

SMALL COLLEGES STAND TOGETHER

Schools With Big Enrollment All Favor Rule Barring Freshmen From Play.

LONG TRIPS GROW POPULAR

Coast Athletes Now Planning to Inevade East in Spring to Compete in Track Athletics and Rowing Events.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—Those who have been following attention over the question as to whether or not freshmen should be allowed to play in intercollegiate contests point to the alignment of the Northwest Conference recently held, in support of the restriction that the smaller colleges are the ones who generally are opposed to the elimination of the first-year men.

Table with 2 columns: School Name and Enrollment. Includes University of Washington, University of Oregon, University of California, etc.

There is further proof, proponents of freshman play contend, that the only motive behind the desire of the small colleges to have the freshman excluded is to protect the intercollegiate contests. It is only within the past decade that these events have become general, and the success with which they have been attended suggests that it is believed for an increasing number of pilgrimages by the athletes of the various sections of the country.

"WHEN THE DOVE BIT THE EAGLE"

BY WHITTON G. MOYRAIR Chapter 2.

I was awakened by a violent ringing of the telephone the next morning and Dede's voice greeted me over the wire. "It's all right," he said, with enthusiasm, "just get on the Admiral of the Invincible fleet, saying investigations have been instituted, and on the basis of the data furnished by the Chamber of Commerce, he will be pleased to invade the Columbia River next Thursday afternoon with a detachment of battalions from the fleet originally intended for target schools."

A day of solemn conferences at the Chamber of Commerce followed, and in the meantime patriotism ran riot in the streets.

BIBLE TEACHING IN SCHOOLS OPPOSED

Bishop Sumner and Dr. Loveland Both See Danger From Diversity of Theories.

CONFIRM 11 AT SELLWOOD

Methodist Pastor, by Implication, Says Roman Catholics in Control of Schools and Not in Sympathy With System.

Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner, of the Episcopal Church of Oregon, does not advocate the introduction of the Bible as a textbook in the public schools of Portland.

Neither does Dr. Frank L. Loveland, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Diverse Opinion Disliked

"I—we all—," he said, "would ask if it was the Jewish idea of God, the Roman Catholic, the Calvinistic, the Armenian, that was to be taught. As long as we have such denominational claims I would consider it unwise to introduce anything into the public school system which might ultimately destroy it."

Men Teachers Advocated

"It is not a matter of intellect," he said, "for I believe the woman teacher can teach just as well as the man, but it is that indefinable masculine touch which makes for masculine men."

Pastor Believes Religion of Today Does Not Make Appeal to Man as It Did During Christ's Ministry Because It is More Selfish.

DR. DYOTT'S ANSWER TO 'IS RELIGION EFFEMINATE?'

The fault of our modern life is not that we make virtues of vice; it is due to a softness in the upper story.

Wider Scope Foreseen

Among the teachings, which he predicted the public school of the future should, and would take up, he mentioned teaching of self respect, teaching respect for others, value of service, folly of hate, the true functioning of ambition, the value of worship, and the fundamental facts concerning the human body.

SEATTLE FOLK START ANTI-PREPAREDNESS CAMPAIGN

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 12.—An anti-preparedness campaign backed by many prominent Seattle citizens was begun today with the announcement that petitions would be circulated through the city asking Congress not to increase the military forces of the United States.
