

REALTY MEN WANT 1.8-MILL ROAD TAX

After Hearing Debate Only One Member Advocates Pruning Levy to 1.2 Mills.

OBJECTION IS HARD TIMES

Mr. MacNaughton Congratulated on Presentation of Case, but Views of Mr. Yeon That Good Roads Mean Wealth Are Indorsed.

After listening to arguments pro and con by John B. Yeon and E. R. MacNaughton, respectively, the Portland Realty Board yesterday unanimously indorsed the stand taken by Mr. Yeon...

Only one member of the board, representative of the Kamm estate, supported the 1.2-mill levy advocated by Mr. MacNaughton. Although the sentiment of the meeting was overwhelmingly in favor of the side represented by Mr. Yeon, all present congratulated Mr. MacNaughton for the majority way which he presented...

The committee in its 1.2-mill levy plus $40,000 other income has allowed more for general road development than ever before, barring the two years of the highway construction, when a particular and unique piece of road building was in construction...

The speakers were introduced by O. W. Taylor, chairman of the highway committee of the board, and James M. Kyle, Mayor of Stantfield, preceded the debaters with an enthusiastic good roads talk.

ABBEY PAYS $500 FOR COW

California Companies Are Well Represented and Deals Are Closed for Several Offerings—Washington Firms Interested.

More than $20,000 worth of Holstein stock, all registered, under eight years of age and inspected by a committee of four Holstein breeders, was sold at auction at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition yesterday.

The Bridgford Company, of Knighton, Cal., figured heavily in the buying, although it did not get well started until afternoon. Although much of the stock did not bring the prices that it would have through private sales, the average price was, according to some of the breeders, good for auction.

Five hundred dollars was the price paid for a cow, formerly the property of E. B. Marks, of North Yakima, Wash., by the St. Benedict Abbey, of Mount Angel, Or. Another of the best sales was that of a bull, Segia Riverside Pontiac, born December 13, 1912, it was sold to E. Johnson, of Scappoose, by Albert Johnson, of the same place, for $600.

Confession by One of Cosmopolis Trio Is Reported.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Charged with arson, three well-known young men of Cosmopolis were arrested here last night and are being held separately in different jails of the county in default of $2000 bail for each. They are Vivian Linn, James Elison and Russell Pierce, all under 25 years old. They are accused of burning the house of Linn, who is said to have been the instigator to obtain some $1000 insurance. Pierce is said to have confessed and implicated the other two. The fire at the Linn house occurred about a week ago.

DEPARTMENT MERGER AIM

Pendleton Councilman Would Unite Police and Firemen.

PENDELTON, Or., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—If the proposition of Ralph Folsom, newly-elected Councilman from the Third Ward, is adopted, the Pendleton City fire department and the police department will be combined into one with a material decrease in the city's monthly payroll. The city at present is paying these two sets of officers individual salaries and Folsom believes that both jobs could be handled by one set of men.

An Inexpensive and Rational Luncheon

A mid-day cup of nutrition-giving chocolate is a rational food when rationally taken—not on top of, or in addition to, a heavy meal—but as an important part of it.

The popularity Ghirardelli's enjoys all over the West does not rest on the fact that it is just chocolate. Rather that it is Ghirardelli's, a blend of the finest cocoa and pure sugar in such proportions as to make it completely assimilative and always appealing to taste.

When in doubt as to what your luncheon should consist of make the major part health-bestowing Ghirardelli's.
