Mrs. Mahel Myers was reported in elaking condition at the hospital last and she had developed coughing fits. Opiates were being administered to reve the coughing, as it aggravated the

With suspects arrested every few tours, and sleuths throughout Portland and in every Northwestern comunity on the alert, the chances of escape hourly grow less for Evan B. Kemp, who is wanted for the attack on pretty Mrs. Mabel Myers Tuesday

The possibility that Kemp succeeded in leaving for distant points the night in teaving for distant points the night of the crime is thought slight, and efficers are confident that he will be found in Multnemah County.

Kemp is said by seven witnesses to have eaten dinner at Niebeth Sanitarium, sid Loveloy street, yesterday. Hospital attaches may the man begged a meal in exchange for a small amount of work. The beggar came to the hospital door early in the afternoon. He was admitted and turned over to Mrs. N. A. Niebeth by Miss Ellisabeth Murray, a surse. Eather Bergiund, waitress at the hespital; Mrs. A. Smith, the cook; Mrs. Fawcett and two men employes also new the beggar,

The man went away. Later Miss Berglund and Mrs. Smith together epened a newspaper and saw Kemp's "That's the man we fed today!" the

Mrs. Nisbeth reported her identification to the authorities last night.

17 Hen Securing Woods. Before daylight yesterday IT men from the Sheriff's office were scouring the woods about Errol Heights, in response to the reports from Mrs. Elva C. Dallam, progrietor of a confectionery store at Sherwood and Lance streets, that she had fed a stranger the hear at their resemblance to picwho here a striking resemblance to pic-tures of Kemp, Wednesday afternoon. Nething was found that would indicate the direction the man had taken. According to the story told by Mrs. Dallam, the man arrived in a famished condition about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He wanted food, and in re-turn split some wood. He stayed for about an hour and a half, destring, so about an hour and a half, desiring, so he said, to see an afternoon newspaper before he loft. When one arrived he read the front page news with apparent agitation. Mrs. Dallam said that she believed it was the Kemp-Myers news in which he appeared interested. When he left she telephone the Sheriff.

An unexplained telephone call, believed to have been a hoax, was received at the Sheriff's office at section yesterday morning.

"This is Kemp," said the voice over the wire, "I am mailing a special dethe wire. "I am mailing a special de-livery letter now, telling you where I will meet you. I want to meet you alone." The telephone message was lualone." The telephone messa tended for Sheriff Hurthurt.

The letter never arrived.

"It would not surprise me if Kemp carried out his threat and committed suicide when he reads of the man hunt that is on," asserted Sheriff Hurlburt.

Kemp Has Dual Personality. has been swayed by strange extremof passion. His mother, Mrs. Hannah P. Kemp, tells how her sen, in his early youth, would often fly into a

MOVIE HOLDUP IMITATED

Amateur Detective Work of Young Victim Leads to Arrest of "Highwayman" and Subsequent Capture of Two Others.

John Cestello, 15-year-old "had man," saw a movie picture, holdup worked without a gun. The highwayman pretended to have the gun in his coat pocked, and thrust his hand forward under his coat. Young Costello, alias "Bill" McCarthy, regarded himself accomplished along these lines, and he tried it Wednesday night on Alexander Martheller, aged 13, of 747 Mississippi avenue, and Tony Alphonso, aged 14, of the Peninsula School.

It worked fine. Tony came through with 10 cents and the other with 5 cents. Both pair of hands went up at the "drop."
