A BAD START IS MADE. The Administration made a bad start for procuring adoption of its shipping bill when it fought against the election of Senator Clarke as President pro tem of the Senate. Its purpose was to punish him and other mocrats who voted with him against by procuring the election of a chairman who would do its bidding. Sen-ator Stone, the Administration leader, sought pledges to support the bill and cloture, and, not receiving them from Mr. Clarke, gave Senator Pomerene his support.

Although the shipping bill has been modified in such a manner as to oversome the objections of Mr. Clarke and others of the seven who opposed the bill of last session, the defeat of the cloture forces in the Democratic caucus bodes ill for its passage. Republicans may be trusted to debate it as exhaustively as last session, and, if any attempt should be made to stop
