STYLE TIPS FROM PORTLAND STORES

WHAT will become of the bookworm who prides himself on his ability to collect many wonderful bindings, now that Dame Fashion has decreed that the smart woman must be leather from tip to toes? Not only is she lavish in the use of that material, formerly sacred to book bindings, furniture and bags, but she is as fastidious in regard to the variety and quality of the leather.

Leather hats first entered the shops;
next the coats, then the skirts; it but remains to have the waists of leather.
Now as a mild substitute one exclusive Portland shop shows a trim hat of dark blue kid with red leather trimmings and a smart wide collar and vest to match. Jerkins of leather of white and composite colors with contrasting match. Jerkins of leather of white and composite colors with contrasting leather edgings and covered buttons are expected. These will be worn with a contrasting leather coat, or without a coat, over a waist of Georgette crepe or some other attractive material. A soft suede jerkin affords little clumsiness, so easily does it yield to the curves and movements of the body.

ness, so easily does it yield to curves and movements of the body.

Attractive and practical are the newest motor coats for both men and women. The coats for women are long enough to cover all, or worn with a skirt of leather, or sports' cloths with leather bandings at the bottom. Highly pollshed leathers are not having as good a run as the duller, more-wearing varieties. Mole gray or blue gray lambskin, as well as the Russian leathers, when made into a loose, long coat with prominent stitched trimming and worn with a hat of the same, enlivened with ribbon or leather bows, become smart garments for the street, the country or the automobile.

With the new and excellent leathers in top clothes, a new problem was the country or the automobile.

Dr. Van Vierah came to Seaside a little over a year ago from Portland. He attended Willamette University for three years and is a Phi Chi and Sigma Alpha man. He finished his medical studies at the University of Oregon, after which he did interne work at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Mrs. Van Ylerah was Miss Leah Brouse, a popular Portland girl. and studied vocal music under Professor Charles Swenson and Heloise Northrup.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Coulson Hare were dinner hosts Friday evening in honor of Mrs. G. F. Strobridge, of Oakland, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Cara Vanduzen Trenchard. The dinner was a charming informal affair, the table being adorned with hyacinths and ferns.

ONE MORE TROUBLE CROPS UP I AUDITORIUM BUILDING.

Finality of Architect's Decision Objected to and Daly Wage Scale Also Introduced.

After having arranged all details as to the contract for the proposed public Auditorium and advertised for bids for the general contract, the City Council yesterday discovered some new phases which had not been considered before which had not been considered before and which may cause a delay in the building. After an hour of discussion the question was put over until today for further argument.

The plans as advertised make the architect's decision final in all controversies during the construction of the building. The Builders' Exchange has raised the point, and it is backed by Commissioners Dieck and Baker, that the modern practice is to have a board of arbitrators to which appeals may be made from the decisions of the architect. Commissioner Daly is opposed to the board plan unless it is a board of at least seven members, one to be appointed by the city, another by the contractor and the rest by these two men.

fret wedding breakfast was served.

The question also of inserting the old Daly minimum wage ordinance provisions in the contract has stirred up to the same shade. The suit was med with ermine and her corsage of violets and orchids.

A move, to abolish employment tractor to pay the city's scale of wages and is making an extensive investigation. A move to abolish employment attack of la grippe, has returned to her apartments in the Carmelita.

Mrs. George S. Whiteside returned from the East today. She has been in from the East today in the point that this stoner Dieck raised the point that this would cause endless trouble, but rather than block the proceedings he gave way and the point was settled in Mr. Baker says there is much comply business in an improper manner. He baker's favor. Baker's favor.

STEINWAY PIANOS

1915 Was One of Our Biggest Steinway Years

The year 1915, despite the disquieting influences across the Atlantic, was not only a very successful year for us in all our lines of musical instruments, but was a big year when measured by Steinway purchases. Each year we sell more Steinway Pianos than the year previous-in 1915 we not only sold many more Steinway Pianos than in 1914, but also many more than in 1913 (which was one of the most prosperous years in our business career).

¶ While we take great pride in our representation of the Steinway Piano and in our record of increased Steinway sales, we make the above announcement because we believe the public appreciates the importance of these merchandising statements.

The House of Steinway, after three score years of successful pianoforte building, is now represented by the third and fourth generations of Steinway, who, while keeping pace with the march of progress, are maintaining the superb excellence of the piano which bears their honored name. The Steinway Piano has been brought to as near perfection as human skill can make it. As in the past, the Steinway is today the STANDARD by which all other pianos are judged.

¶ One of the principal reasons for our increased Steinway business, year after year, is the "maintaining the superb excellence" by Steinway & Sons. To you who contemplate the purchase of a piano, this steady increase of Steinway purchases must suggest something. We not only invite you to inspect our comprehensive display of Steinway Pianos, but we urge your comparison of other makes.

¶ A final word—with all its superior worth, you can purchase a Steinway Piano at a moderate price and on convenient terms.

Women who desire a complexion that will be admired and not questioned cannot be too careful of the powder they use. Ordinary face powders (no matter how fine they may seem in the box or between the fingers) are disappointing under the real test-on the face.

Such powders deaden the skin with a lifeless hue. Or they do worse—bespeak "make-up." To use them is to be haunted by the fear that they will fall you any minute—in the wind, in the glaring light or in the heat of the dance. There is one complexion powder that stands every test—

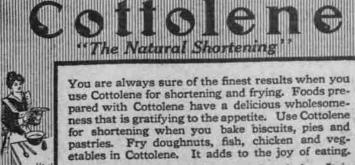

Carmen Complexion Powder

The one powder perfected under such a process as to impart the fresh bloom of girlhood without a trace of artificiality. It does not rub or blow off. You are sure of a charming complexion at all times—regardless of strong lights or the effects of perspiration. The scent enhances its refinement.
