

LETTERS TO EAST CHOKO MAIL BOXES

Portland Almost Swamped by Thousands of Invitations to Tourists.

ROTARIANS SET FIREWORKS

W. C. T. U. Sends Large Bundles of Mail to East and Slogan of Festival Has Conspicuous Place in Noon Parade.

Pity the poor postoffice clerk! And the railway mail clerk! This letter-writing business has increased the burden of labor at the local postoffice and on the mail trains running out of Portland so that the postal employees feel like crying for help.

But are they going to cry for help? No! Indeed, no.

"Come on with your letters," say the postoffice people defiantly. "You can't bring 'em too fast or too often or too many to suit us."

In seeming acceptance of this challenge the people of Portland kept the colossal mailbox opposite the postoffice in Sixth street loaded to the proverbial guards yesterday.

Folks didn't wait until noon—the appointed hour for the daily demonstration—but started to drop their letters into the box in the early morning.

Then at noon came the big avalanche of mail from the Rotary Club, the W. C. T. U. and hundreds of individual patriotic citizens. The deluge was continued through the afternoon and early evening.

Daylight Fireworks is Staged. The Rotarians uncorked a number of spectacular stunts that added to the gaiety of the occasion and that furnished an abundance of the coveted "action" that makes happy the heart of the motion-picture operator.

For instance, a big display of daylight fireworks accompanied the Rotary crowd's visit to the mail box. This spectacle was produced by the Columbia Fireworks Company, one of the infant industries only recently established in Portland.

A group of toy balloons also was sent up into the air, with messages attached. Finders will be rewarded with liberal prizes at the hands of the Rotarians.

The Rotary members were conspicuous as they formed in line yesterday. Each member wore a small mail sack over his back. Invariably the sacks were filled with letters, which were dumped into the gaping mouth of the monster green box as the procession filed by.

Motion Pictures Represented. A number of sandwich men with cleverly worded slogans expressing the spirit of the occasion were prominent in the parade. The Rose Festival dates, June 7, 8 and 9, were flaunted at repeated intervals in the procession.

The W. C. T. U. section was headed by Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, district president, and a committee of state officers, past state officers and local officers. They deposited a large volume of letters.

Another interesting section was that of the Pathé motion-picture producers. Conspicuous therein was a huge papier mache rooster—the trademark of the concern.

Today has been set aside for the Ad Club and the Royal Rosarians.

Everyone May Mail Letters. But don't think that just because these particular organizations are going to be prominent today either folks can't mail their letters. The contrary is true. Mail all the letters you can.

Bring them to the big box at the noon, if possible, but if not possible, drop them into any old letter box anywhere in town.

And if you haven't time to write, you dictate your letters to any one of the fair stenographers stationed conveniently in the business district. You will find stenographers equipped with stationery and all necessary supplies at the following places:

Olds, Wortman & King; Lipman, Wolfe & Co.; Beyer & Frank Co.; Ballou & Wright, Sherman-Clay Co., Eilers, Eastern Outfitting Company, Oregon Journal, Telegram, Imperial Hotel and Northwestern Bank building.

GIRL PUPIL IDENTIFIED

Seattle High School Student Who Fell in Lake Fails to Remember.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 18.—(Special.)—Identification of Minna Andrija, 18 years old, student at the Lincoln High School, Seattle, who is still unable to remember her name or age after having been discovered stiff with cold and drowned to death at the shore of Lake Washington last night, apparently after having wandered into the lake near the city pumping plant, was made today by William A. Bowles, an attorney.

Investigation disclosed the girl is the ward of Mrs. S. L. Frye, 4722 Twentieth avenue, Seattle. Her parents are divorced, the father residing at Mill City, Or., and the mother at Park, Wash. The girl has resided with Mrs. Frye for two years and until recently has been normal and an average schoolgirl.

You Can't Brush or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffly, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

CONDUCTOR WAS IN GREAT DANGER

He Suffered With Pains Throughout His Entire Body. Thought He Had Pleurisy.

"Twenty-five per cent of our educated people die because of ignorance," is the recent statement of a noted scientist. Although paradoxical, the truth of this statement is significant, especially with respect to those who live in the cities.

After a world-wide search, Plant Juice was discovered which is a combination of plants from the juices of which was extracted a tonic that has proven to be one of the best of all known remedies for the stomach, liver, and digestive organs.

Plant Juice is daily gaining converts throughout the country, as is attested by the following testimonial of Mr. G. C. Beach, who lives at No. 91 Franklin street, Boston, Mass., and is a street-car conductor of that city. He said:

"I have had stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia for the past three years. My food fermented in my stomach, causing gas and a heavy, bloated condition, with severe pains all over my body, and I thought that I had pleurisy. I was restless and nervous and could not sleep at night. I had tried a great many kinds of medicine, but got no benefit whatever from any of them. I heard of Plant Juice and have taken it for a short time, and I can now say that I have no pain whatever and am feeling like a new man. It is a first-class tonic for stomach trouble, and I feel 90 per cent better."

Plant Juice is sold in all Owl Drug Stores.

For Skins Affected by Winds and Weather

This is the season when she who would have a spotless, lily-white, astyry complexion, has the firm texture of the Winter skin. Nothing so effectively overcomes the desolating effects of the piercing winds and frosts as cold temperatures. The wax literally absorbs the chapped, reddened or scorched cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. An ounce of macerated wax, obtainable at any drugstore, applied nightly like cold cream, will restore the complexion to its natural beauty.

The who condition herself all day in an overcasted house and finds her skin flushed and flabby as a consequence, can quickly freshen up for the evening by just bathing her face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered macerated wax in a half pint of water. She'll find this most refreshing. It smooths out wrinkles and draws in the saggy tissue.—Adv.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Adv.
