REVIVE?

Wilson Make Unkind Remark of Anyone," Says Admirce. Virginia's Fame Known.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.-What will be the new social "policy" of the future mixtress of the White House, new Mrs. militress of the White House, new Mrs.
Narman Galt? Washington society is saking itself this question at its overthe-teacup meetings, and the femining contingent is speculating as excitedly as the sterner portion is discussing the National defense plans of Congress.
Will the new Tirst indy" devote herself almost entirely to philanthropy, as did the late Mrs. Wilson, or will she outline for herself a certain social programme, as did Mrs. Taft and Mrs.
Reconvert, and adhere to it for the remainder of the Administration?

Hrs. Galt Almost Native. Hrs. Gult Almost Native.

For the first time in the history of the White House it will be presided over by a Washington woman. Mrs. Galt is so counted, for, although she is a native of Virginia, Washington has been her home for the last 12 years, and the family of her late husband has been identified with the capital city since 1802. Hence unofficial Washington, which has known and loved Mrs. Galt, is interesting itself as eagerly as is the official contingent which is to follow her leadership for the next two sensons, and possibly for another four years.

Hitherto the lines in Washington between the resident and official elements have been closely drawn—too closely for real solidarity. The prospective Mrs. Wilson is counted upon to change all that.
Will depairs be restored to the place change all that.

With dansing be restored to the place of prominence it occupied during the Taft social regime, when Mr. Taft and his wife, with the assistance of the younger Tafts, set all Washington sociaty a-tripping? The social wiscarrea point significantly to the fact that Mrs. Galt is fond of dancing, that she has heats of friends among the younger element who are openly plning for more social gayety, and that she has in her own personal entertaining shown a personal entertaining shown tendency to please the young folk. Among her other accomplishments Mrs. Gait is a beautiful dancer—and what good dancer does not like to see dancing numbered among the attractions of a big reception?

No Pavorites to Be Played.

One quality which the new mistress of the White House possesses in an eminent degree is sound, practical, wholesome good sense, combined with an appreciation of method. Also she is a woman who has never allied herestf with cliques and factions and has made no enemies.

"As the White House mistress," says one who has known her for years.

ens who has known har for years. "Mrs. Galt will 'play no favorites.' She will be as always, charming and sweet and gracious to all. No one ever heard her make an unkind remark of any ens.
