

"OREGON SYSTEM IS IMPERFECT"—U'REN

State Still Has Too Many Offices, Commissions and Tax Bodies, He Says.

SHORT BALLOT IS MARK

Ex-Secretary Ballinger Answered at Progressive Business Men's Club and Proposals Made for Further Development.

"Of course, the Oregon system isn't perfect; but I admit that myself," said W. S. U'ren yesterday in an address at the Multnomah Hotel before the Progressive Business Men's Club in which he answered the recent address of ex-Secretary Richard A. Ballinger, of Seattle, who picked the flaws of the so-called "system."

"I wouldn't call it a system yet," continued Mr. U'ren. "It is only 10 years old and we have much to do with it to make it better. There are a lot of things that need correction, that need addition. Don't doubt it, we're going to get them all in time."

"Why, do you know the plan as it is today, though it is but a child, has done more for the people of Oregon than years have done for any other state in the Union," he said. "The plan followed this statement and Mr. U'ren continued:

Mr. Ballinger's Courage Admired. "My invitation today is to answer the speech," he said, "delivered by Mr. Ballinger at this table last month, criticizing and condemning what is called the Oregon system. I admire Judge Ballinger's courage chiefly because he believes a citizen owes a duty to his state, and he himself is trying to do his duty as he sees it."

I admire his courage. Few men have been so bold before a crowd and tell them they are not fit to govern themselves. Judge Ballinger did not expect the present company. He does not believe the people are fit to govern themselves, and, therefore, does what he can to obstruct and prevent the development of that theory and plan of government.

Of course, I do not agree with Judge Ballinger in every statement. One of the reasons why Mr. Ballinger condemns the Oregon system is because we have not yet established a thorough representative government. We have not yet established a thorough public utility, and we have not yet established a thorough public service corporation and a thorough public utility.

There are some of the people of Oregon have done in 10 years under the Oregon system. Public utility has been established, and, largely by the efforts of Henry C. Glavin, the business is good. These two were always the chief and the best of the Oregon system. There has been no other state in the Union that has done so much in 10 years.

The Oregon system is a thing of the past. Women in Oregon are citizens on equal terms with men. It is no longer a thing of the past. It is a thing of the present. The young men do not know today what the world was like when the Oregon system was first established. There has been no other state in the Union that has done so much in 10 years.

SOCIETY NEWS

BY GERTRUDE P. CORBETT

PROMINENT MATRON WHO IS ONE OF TRIO AT CHAMBER CONCERT TOMORROW.

Mrs. Susie Fennell Pipes

CHARMING in detail and appointment was the luncheon presided over yesterday by Miss Ruth Toul in honor of Miss Innes Howell, of Victoria, and Miss Holman, of San Francisco. Seated around the pretty table, adorned with a huge bowl of pink carnations, corsage bouquets of violets and roses marking the places, were the honor guests and Miss Katherine Hoyt, Miss Faley Stewart, Miss Rhoda Rasmussen, Miss Katherine Hart, Mrs. Hazel Blumauer, Miss Barbara Bartlett, Miss Helen Ladd, Miss Genevieve Brooks, Miss Margery Hoffman, and the hostess.

Presiding the dance Mr. and Mrs. William Heiler Ehrman presided at a charming and prettily appointed dinner party, their guests including members of the younger set, was later attended the dance. Covers were placed for Miss Rosalind, Miss Stella Wolfe, Miss Marion Clifton, Miss Mira Harris, Mr. Frank Walker, Rosefeldt, Edwin Neustadter, Melville Meyer and the hosts.

Gowned in a charming little bouffant dress of white silk, net, gracefully draped over ivory-toned taffeta, and adorned with silver lace, Miss Flora Rosenblatt made her formal bow to the guests last night at Hotel Benson. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rosenblatt, presented her, the latter being assisted in a gown of Callot blue chiffon velvet, embellished with blue and gold net. Miss Rosenblatt carried an exquisite bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley, and Mrs. Rosenblatt's bouquet was of pink roses.

About 90 of the younger set enjoyed the delightful dance. The Crystal room with its wonderful floral decorations of baskets, clusters, plants and standards filled with beautiful bouquets that had been sent to the charming debutante by her host of admiring friends, made an effective foil for the crisp, dainty frocks of the belles and young matrons present.

Miss Rosenblatt is already popular, and although she is quite young, she has been in demand at numerous social functions during the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Koehler will be the hosts for a small informal dinner this evening, their guests to include a few of the debutante set.

Miss Evaline Virginia Hanes surprised all her friends yesterday by her marriage to Joseph A. Barto, of Seattle, which took place at noon in the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. John H. Boyd officiating. The engagement of the young couple was made known last summer when the bride was visiting at her parents' home with her sister, Mrs. C. C. Miller.

Since the death of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hanes, pioneers of Oregon, the bride has made her home here with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Kerron. The appointments of the wedding were very simple, the bride wearing a far-trimmed tulle dress of blue cloth with tulle-colored hat. Her bouquet was a corsage of Cecil Blue roses and lilies of the valley. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Hotel Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. Barto left for Seattle Hot Springs to pass a few weeks, and will then make their home in Seattle. Mr. Barto is a graduate of the University of Oregon and is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity. He is a member of the District Attorney's force of King County.

Miss Janet Noble will compliment Miss Rae Zimmerman, popular bride-elect, tomorrow afternoon with an Oregon party, followed by tea at one of the villas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hobbs (Edith Hobbs), of La Grange, are being congratulated on the arrival of a son, born Sunday, January 2.

Chi Omega fraternity will meet this afternoon with Miss Agnes McLachlan, 415 East Twenty-first street North, at 2:30 o'clock.

The Danzants have been added to the list of social diversions at Hotel Multnomah, which will commence tomorrow afternoon from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock and hold a series of tea dances on Wednesdays and Saturdays for the remainder of the season. The dances will be in addition to the regular dinner-dances Tuesdays and Fridays, which take place in the gold dining-room, later the dancing continuing above in the ball-room.

At the tea-dance tomorrow, souvenirs will be given to each woman attending. It makes a delightful diversion following a matinee to entertain little parties.

The University Club dinner-dance also will be a brilliant event of this evening, the first of the series to be given since the prohibition law has been passed.

One of the jolliest watch parties was given at the home of Joseph Weber on New Year's eve. The festivities consisted of dancing, singing and 500. First prize fell to Mrs. F. Lind, while the consolation prize went to Frank Holmström. Supper was served at midnight.

Many Irvington Club members will be disappointed to learn that the dance this evening at the club has been postponed.

Hi-Jinks are awaiting this evening at one of the biggest times of the year is being planned by the Hi-Jinks committee. Christensen's Hall will be the scene of a beautiful Winter landscape and a large attendance is expected to appreciate this display. The honorary committee from the Oregon Agricultural College is doing its best to make this dance the last good time before leaving for the Alma Mater.

A special feature is being planned by the committee, which has procured Joseph Roberts, the noted banjo entertainer.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rasmussen are receiving congratulations on the advent of a daughter on Sunday, January 2. Mrs. Rasmussen will be remembered as Miss Adelaide Withycombe, a niece of the Governor.

With deep regret members of the series of chamber concerts will learn that tomorrow night's concert will be the last of this season. Special care has been given to the selection of the program, which includes Saint-Saëns' Op. 18 and Tchaikovsky's Op. 38. The usual popular trio—Mrs. Susie Fennell Pipes, Ferdinand Konrad and J. Hutchinson will give the exquisite programme at the Art Museum at 8:30 o'clock.

of Perkins Institute, Boston, was chosen. From the day in March, 1887, when she assumed the tutelage of her charge the lives of Helen Keller and Miss Sullivan have been inseparably associated.

The teacher was fortunately well fitted for her task. She is a woman of strong mentality and noble character. She herself had been blind as a child, and her ready sympathy was a vital factor in leading Helen Keller out of darkness. She spent every hour of the day and night with her charge, working, playing and sleeping with her. Everything Helen Keller did or touched her teacher spelled into her hand with the manual alphabet, until she had learned that everything had a name. In less than three months she had acquired a knowledge of 200 words and many current idioms.

Helen Keller was 19 years of age when she learned of a girl in Norway who had learned to speak. Immediately she resolved to learn. By means of touching the lips and tongue of the speaker she learned the formation of words and she soon learned to speak with a fair degree of clearness.

Undistracted by the outer things that take the ordinary child's attention the progress of Miss Keller was rapid. When 16 years of age she entered the Cambridge School for Young Ladies. A year later she was graduated with honors in foreign languages and entered Radcliffe College. She completed her course here in 1899, receiving by means of the braille or raised-letter system. Since then she has learned to sing.

To those who know Miss Keller she does not inspire pity, but rather a feeling of admiration and awe. Her misfortunes dwindle into insignificance when compared to her accomplishments.

Julius Meier, chairman of the special Chamber of Commerce committee, had a very busy day, making plans and directing details of the work. Every member of the committee has become an efficiency expert in studying how to make the campaign most effective.

Frank Branch Riley and Thomas McCusker made addresses at the regular monthly luncheon of the electrical engineers at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday noon. The duplication of efforts was somewhat of an error in programming. Mr. McCusker made a talk first and Mr. Riley came later, ignorant that the subject had already been covered, and again urged all to write letters and many of them.

Mark Woodruff, publicity man for the Chamber of Commerce, made an address boosting the letter-writing campaign at the Y. M. C. A.

Letters have been received from many district and state officers, who signify their intention of being present at the conference.

Two damage suits, each for $750, for deaths following collisions, were filed in the Circuit Court yesterday, one against the Southern Pacific and the other against the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company.

R. S. Williams is suing the O. W. R. & N. for the death of his only son, Louis Williams, who was killed last Monday when an excursion train to Benson Park struck an automobile, killing Charles Ray, driver, also, near Troutdale.

Glady's Barringer filed suit against the Southern Pacific and Motorman Fred Beebles for the death of her husband, Cecil A. Barringer, occurring September 22, when a Southern Pacific train hit an automobile truck near Tualatin, killing four.

Ohio, which has been employing its state prisoners to make paving blocks, has now tested new machinery which the men may be set to work on the roads.

BUY NEW CLOTHES ON AN 'AFTER CHRISTMAS' POCKETBOOK

You Can Do It—ON CREDIT!

What was it that you wanted so badly before the holidays and thought you couldn't afford? Whatever it was, if it's the kind of thing you'd expect an up-to-date clothing store for men and women to carry, CHEIRRY'S HAVE IT AND WILL SELL IT TO YOU ON INSTALLMENTS.

Why don't you start off the new year with new, becoming clothes? Make your resolution right now to keep yourself looking trim and stylish all through 1916. That is, a reckless resolution—you can keep it if you open an account at CHEIRRY'S store and make it a point to buy new apparel the day you begin to look shabby.

The first payment on anything at CHEIRRY'S is always very moderate, and so are the subsequent payments—they don't make a noticeable hole in your small salary. And the clothes at CHEIRRY'S store are absolutely above criticism in style and elegance, as well as being fairly priced.

CHEIRRY'S are having an after-Christmas sale of suits and dresses, formerly sold at $30 are priced as low as $15.95, and they have other lots of goods at equally low prices. The dress is 353-251 Washington street, in the Pittcock block. Open Saturday night till 10 P. M.—Adv.
