

HEALTH POST FILLED

Sanitary Inspector Advanced to Succeed Mr. Beeman.

MAYOR REITERATES STAND

Cutting of Appropriation for Mr. Albee's Bureau is Blamed for Dismissal - Pay-Cut Plan for Marcellus Grows.

Resolving to stand pat on the dismissal of Mr. Beeman from the Health Bureau, Mayor Albee and City Health Officer Marcellus yesterday promoted J. C. Walsh, a sanitary inspector, to the position made vacant by Mr. Beeman's dismissal. His salary was made $100 a month, which was an increase of $5 a month. Mr. Walsh was an old employe of the Health Bureau and is a Spanish-American war veteran.

The proposed ordinance to cut City Health Officer Marcellus' salary in two was prepared yesterday by City Attorney LaRoche and will be before the Council this morning. The measure cannot pass today under the charter provisions, but must go over for two weeks and then go over for 20 days after passage before becoming effective.

While much of the flurry which was caused by the firing of the dismissal of Mr. Beeman before the Council on Wednesday had blown over yesterday, there still was considerable plan-building on the part of Commissioner Daily. It is said an effort was made to find some way by which the Council might discharge Dr. Marcellus. This plan was blasted, however, when Mayor Albee, and not the Council, has power to dismiss Dr. Marcellus. Mr. LaRoche says power is given to the Mayor under the commission charter to appoint and remove his subordinates, subject, however, to the civil service provisions of the charter. Mayor Albee said yesterday that his dismissal of Mr. Beeman was for the good of the service. He said he had cause for removing him and that there was positively no political, retaliation or personal reasons in the case. He said that as far as the charges he personally has against Mr. Beeman are concerned, they do not involve anything of a criminal nature or of a nature involving moral turpitude, but are merely things which have shown Mr. Beeman to have been indiscreet.

Mayor Stands Firm. Night of a City Commissioner to administer the affairs of his department in accordance with the provisions of the city charter in the position Mayor Albee has taken in the dismissal of Mr. Beeman.

He contends that up to this time each Commissioner has had charge of his respective department with power to administer its affairs as he deems for the best interests of the department and the city. He says this is the basis of commission government in Portland and the policy has been adhered to up to this time without incident.

Mayor Albee Asserts Rights. It is contended that the economy plan of the Council majority has been more than followed because, in addition to cutting out the two positions ordered out, the salary of the position of fumigator has been cut down $50 a month.

The Mayor says he has a right to cut out any employe he considers in his judgment to be the best to drop. He says this is his right under the city charter and has been the course of all Commissioners hereafter.

The recent case of C. E. Christensen of the Free Employment Bureau under Commissioner Baker is cited by the Mayor. Mr. Christensen was a civil service employe and had been in the service several years. He was dismissed by Mr. Baker and subsequently appointed without regard to the Council.

11 MORE BARS ASK LICENSE

Saloonmen Say Motive Is Protection Should Prohibition Law Go.

Explaining that their action was merely for their protection and that nothing was wrong with the prohibition law in Oregon, 11 more saloon men yesterday presented applications to City Treasurer Adams for renewal of their saloon licenses next year. An application was filed Tuesday by the Oregon Importing Company.

According to the saloonmen, their only motive is to have on file their applications for license renewal in 1916 in case the prohibition law should be annulled. Those who filed are:

H. McLeod, 435 First street; C. H. Smith and James J. Latta, 225 First street; John Walsh, 201 Second street; J. C. Peterson, 124 First street; Ed. Palander and Fred Meyer, 124 Madison street; M. E. COGS ASKS FOR SHIPS

Additional Service Is Wanted to Care for Holiday Freight.

Additional service between Portland and the Coast Bay country in order that holiday shipments may arrive on time is declared to be the need of ports in Southern Oregon in a letter from merchants there to the secretary of the Oregon Retail Merchants' Association, E. L. Merrick.

Only one boat, the Kilburn, is now maintaining regular service to Marshfield and the other ports interested and she cannot handle the goods now en route to the Coast country. It is said nearly a full cargo now lies waiting transshipment at the city wharves. The Chamber of Commerce and the North Pacific Steamship Company.

PAPER MILLS BUSY

W. P. Hawley, Jr., Returns From Inspection in East.

PLANT TO RUN 24 HOURS

Capacity of Oregon City Mill Also Is to Be Increased 75 Per Cent to Keep Up With Orders Brought About by War.

OREGON CITY, Or., Dec. 2.—(Special.)

Not for years has the paper industry, and all its kindred enterprises, had the rush of business that is now making mills in all parts of the country run at capacity, declared W. P. Hawley, Jr., of the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company, who, with his father, has just returned from their annual trip through the East and Middle West. They were at their offices here for the first time today since their return.

The war has been the salvation of the paper industry, Mr. Hawley believes. Before the conflict in Europe had shut off all importation of paper and pulp from those countries and Canada, the paper industry was dead, he declared, a 3 mills that were not closed were working only part time.

'LITTLE THEATER' READY

DRAMA LEAGUE PLAYHOUSE WILL BE OPENED SATURDAY.

Programs Specially for Children Will Be Given, as Well as Films Adapted for Little Folks.

Under the auspices of the Drama League a theater with programmes designed especially for children will open Saturday at Twenty-third and Washington streets. It will be known as "The Little Theater."

The aim is to give programmes suitable to children. The initial expense has been met by the league, and the directors are enthusiastically working to make the enterprise a success. Saturday there will be motion pictures shown between 2 and 3 o'clock. Each picture will be of a variety that will attract and please the children. There will be three performances. Miss Ruth Creed will sing songs for little folks between 3 and 4 o'clock. The fairy classic, folk stories, travel, historical and science stories will be featured.

APPEAL BOARD OPPOSED

Movie Censors Contend That Creation of New Body Is Needless.

Although not openly opposed as yet to the creation of a board of motion picture censorship appeals, the picture censorship board at a meeting yesterday indicated that the creation of such an appeal board will be vigorously opposed. It was contended at the meeting that the censorship board is a board of appeals as it stands and there is no need for still another board.

FILMS IN EXTENSION WORK

President Foster, of Reed, Announces Departure in Courses.

Educational moving pictures are the latest departure in the way of extension courses to be given by Reed College.

President Foster, who recently returned from the East, announced that one of the big agencies has 60 reels of available films which will be enough for an extension course of ten complete programmes.

The "movies" will deal with such subjects as: Science, geography, geology, botany, current events, manufacturing processes. Also, in order that the programme may not seem too pedantic, there will be one comedy and one drama reel in each programme.
