BRIDE IS LOYAL TO FORGER HUSBAND

Morrison Fails to Effect Reconciliation With Father and Gets No Aid.

ARREST REGARDED LIGHTLY

Young Wife Declares She Will Stand by Bridegroom to End, but She Will Not Ask Her Friends or Relatives to Aid.

Charles W. Morrison, bridegroom forger of checks, did not effect a recoveristation with his father in Texas yesterday; neither did he receive any money from other friends or relatives whom he had counted upon to pay up his bogus checks. He does not seem to take his arrest orriors, and lightly refers to the time, apparently a matter of hours, when he shall walk out of jail, and, on money obtained from somewhers, friends, father or relatives, he does not know which, he hopes to due to Canada and accept a free riach from the Canadian government.

His lack of appreciation of the serimunium of his position is more than made up fer by the heart throbe of a young bride, retimed and cultured, but alone in Portland without funds. Over her has come a sudden cloud which the can hardly realize is not a dream.

Bride Remains Leyal.

Now faith in a man has been shatteryed, but her loyalty is as firm as firm can be. Her broader in-law telegraphed her restdered to come back to Lon Angeles and offered her meney. She did not accept, but rapited.

"Charles in inil: am without fundation as you think heet."

"If there is any hone for him, or if there is anything I can do for him, fill stand by him if it Rills me," she deciared last night, biting a trembling it. "I'll stand by him as if he were my seem heather, but I will not ask my people or my friends to help him.

"If I can stand by him. I might help him to be a better man, but if I didn't, what would become of him?

"I could stand this experience myself—one can be a petter man, but it's my founds I'm score for many years. Of 12 children only one survives. Mrs. Long did last May.

"I could stand this experience myself—one can be a petter man, but it's my founds I'm sorry for. It's the mortification that I'm causing them; It's my 63-year-old mother in Texas that I don't want to know of what has happened. They'll probably take him hack to Lon Angeles for trial, and I'll go with him, and it will be werse for me there than here because my friends greather than here because my friends greather the form."

Mrs. Morrison has recovered from the shock of the surprise; yet she cannot make hereoff understand how the man-in whom she has placed her faith could have been the same as the man in Jali charged with forgery.

Wife Tella of Murrison's Kindness. "He was not such a brilliant man, but it was his very goodness that appealed to mo," she added. "I didn't think that there was a kinder, better man in all the world. He treated me like a baby. Our marriage was not one of impulsive luve. There was nover a milder, more sincere brother and sister feeling between two persons. He just wanted to be mear me; when I was all he narred me as would a woman.

"Why, just last Hunday we sat in our rooms and told stories of our child-head days, and sang little Sunday school songs we used to know jogether.

"Funds in Fertland have been so good to me—but it's the very kindness that hurts. It doesn't seem real to me. He was not such a brilliant man,

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.-Praise of the administration in the Philippines of Governor-General Harrison is included in a special report on the islands by Brigadier-General Frank McIntyre, chief of the Insular Bureau. General McIntyre made a personal study of conlitions last Fall and his report was submitted to the President and Con-

The high motives which prompted General Harrison's acceptance of his office," General McIntyre says, "have guided his conduct thereof. He has labored unceasingly and, as a result of these labora, he has gained the admiration and respect of the people of the islands. As a consequence the excellent state of law and order prevailing in the Christian provinces of the Philippine Islands is better assured than it has been at any time in the past, while the establishment of schools and sanitary work in the portions of the islands inhabited by the wild people and Moros, particularly the latter, is beyond the most sanguine expectation of two years ago."

Financially, the report says, the island government is in good condition, in view of the public work it has undertaken.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Two German clerks in the foreign exchange department of the National City Bank have been forced to resign, it became known tonight. This is said to be a part of the movement on the part of the bank to weed out German employes.

The charge against the clerks is that they failed to notify either the bank of the surety company which bonded them of a change of residence. One clerk is said to have moved twice within a year and the other once without giving any notice of the change.

The names of the clerks are withheld by the bank. More than 130 other Germans are said to be employed in this department of the bank.
