The agitation over the Sunday closing decisions which have been handed down recently in the different courts is growing stronger each day, and the latest plan which those who oppose Sunday laws have arranged is a series of mass meetings which will be held in the different parts of the state of Oregon and Washington.

RATE STAND REITERATED

CHAMBER PROTECTS RESOLUTION ON ASTORIA TARIFF. Committee Refuses to Make Modification by Cutting Out Clause, Reserving Lower Schedule.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce "stands pat" on its resolution adopted last week regarding the Astoria rates. An effort was made at the meeting of the executive committee of the Chamber yesterday to have the resolution modified by striking out the clause reserving the right to Portland to seek lower rates for itself than the coast terminals, owing to the geographical advantages of Portland's position in comparison to the position of the other cities.

PASTOR IS TO TRY CASE

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE TO BE HEARD BY REV. W. G. ELLIOT. Judge Gantenbein Permits E. H. Loomis to Put Matter up to Minister of Unitarian Church.

A doctor of divinity, instead of a doctor of law, may decide the case of E. H. Loomis, indicted for embezzlement. Circuit Judge Gantenbein yesterday declined to quash the indictment against Loomis, and suggested that the matter be turned over to Rev. W. G. Elliot, of the Unitarian Church, for arbitration.

For 17 years Loomis was an employee of Woodard, Clark & Co. He was a member of the Unitarian Church and taught a Sunday School class. W. F. Woodward, a member of the firm, also belonged to that church.

Recently Loomis was indicted for embezzling $300 of the company's funds. The prosecutors say he admitted that in three years he had taken that amount, a little at a time, and appropriated it to his own use.

Loomis' attorney appeared before Judge Gantenbein yesterday and asked that the indictment be dismissed. He said the whole affair was a mistake, and Mr. Loomis had not embezzled any money. The church affiliation was mentioned during the argument.

"It appears to me," said Judge Gantenbein, "that the church is a good place to settle this matter. I will turn the whole matter over to Doctor Elliot, of the Unitarian Church. He is the proper man to settle this." The indictment, however, still stands.

FACTORY IS LEASED Clothing Manufacturer Plans to Supply Western Field. 500 WILL BE EMPLOYED President of Brownsville Woolen Mills Obtains 10-Year Hold on Cambridge Block—Machinery Is to Be Installed.

For the location of a large clothing factory that will employ a maximum of 500 workers, J. C. Brown, president of the Brownsville Woolen Mills Company, yesterday, through Robert H. Irving, manager of the Corbett estate, signed a ten-year lease on the two-story Cambridge block, that covers land 150 feet square at the southwest corner of Third and Morrison streets.

The first floor of the remodeled building will house finishing goods, the second floor will be given over to a retail clothing store, while the entire lower corner will be used for the various manufacturing departments of the Brownsville Woolen Mills. In addition to the machinery to be installed, the Brownsville Woolen Mills will increase its equipment until the monthly production of the factory will be 100,000 yards of cloth.

The new plant will provide employment for 500 workers, and will be completed in about 180 days, according to a report of the Brownsville Woolen Mills. There is a big bid here in the Northwest for the clothing industry, and I don't see any reason why the monthly production of the factory should not be 100,000 yards.

"My present shop works between 75 and 80 and I have 200 apprentices in the various parts of the country, but with the new plant the production will be increased to 100,000 yards, and I have nearly 1000 apprentices who work each year in Chicago and other Eastern centers for wholesale customers. The factory here in the Northwest for Oregonians are producing and they are working here in the Northwest. In addition to the present store and factory, the Brownsville Woolen Mills will operate a store in the corner of Third and Morrison streets, and a store at North Street, Astoria, and at North Street, Seaside.

Stop and think what this sale means. Ponder on the opportunity it presents, coming as it does, right in the heart of the season! Consider the magnitude of the reductions and the quality of Brownsville clothing—a line of garments honestly and skillfully tailored from tested and pre-shrunk wools in all the staple and novelty patterns. And above all things, remember this—the Brownsville Store is an institution built on the highest merchandising ideals. We are not "closing out" and the usual Brownsville guarantee goes with every article purchased. It's a guarantee we'll respect, for in the bigger Brownsville Store—occupying four entire floors in the Cambridge Building—we want your continued patronage!

Yakima Show Deficit $3700. NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 30.—(Special)—Due entirely to bad weather during the last week, the first Cascade International Stock Show finished with a deficit of $3700, according to a financial statement made by Secretary S. B. Nelson to North Yakima business men yesterday. Stockmen guaranteed to take care of $1000 of the amount, and the business men made up the remainder.

Dreaded An Operation More Than Anything

Tried Fruitola and Traxo and Has Never Since Been Troubled With Gall-stones.

Mrs. Mary E. Franse, whose address is West Point, Neb., box 411, has a very strong endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo. In her letter, Mrs. Franse says: "About ten years ago I was about to undergo an operation for gall-stones when I heard of your medicine. Dreading an operation above everything I determined to try Fruitola and Traxo and have never been sorry I did so, as I have never been troubled with gall-stones since." Fruitola is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs, and one dose is usually sufficient to give ample evidence of its efficacy. It softens the congested masses, disintegrates the hardened particles that occasion so much suffering, and expels the accumulated waste to the great relief of the patient. Following a dose of Fruitola, Traxo should be taken three or four times a day in order to rebuild and restore the system that has been weakened and run down by constant suffering. It is a splendid tonic, acting on the liver and stomach most beneficially.
