Customs Go by Contraries.

The people here have some strangely contradicting customs. For instance, a their places. person indicates "no" by modding his band and "yes" by shaking his head. In America we nod when we mean "yes" and shake our heads when we mean "no." Therefore one might reason that when the populace expects a Bulgar invasion they look calm and when they do not expect one they look anxious. Things go by contraries.

In the last few weeks there has been a tremendous sale of champagnes to the wealthy family trade by wholesale and family liquor dealers. Some sales have been for amounts hardly believable.

Dealers are extremely reticent about discussing details, for they complain that purchasers of liquor in any quantity, even when there can be no question that it is intended for family use only, are trailed and "hounded" by detectives and busy-bodies.
