That is the disheartening, humillating conclusion which every Amerimust draw from the stuking of the Persis on the very day after Austrin's note on the Ancona had been hotled as a diplomatic triumph. The President has scored a series of such triumphs, but the slaughter goes on. Yeuton diplomats sciently attest Treaton dependent and their aphorrence of humanity and their aphorrence of burbarism, but Treaton naval officers continue to violate those principles on the practice hurbarism. Will the said to practice hurbarism. Will the President never realize that he, and through him the American Nation, have become objects of ridicule and contempt to the whole world?

After the wriginal notice had been given that Germany would be held to strict accountability for wrongs done to Americans by German submarines. enly one more note should have been written. When the Falaba was sunk and when one American met death on that ship, Germany should have been called upon to condemn the act and to make reporation within a limited time and without discussion. The Falaba would then have been the only one in the series. There would have been no sinking of the Luxitania, Arabic, Aucena, Persia and other ships in the monthly lengthening list, each one being a fresh proof that words unsupported by deeds are im-

Instead, what have we had? First Germany, now Austria, has been bomburded with phrases ranging all the way from "strict accountability," through "not emit any word or any act" and "deliberately unfriend! the peremptory demand that Austria diste "an act which is condemned by the civilized world as inhumane and harbarous." That is rather a shallow subterfuge to dodge behind, for every well-informed person knows it to be a matter of history that General Grant did place an embarge on arms and munitions being shipped to France which had at some time belonged to and were part of ear Government equipment in defense, but did not place an embarge on individuals or firms smaking such shipments. Our present Administration I do think would not sanction the National Government selling arms and munitions to any of the belligerests. However, there is nothing to prevent individuals from delays.
