PORTLAND, OREGON. Entered as Portland, Gregon, Postatilos Second-cisas matter. ortpolen Bates-Invariably in (By Mail.)

Nundar included, one year sundar included, one year sundar included, aix months fundar included, three menths without fundar, one year without fundar, one year without fundar, three months without fundar, three months without fundar, three months fundar, three months fundar, the province fundar, the province fundar, the months without fundar, the months fundar, the province fundar, the province fundar fun

unday and Weekly one year

How to Remit-send postuffier money of-ter, express order or parameter check on your test base. Stemps, odn or currency are at-endersy risk. Give postuffice address in full beliefing energy and state.

Pretage Raire - 12 to 16 pages, 1 cent; 15 to 22 pages, 2 cents lit to 48 pages, 3 cents to 50 pages, 3 cents to 60 pages, 6 cents; 42 to 16 pages, 5 water, 76 to 52 pages, 6 cents. Fursign post-pt, double rairs.

and other things are proposed, the question will be asked: Why not place duties on raw wool, lumber, eggs and other commodities now on the free Why not recover some of the $10,000,000 a year which was formerly derived from the wool duty, rather than impose more internal taxes? By so doing we should foster our industries, while by imposing internal taxes we should place a new burden on the Industries concerned.

The proposed taxes would practically be a bonus on foreign steel and gasoline imported into the United States. That effect could be prevented by imposing an equivalent additional duty on imports of those commodities. By proposing such a duty the Administration would further reopen the tariff question, but others will surely

Referring to the rapid and radical changes which commerce and industry are undergoing, the President said the United States must "make certain that we have the necessary instrumentalities of information constantly at our service, so that we may know. exactly what we are dealing with when we come to act," and he indicated his purpose to make some recemmendations on the subject. That suggestion may cover a tariff inquiry, but there is small hope of an effectministration, for it has persistently opposed that policy. But with ninenewspapers behind it, the demand will agitation. It prints, with apparent apcertainly be made in Congress, and, proval, extracts from a peace-at-anytoe, with a persistence which will give it an important place in the voters minds at the next election Like Banquo's ghost, the tariff question will constantly return to plague the Administration, despite all efforts to keep it in the background.

BUILDING TOWNS ON THE SAND. Some decades ago thriving towns were went to spring up over night in the virile, rising young West. A gold strike, a prairie boom, an opened land teeming settlement. The rise of many which does much for them, such places has continued until now But a different spirit seen great cities stand in fulfillment of these days of promise. Others have wall at the University of Washington. We merely call attention to the fact, crumbled back into the shifting sands for the purpose of asking the liberal of the sagebrush country or the There has been a sudden revival of investment? these over-night cities in the land, but not in the West, and not as an outgrowth of any of the time-honored impulses. War is responsible-war series of cornfields. leaped into prominence through this ing the early part of the week. same cause. Where 115,000 people If Oregon is to be as great a state veniences of a substantial character of the dairy industry. upon the world and lessen the de- in the sile at the proper time. mand for war munitions? When that For many years it was said by the time comes these cities may disappear wise ones that Oregon would never away to some other fields of susten- state because we could not raise good datien upon the manufacture of war gon is raising as fine corn as is grown munitions cannot look hopefully into in the country, with a yield per acre the distant future. It is built upon well up to the best sections of the poses to recruit the continental army the sunds. Sooner or later the world "corn belt." We have passed the territorially, according to population, buy its commodities—at least not the solid ground of achievement. No for a considerable interval, during state ever made greater advancement which presperity will be slack in the in growing any farm product munition towns.

GERMANY'S FOES AND PRIENDS.

the empire has ample food for its people and that the only fault in the food supply is defective distribution does not harmonize with the information which comes from other German sources. We read of food riots in the cities, of excristant prices, scarcity of butter and fat, of the son lays on war preparedness is the officers thereof and to train it, successive week of the war renders become strong enough on sea and to which it must conform." It may be furter Zeltung says: "Want is grow- is there "startling and eminous" tution it is not otherwise "available ing acute. We jeered at the blockade, about it if they be loyal Americans? to the Nation in time of war." He living is to be attributed to quite nat- enemies,

THE FACT AND THE FAKER.

The Supreme Court of Washington has spoken on the question of prohibition, and the law is upheld. Chief German-American paper to a frenzy of war.

Interest in the action of the court lies, of rage. An awkward attempt is Mr. Garrison disposes of the sugof course, in the fact that the last agent in the "wet" propaganda. sibly the none-too-careful Journal will of fereign-born citizens because they may that it was a victim, not a principal, in a conspiracy to deceive the public. We shall not attempt to pass upon that interesting question, except to say that the Journal lent its colreprehensible scheme by pretending to spirators and dynamiters who have without compulsion. In fact, he pro-have important information which it destroyed or attempted to destroy poses to put to a practical test the gendid not have, and spreading it before the public under bold headlines as with American goods are belittled as paredness. Perhaps it is necessary "exclusive" and "genuine." Doubtless "a few crazy foreigners caught in atit was exclusive, but it was not genu-

It is the same with much other of the Journal's so-called news, but it rarely takes the chance of being so rudely exposed. A large part of the public knows from observation or experience that the Journal's news and editorial methods are both unjournalistic and dishonest; but it is not often that there is so complete and convincing a demonstration. The ournalism that guesses and colors and taints its news to make the greatest who have sought to bring the author-

WHAT IS IT WORTH?

There is trouble at the University of Washington about an effort to organfve tariff commission from this Ad- ize student corps for purposes of drill -so we learn from the Seattle Times -and the Washington Alumnus has tenths of the commercial bodies and taken a hand in the "anti-militarist" price pamphiet, as follows:

price pamphics, as follows:

We admit that the student does owe a debt to the state, but we do not admit that the establishment of an efficient murdering machine at the university is the best way to pay it! We because of the advantage of college training) should become leaders in some line; we should solve the problem of the state, industrially, politically, concentrative. Students now pay a considerable percentage of their educational expenses, while the per capita tag for the support of the university is extremely small.

The United States Government rewould be followed by a tions; and we hear nothing from the thing to fear from the policy of derush of settlers, adventurers, gam-blers, dealers, speculators and those hor do they complain about doing other elements needed to establish a something for a generous Government show fear of that policy are their own

But a different spirit seems to pre for the purpose of asking the liberal people of Washington if they think tangled underbrush of the wilderness they are getting the worth of their

THE O.-W. R. & N. CORN SHOW.

The corn show in the new Pailing and its ravenous demands for muni- building. Fifth and Alder streets, is tions. City Point, Va., is an Illustra- well worth the attention of every pertien. A year ago City Point was not son who has at heart the advancement ut a great cornfield or of Oregon. No such object lesson Now there are of advancement in any single 27,800 souls there, all busied in mak- branch of agriculture or horticulture ing munitions or ministering to the has been placed before the public. It wants of these who do the work, is free, as was the livestock show at Bridgeport is another place which has the Portland Union Stock Yards dur-reposed in tranquillity last year, 175,- as we hope, its greatness must come fluence the mind of either Mr. Garri-600 people now live in activity and through its agricultural resources, through the output of the ranges and But life in these places is not a farms. One of the best assets will highest patriotism. happy one. The residents are con- more than likely be Oregon's wealth. The chief critici ented by a serious problem. There of livestock. But to finish cattle, are not enough houses. Transports, swine and sheen there is nothing that There is no are lacking. Investors naturally sky milk-producing Winter food for the at supplying the demand. Who can cow equal to ensilage composed of poses to draw on the Guard for the say how soon peace will settle down corn, stalks and all, cut and placed night, their multitudes stealing be a great dairy or meat-producing The town that has its foun- corn in paying quantities. But Orewill not be so feverishly anxious to stage of experimentation; we are on growing of corn.

For these results we are greatly indebted to the labors of the O.-W. R. The most formidable enemy now & N. Company officials. In season enfronting Germany is hunger. The and out of season they have labored The and out of season they have labored Chancellor's positive assertion that with the landowners for more and better corn. Let him who doubts go to the corn show and see some of the results.

WHAT CAUSE FOR ALARM?

of The emphasis which President Wil- right to govern this force, to appoint ventive. "gratitude of the nation" being due viewed by the German-American or- though "the National Government to a professor who has discovered the gan of Portland as "startling and may provide arms, decide upon the neurishing properties of woodpulp. On the German-Americans nature and character of its organiza-The Vorwaerts says that "every anticipate that the United States may tion and may prescribe the discipline the economic situation of the working land to cope with Germany? If that used in repelling invasion, yet Mr. classes more intolerable." The Frank-anticipation should be realized, what Garrison says that under the Constibut today we laugh no longer." The Their apprehensions should rather be says that Congress has done whatever Chancellor is quoted against himself, calmed at the prospect that at last is possible by providing that entire for in reply to the Socialists he said the United States is to become strong regiments may volunteer for National "The rise in the cost of enough to defend liself against all service.

ural causes, such as the scarcity of The only persons to whom the the spirit which animates the great foodstuffs." Food is the one subject President's defense programme can majority of the states and the Naof discussion, and an ex-member of be "startling and ominous" are the tional the Reichstag is quoted as saying: "If Nation's enemies, actual or in antici-necessary, we must kill hundreds of pation. Among these, it appears, we standards or as close to them as posthousands of prisoners now consuming must count those German-Americans sible, and to have that force regarded for whom the Portland German paper as a valuable unit in the National refuse to send an effective army to blows and does not at all conceal its of officers to those who came up every loyal citizen and can provoke could safely be placed upon instincresentment on the part only of the tive patriotism to secure the services consciously disloyal, it arouses this of the Guard for the Nation in case made to excuse disloyal acts and ut- gestion that compulsory service ing "advocated ostracizing and hazing disciplined and trained." dents."

and to criticisms of his policy from a genuinely American standpoint. He has condemned those who "have poured the polson of disloyalty into experience of other hatens has proved great educative value and it would give our young men that which they most seriously lack—discipline. the very arteries of our National life; not confined his denunciation to German-Americans; he has extended them to all naturalized citizens who are guilty of the conduct he scribes; he has further included any native Americans who have so far forgotten their duty to their country as

That journal is the first to writhe when the President wields the lash; it must have been hit. It shows alarm at the disposition of the United States to arm adequately for defense; it must fear for the nation to which it owns allegiance. It is alarmed at the proposed penal measures against treason; it must fear for those whom quires all Federal-aided agricultural it classes as "a few crazy foreigners. colleges to maintain cadet organiza- No loyal American citizen has any No loyal American citizen has any fense against armed attack and against internal treason. Those who accusers.

> SECRETARY GARRISON'S ARMY PLAN. policy of military preparedness, for years but refuse allegiance to policy. This criticism is entirely which feeds them. see him attain the end at which he aims-placing the Nation in such a sure position to defend itself success fully that no fear of any foreign nation need be entertained. The only questions for discussion are the best means to attain that end, or whether the means proposed by Mr. Garrison are the best. Neither pride of opinion nor party advantage should inson or his critics, for the sole controlling motive of all should be the The chief criticism to be made is on his reliance upon the continental army for provision of a reserve to be minimizing the value of the National Guard for that purpose. He even propurpose of building up the continental army. He would provide officers by forming cadet companies recruited from the Guard, as well as from colleges and military schools. Reserve officers are to be drawn from the Guard, from educational institutions and from those men who are trained in business men's camps. He proand thus to place it in competition with the Guard. He admits "the untiring devotion and patriotic spirit of those who have unceasingly wrought for" its improvement and that it has made great progress in the last decade, and he plans to increase the assistance rendered by the Federal Government. Yet he drain its best talent into his new army and in time of war to disorganize it which volunteer for Federal service. The reasons given for this treat-ment of the Guard are that it is a state army, as the constitution serves to the respective states the

by taking from it entire organizations

Mr. Garrison appears to overlook Guard. The best friend of Germany is the speaks. That paper scarcely conceals means of defense. To attain this strategic blundering, vaciliating and its expectation that Germany and the goal, the great majority of Governors divided counsels of her enemies. They United States will ultimately come to would gladly restrict the appointment Balkuna.

Serbia until Greece comes to terms, alarm lest the United States should the Government's standard, train the and Greece refuses to come to terms prepare so effectually as to come out force to suit National requirements, until such an army is sent. They have failed there and at Gallipoli, and now tempts to hedge on this revelation of talk of abandoning Serbia to her conquerors, thus giving Greece and Rouvern more startling and ominous is mania a most solemn warning not to "the inadequacy of the military protrust to them.

Teuton victories have opened to Germany the entire food supply of the "no real danger," but the Balkan Peninsula as well as the road to the Mohammedan world. If the President's denunciation of disment of satisfactory officers and the The third floor cat stroils into the mintary prounted in the reighbors. United in the could well-founded criticism. It prays that to meet the Government's wishes The family just below on the second floor are quarantined for diphtheria. It is a balmy Thanksgiving morning. The third floor cat stroils into the Germany can fill her soldiers' stomachs, she has good ground' to hope for continued victory.

In third floor cat strolls into the lose sight of the fact that the home is the unit of social life, where right manners and conduct should be taught, staff. Attendance at drill and maneu-Although Mr. Wilson's denuncia-tion of the disloyal will be echoed by of the militia pay bill. Reliance

A presence office. Verse & Cosk.

The FARIFF WILL NOT DOWN.

The FARIFF WIL hope of the mileons and their supperters and sympathiners is finally swept away, for the state will be prohibition after January 1. 1916. Of subordinate moment is the terminasionately nested that foreign-born back on his volunteer continental terances as merely criticisms of the the Swiss or Australian plan be adoptterances as merely criticisms of the Swiss or Australian plan be adoptpresident's neutrality rulings and as ed by citing the obstacles interposed by our form of Government and by giance to the Constitution. It is passubordinate moment is the terminasionately asserted that foreign-born back on his volunteer continental

Should he fail to secure the reexercised their right of censuring his quired 133,000 men yearly for the conduct." He is accused of having continental army, he admits that the "treated the entire subject of sympa- Nation "must then resort to some thy with any foreign nation with a method of compelling the service, vehemence and a rabid spirit of pas- but he says the people must first be umns readily to an unscrupulous and sionate denunciation." The many con- given the opportunity to render it tempts at powder works," and we are fore resorting to universal training, informed that "all the great losses in but the latter is certainly the most these places seem to have been acci- equitable. It would require all citizens to do their part instead of shift-The President has not denounced ing the burden to a few volunteers. those foreign-born citizens who con- As adopted by Switzerland and Ausfine their activities to expressions of trails, it would not be costly. The sympathy with their native country experience of other nations has proved

The year's figures show that marstir is fake journalism. Of that re-prehensible variety the Journal is into contempt, to destroy our indus-divorce record to date indicates that tries, and to debase our politics to two-fifths of our marriages are broken. the uses of foreign intrigue." He has However, no startling deduction can be made from any such slender record. Divorce, in common with all human weaknesses and failures, rises this year and falls next. There is al-ways a relationship between the growth of population and the volume and itch very much, and what to do for them. I am a butcher by trade and bandle cold meats."

I had been poisoned by mosquito bites and itch very much, and what to do for them. I am a butcher by trade and bandle cold meats."

That journal is the first to write. Vancouver's careless Gretna Green?

The disastrous nervous shock caused by bombardment may put a premium on deaf and dumb men as soldiers. One thousand such men have been trained for the British army and have attained high efficiency, being sound

Gordon McKenzie is one among The line of reasoning by which Sec- many British subjects who make retary of War Garrison supports the good living in the United States for which he is the chief official sponsor, Government under which they make is so logically conclusive that criticism it. Their presence here is a reflection necessarily turns to the manner in on their native country; their failure which he proposes to carry out that to become citizens reflects on the land

> The man who just now has a load of sawed wood dumped at his curb and must pack it in after dark does not receive much comfort from his wife, and does not deserve any. She it is who must burn the wet stuff.

The boy who made the best of it when he got a popcorn ball and a monkey that climbed a stick in his Christmas morning stocking grown into manhood and his boy gets the latest mechanical contrivance.

The great need of Oregon is the than in a younger woman." missing link in its railroad system tion facilities are inadequate. Con- equals corn. The same may be said available in time of war and on his which Mr. Strahorn endeavors to sup-Couple up the roads, and the economically-scattered fragments of the state will be united.

The Government showed strange

diffidence about accepting the handome gift at San Francisco which Oregon offered. It so seldom gets anything for nothing that it suspected a It is the wise man who heeds the burglar's injunction to "Roll over and go to sleep." The wise burglar would not dare say that to a woman, though Women are braver, if more foolish. The rainy season brings one com fort to the owners of white-front buildings. The smokers cannot light matches by scratching them.

Summary of peace meeting: Ford "E jitneybus unum!" Kitchener: "Britannia Go Bragh!" Kaiser: "Gesundheit!" That settles it.

Logan juice cannot put the horse chestnut out of business. One is a cure for rheumatism, the other a pre-

Reliable newspapers print reliable news. For example: The State of Washington is "dry."

Among a multitude of plans we should find one that will give us an effective army. Professor Dryden's new breed of the world. Will it be turkey, goose or roast beef for Christmas?

'Oregons" is becoming known around

Two weeks to Christmas. Make them strenuous.

Wilson is waitfully watching the calendar. ____ France has not men to waste in the How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

How Fever Is Carried. They live on the third floor, There are children in the family. The family discipline has wrapper opens the door and the visitor goes into the quarantined flat. In a few minutes she reappears with her cat in her arms. The woman of the flat opens the door and the two lean against the quarantine card and gossip for a few minutes.

The quarantined family phone their meighbors to come for their cat.

The card says that visiting in quarantined quarters is forbidden, but the

and she stays at home to take care of

On Tuesday the boy is better, but not entirely well. She must go to work She persuades herself the rash is stomach rash and tells the boy to go to school. The boy gets through school pretty well. Every day he feels better.

The health department works pretty hard to control the epidemic. It is at sea as to where the disease is coming from, It is certain the cause is in a certain schoolroom. It is suggested that the pupils in that room be dismissed and the room fumigated.

One of the boys tells the inspector about the peeler. The teacher says the peeler has not been sick and has not been absent two days during the school

He is a peeler beyond doubt. The inspector goes to the boy's home that night. The combination is easily discovered. A light illness, scarlet fever called stomach rash by the fever called stomach rash by the mother, sickness limited to Saturday. Sunday, Monday, one day's absence from school, a working mother, convalescence in school, 25 cases of scar-

year. The inspector examines the boy

Probably Chilblains.

J. A. N. writes: "I would like to ask you what causes my hands in cold weather or if I put them in something real cold to swell up in patches like I had been poisoned by mosquito bites

While it is possible that you have a dis-case of the spinal cord, it is altogather probable that you have chilblains or what would be called chilblains if you had it in Chilbiains is a mild form of Raynaud's disease. But you are more interested in knowing what to do about it. If any bad patches develop paint them with tincture of icdine, Ordinary patches can be relieved by applications of spirits of camphor. To prevent the attacks: Keep your hands attained high efficiency, being sound in all other respects but speech and hearing. They exult in their newfound sense of usefulness. Their affliction protects them from the din of battle and from hearing the cries of the wounded. Denf-mute regiments may command a premium in future armies.

To prevent the attacks: Keep your hands warm and dry as much as possible. Wear and dry as much as possible. Wear arm gloves whenever circumstances will permit. Perhaps you could do your work while wearing warm gaves. For some operations you could slip rubber gloves over your of the wounded. Denf-mute regiments may command a premium in future bind your arms with tight rubber bands. Leave on for a few minutes. Remove the rubber bands and rub the skin of your forearms and hands with snew or crushed ite. Continue this until your skin tingles. Continue this until your skin tingles

Cause and Cure of Ringworm. G. M. A. writes: "Kindly explain the cause of ringworm and the cure for same."

REPLY. Ringworm is the result of infection of the skin by a vegetable parasite. The parasite is apt to enter the hair follicle. Ringworm is contagious. It is spread by brushes, hats, personal contact, etc. is contagious. It is appeared to the personal contact, etc.

In most cases the following treatment will suffice: Pull out all affected hairs. Clip the hair of the affected patch and nearly area. Clean off all scales with scap and water. Wash with plain water. Dry. Paint with thacture of iodine. If a few such rounds do not cure you do not persist in home treatment, but have your physician take charge.

No Danger.

C. W. Y. writes: "Am a woman 31 years old and have never been pregnant. Am advised by friends that to s unwise. Would be obliged if you would tell me through the whether the danger or the suffering in such a case would be much greater REPLY.

Cherished Echoes.

Do you remember how she loved to laugh-Remember that contagious, high, light peal Which rippled forth to greet some wisp of chaff. Some bright thread spun from life's slow-turning wheel?

To help us laugh-that was her gift. A jest Lacked its full savor till 'twas shared with her. And now, the saddened hearts that loved her best Cherish the echoes of those tones that were. Of late their chime had rung less clear, less free;

A shade of bitterness stole, with the years, Across her heart; made her tired eyes How mirth's smile falters, trembling into tears.

But, silver sweet, from that star-bordered way Where with light feet she wanders, rainbow clad. Another echo falls, whose soft notes

She's laughing with the angels and is glad. -J. D. MORGAN.

ODE TO MOUNT HOOD,

Oh, beautiful, wonderful mountain,

In silent grandeur you stand, Lifting your summit up to the And folining it to the land. Your ruggedness overawes me

Your silence fills me with fear; Ever changing your shadows and colors Your outline now dim and now clear, Oh, beautiful, wonderful mountain,

I worship each day at your feet. The God of our fathers seems nearer As the sky with your summit you meet. M. P. Z.

Her Social Secretary . Louisville Courier-Journal. "I am glad to see that you never gossip about anybody." "I leave every-thing to my social secretary." respond ed the other society woman, languidly.

PARENTS PRIMARILY AT FAULT Unruly Child in Schools Generally

Reflects Home Conditions. ILWACO, Wash. Dec. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In an editorial on "Educational Shortcomings" you use this phrase: "It is not too much to say that vanished from

From this I draw the inference that if a child is unruly and is hard to discipline at school, the school is to blame according to your version. You A girl wearing a morning wrapper comes down the back steps and rings the bell. A woman dressed in a wrapper opens the door and the vistor goes into the quarantined flat to have applicated it as natural and we can raise by the voluntary system, ach rash.

"a force already organized, already on Monday the rash is no better, but of a school that will fit his called for plant legalty to the United States, yet clothed and armed and officered, there is not much of it. The mother an active part in the needs of the which has been to a certain extent thinks maybe the boy has scarlet fever times.

J. H. GILMOUR.

Mr, Gilmour has succeeded in drawing an impossible inference from The Oregonian's editorial. The Oregonian all sorts of business, one proposal being has consistently repelled the popular to establish a newspaper as their official organ. General Lee has contracted ly be shifted to the school authorities. Within a few days he begins to peel. But discipline in the schools can be in our Army and raising Lieutenantsome of the boys help him. A few days maintained in spite of and apart from General Grant to that office. English later cases of scarlet fever begin to develop in the school, Before the little epidemic is controlled about 25 cases of scarlet fever are recorded.

Successes in the past of teachers in so-called "tough neighborhoods" attests to that fact.

> No Sarcasm Here. LENTS, Or., Dec. 10 .- (To the Editor.) —In reference to Miss Barron's letter I would like to reply to the outery against the awfulness of the blasting at Kelly's Butte and the war-inspiring thoughts that are created in the minds of the youth living near enough to hear the aforesaid blasting. I would say that for the past ten years we have lived less than a half mile from the Butte and have raised five boys to manhood, hearing the blasting twice daily six days in the week. They have all read Miss Bar-ron's letter and say unanimously that the thoughts of war never entered their minds until suggested by Miss

It seems that more undesirable things are suggested to boys by those who do not understand the workings of a boy's mind than all their surround ssibly could, if they are clean and healthful.

and healthful.

Three of the aforesaid boys belong to the Naval Militia. When asked if they were ready to go to Mexico to war, they replied: "We would like to go to Mexico, all right, but not to

I didn't raise my boys to be soldiers

Husband's Right.

PORTLAND, Dec. 9 .- (To the Edi tor.)—If a wife has a minor child and she banks her savings or carnings in a oint bank account with this boy, could the father at the mother's death claim share of it, or would all go to boy?

If he could segregate the account in any definite way it is probable he could claim a half interest in the wife's you know," he said, yawning, share of the bank account. This, however, would be for the court to decide, ways break in and wake him up."

In Other Days

Twenty-five Years Ago From The Oregonian December 11, 1890. Washington—President Harrison has been calling to the White House the Republican Senators who are weak-kneed on the force bill and very emphatically reading the riot act to them Each of these Senators have been given to understand that it is very important to the Administration that the elections bill should pass. It is the President's pet bill.

Dublin-The Irish people gave Parnell a very enthusiastic reception his return to Irish soil yesterday.

Bolse City, Idaho .- Governor George L. Shoup's message to the legislature reminds the members of the duties which the accession to statehood puts on them especially as to polygamy olgamy, secrecy of the ballot and suffrage generally

R. J. Mead, of Pendleton, was badly injured by a falling tree at Meacham Monday, Workmen are endeavoring to raise four cars and an engine, which went into the river at the foot of the incline at Ainsworth dock. The barge moved out as the cars were being Port Angeles, Wash.-The murderer of Mrs. Moss has been captured and he has confessed. He is James Wood, alias "Stubby Jim.

Half a Century Ago.

From The Oregonian December 11, 1865. The regular letter from New York eached The Oregonian yesterday. There seems to be great rejoicing in the East that Wade Hampton was de-feated in South Carolina. The New York National banks are going into to write a history of the war. talk of creating the post of Generalin our Army and raising Lieutenant as well as American papers agree that Minister Adams had far the hetter of the diplomatic controversy over war issues with Earl Russell.

A letter from Fortress Monroe gava the larger portion of the rebel ran Merrimac was successfully raised De

A vote in the House for Speaker was: Colfax, 135; Brooks, 35;

Colonel Chapman, of Coles County, Hilinois, has arrived from the East en oute to Hell Gate as Government

CHRISTMAS IN OREGON.

Oh. Christmas day's not far away-Heigho! We must be jolly for soon we'll hang the mistletoe! With Oregon grape and holly, We cannot sing of frozen ponds, Where boys and girls go gilding. But what care we when roller sakes Are just as good for sliding?

Where children coast together, but a "wagon-coaster" can be used In any kind of weather; nd since old Santa Claus' sleigh Can't get round to a feller He comes in his red motor car A-holding an umbreller! we'll not weep o'er picture books

We cannot sing of snowy hills

Where snowflakes soft are falling, But smile to see our roses grow, And hear our pine trees calling! Oh, Christmas day's not far away. And though it may be raining, Old Oregon's good times will keep its fellers from complaining! —M. C. FLANDERS.

Lecture at Home. Boston Transcript "All things come to him who waits,

MONTAGUE GLASS TO WRITE

For Sunday Oregonian Beginning with tomorrow's big issue Montague Glass, who became famous a few years ago as the originator of the Potash & Perlmutter stories, will offer a similar series to the readers of

The Sunday Oregonian. For this series he has created a new group of characters, among which Birsky and Zapp are the principals. The stories will be just as funny and contain just as much practical philosophy as did the Potash & Perlmutter stories.

Don't fail to read the first number in tomorrow's Oregonian. GIRL WAITERS IN PARIS CAFES-The war has caused a decided change in Parisian cafes. The regular waiters, most of them, have gone to the front and their places now are taken by girl waiters. The Oregonian's correspondent in Paris has concluded that there is something psychological about this situation. The men waiters, seeing the soldiers home on furloughs, are stricken with a feeling of patriotism and hasten to the recruiting offices to enlist. A story in tomorrow's paper will discuss this condition and its consequences in interesting detail.

WALLINGFORD AGAIN IN LINE-Nearly all The Sunday Oregonian readers are following the adventures of J. Rufus Wallingford from week to week. George Randolph Chester, his creator, puts him through a new series of entertaining stunts every Sunday. Tomorrow's will be up to the usual Wallingford standard.

UNCLE SAM AS A FUR MERCHANT-Among the other changes in industrial and commercial life wrought by the present European war is one that has driven the fur business of London across the Atlantic into New York and St. Louis. Heretofore all the furs caught by sealers, hunters and trappers in the United States and Russia were shipped to London for treatment and preparation for the market. Now London is not able to handle the business and the furs are shipped to St. Louis, which city promises to become the world's leading fur market. A story in tomorrow's paper-illustrated-will tell all about it. AMERICAN TOYS FOR CHRISTMAS-For the first time in history the nephews and nieces of Uncle Sam will be given toys for Christmas this year that were manufactured in their own country. Toy Zeppelins, submarines and other implements of warfare are among 'some of the principal Christmas attractions. An illustrated story tomorrow will explain the progress made by American toy makers.

FOR WOMEN GOLFERS-So great has been the interest of golfers in the series of instructive stories by John J. Keenan recently printed in The Sunday Oregonian, that a series intended especially for the enlightenment of women golf players now has been prepared. The author of these stories is Mrs. Gourlay Dunn-Webb. Her first contribution will appear tomorrow.

MOVING PICTURE NEWS-Two separate departments of The Sunday paper will be devoted to motion-picture news. One page in the magazine section will deal with news of general interest to the film world and several other pages in the dramatic section will record the latest happenings of the industry in Portland and vicinity. PAGE OF SCHOOL NEWS-Reports of school activities in all parts of Portland will be contained in the page devoted to school news. Most of these reports are prepared by pupils of the schools themselves. They should be of interest to the pupils, teachers and parents. FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS-Several distinct features have been prepared for the boys and girls. A half page of short stories, puzzles, jokes and pictures will appear in the magazine section. The comic section will give pictures of Polly and her Pa and all the other familiar characters, while another full-page will present Donahey's fairy tale characters in their latest activities. LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY SHOW-Pictures of some of the prizewinning exhibits at both the livestock and the poultry show will be printed. They will be accompanied by descriptive stories and a complete list of the successful entries in the poultry exhibition. OTHER SUNDAY OFFERINGS-The usual space will be devoted to sporting, society, church, dramatic and automobile news, to real estate reports and accounts of women's activities.