operated respectively by the Elmore Company and the F. S. Barnes Company, of Portland.

The packs at both these plants are much under those of last season. These canneries expect to can crabs between now and the opening of the steelhead salmon season, on December 10.

INDIAN ANGLER ARRESTED

Three Charges Involved in Case Being Heard at Newport.

NEWPORT, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—An action over a violation of the fishing laws of the State of Oregon is being heard here today.

Henry Curt, a Siletz Indian, was arrested last week for selling salmon without a dealer's license; for selling salmon from a bank to bank on Salmon River, and for fishing without a license.

Curt is well-to-do and is prepared to carry the case to the highest courts. Curt's contention is that when the Government made a treaty with the Siletz Indians it granted to them and their descendants certain privileges and immunities for fishing.

The county records show that Curt has taken his land in severalty from the Government and has been given a license to fish in the state and county elections and has been for several years one of the judges of election in the Otis precinct.

HORSE IS MIRED TO NECK

Patrolman and Three Trustees Drag Animal From Rain-Soaked Street.

Though no holes showed in the street fill over a water main at Glenn avenue and East Lincoln street had been turned by heavy rains into a vast sea of mud. More than a score of men hauled out of the People's Market walked into it yesterday morning.

The horse was about eight feet deep, and by the time a rescuing party in the shape of Patrolman Ed Burke and three trustees from the City Jail had reached the horse, the horse had submerged himself by his struggles until only his head showed above the mud.

A piece of cordwood laid across the trench supported the horse's head until ropes could be attached to his body by one of the trustees, who plunged into the mud. More than a score of men hauled out of the ropes and the horse was at last pulled out.

FORECLOSURE IS HALTED

Salem Judge Rules Management Under Receiver Is Satisfactory.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—That her property might be saved to her and because the management of the estate under the receiver is held satisfactory, Circuit Judge Galloway today refused to set aside his order for hearing evidence in a suit to foreclose a mortgage against the property of Mrs. Fannie Hubbard, of this city.

Judge Galloway informed attorneys for the creditors that the receiver's reports show the property is being paid for by the estate. Under a writ of habeas corpus, said he, a writ of habeas corpus is obtained, said he would hear no evidence for at least a year. The Hubbard building, in which is located the Oregon Electric depot here, is included in the estate.

CHURCH AD FILLS HOUSE

Eugene Pastor Finds Newspaper Space Good Investment.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—It pays to advertise, says Rev. Louis H. Cupp, pastor of the First Christian Church in Eugene.

He advertised in both the daily papers last week announcing his Sunday night sermon, delivered especially for young people, and the resulting attendance was the largest he has ever preached to in Eugene, he says, and he announced intention to continue his church advertising.

He estimated that the advertising drew 1000 persons and more than paid for itself.

MANY IN NEWPORT RACE

Three Run for Mayor and Six for City Marshal.

NEWPORT, Or., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—The municipal election, which occurs here December 6, is bringing a host of candidates into the field. There are six candidates for City Marshal and three for Mayor. Mayor Benell is a candidate for re-election; John H. Kelly, ex-Mayor, is another candidate, and William H. Harkness is also being groomed for the race.

In the Marshal's race the contest seems to be between John Frey and J. J. Burdette, both of whom have served as Marshal here.

MARGARET W. GIBBS DIES

Margaret W. Gibbs, widow of the late Addison C. Gibbs, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alexander Muir, 1415 East Stark street.

Mrs. Gibbs was 86 years of age at the time of her death, which came as a result of a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Gibbs was the mother of C. W. Gibbs, of this city. She was born in New York, but had lived in Portland for many years. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SWINDLE IS FOILED

A. C. Smith Arrested in Grain Deal at Tacoma.

CONFESSION IS REPORTED

Prisoner Is Believed Member of Gang and Former Railroad Man; Forging of Way Bills Said to Be Admitted.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—An attempt to swindle P. J. Franks & Co., grain brokers of Tacoma and Seattle, of $7000 was frustrated yesterday afternoon by detectives and Northern Pacific special agents. A. C. Smith, 44, said to be one of a gang, was arrested in Seattle. He is said to have confessed. He gave his home as Davenport, Wash.

"Smith will be prosecuted," said P. J. Franks today. "I don't know who Smith is or where he lives. He appears to have had some experience in the grain business."

Smith told the police he worked alone, but they do not believe him. Smith's plan was to divert shipments of grain in carload lots by means of forged way bills and bills of lading.

The Seattle police say Smith is a former railroad man. They believe he is working with a gang that has been active in the grain business in Portland and two years ago got $2500 from Franks & Co. by a similar trick.

T. A. Franks, manager of the Seattle branch, received a letter from Smith last Saturday, in which it was stated Smith was shipping six cars of wheat for sale. Bills of lading were included, signed by P. J. Franks, Pacific agent at Bozooka, Idaho, from where the wheat was shipped. Monday morning Smith appeared at the office and produced himself, presented a bill of lading for a seventh car. Only two cars had arrived. It was arranged settlement be made Tuesday.

When Smith came to the office Tuesday detectives arrested him. In his confession the police say Smith admitted substituting forged bills of lading in the warehouse of a shanty near Lewiston, Idaho, for real ones left in the shanty a short time by freight conductors. Then he changed the tags on the cars and gave them a new destination. A freight conductor noticed the forgery on one bill of lading and notified railroad detectives through whom arrest was accomplished.

PRISONER MAY BE J. C. YOUNG

Man Is Wanted in Portland for Various Grain Swindles.

It is thought in Portland that "A. C. Smith" is the man who, under the name J. C. Young left Portland the middle of last January, after he had swindled the Columbia Milling Company out of $2400 by causing forged bills of lading for grain that was supposed to come from a brother living near Twin Falls, Idaho.

Young coming to Portland Young first advised him for a young man who was familiar with the grain business and who knew market conditions. A response came from George W. Ford, of the first deal, selling a consignment of oats for $230, that first deal being bona fide and the shipment being made in the open market.
