

CHARITIES PLAN TO SAVE LOST ENERGY

Committee Named to Outline Method for Co-ordination of Work in Portland.

SAVING IS CONSIDERED

Reorganization of Body to Effect More Efficient Service at Decreased Expenditure--Open Meeting Arranged.

A merger of the charitable activities of city, county and all Portland organizations devoted to this work is proposed by the board of directors of the Associated Charities.

The directors of the Associated Charities met Wednesday and discussed the plan at considerable length.

Mr. Fleischer declares the next meeting will be open to the public and suggestions are invited.

Representatives of the civic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, city and county representatives and others attended the response meeting Wednesday.

Since the resignation of Victor Manning as manager of the Associated Charities, the directors frequently have discussed reorganization along broader lines.

Manager Hardy, of the Chamber of Commerce, has conferred with the charity department members of the civic bureau of that body.

"We have thought that this would be a good time to effect a consolidation of all Portland charitable activities," said Mr. Fleischer.

"In various Eastern cities county and city work for relief of poverty has been combined under the head of efficient organizations and resulting benefits have been marked.

There has been greater efficiency, less result and less expense of the work has been reduced. This greater economy has not been accomplished by denying aid to the unfortunate.

Through better organization and improved service, it is contended frequently that the greatest cost in conducting relief work is in payment of salaries.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Sunset—"What Will People Say." Pickford—"Over Night." Peoples—"The Golden Chance." Columbia—"The Beckoning Flame," "Fatty and Mabel Adrift." Majestic—"The Beloved Vagabond." National—"A Knight of the Range."

THE eternal struggle of the Orient against the Occident, with an English girl and an Indian princess battling for the love of an Englishman, is pictured in a series of interesting scenes, featured by splendid photography in "The Beckoning Flame," which received its initial screening yesterday at the Columbia.

Henry Woodruff, Tsuru Aoki, the pretty Japanese actress, and Rhea Mitchell are featured in this Ince production of beautiful settings. Dickson (Woodruff), engaged to Elia (Miss Mitchell) leaves England to serve as deputy commissioner in an Indian province. There he becomes acquainted with Janira (Tsuru Aoki), a princess who is forced to marry a dissolute prince and while the ceremonies are in full swing he succumbs to apoplexy.

Edward Jose, with the co-operation of Edwin Arden, Kathryn Brown-Decker and a supporting group of film artists have admirably succeeded in transferring to the screen the delightful whimsicality of William J. Locke, the novelist, "The Beloved Vagabond," a gold rooster picturization of his famous novel which received its initial public screening at the Majestic Theatre yesterday.

The story of "The Beloved Vagabond" presents Gaston de Nema, a young architect, disappointed in love through transferring to the screen the delightful whimsicality of William J. Locke, the novelist, "The Beloved Vagabond," a gold rooster picturization of his famous novel which received its initial public screening at the Majestic Theatre yesterday.

Winsome Vivian Martin and a highly efficient hand at the Pickford in "Over Night." This Brady affair in five acts is a cure for doldrums; accompanied by a triple-riveted guarantee.

The comedy pictures the misadventures of two pairs of newlyweds, and takes its title from the series of circumstances which force each couple, temporarily mismatched, to seek refuge for the night in a temperance inn.

The frequent use of superlatives is required to describe "The Golden Chance," an intensely absorbing Lasky production, featuring Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid, which opened yesterday at the Peoples. The five reels are crammed full of dramatic surprises, interest being sustained to a remarkable degree.

Colonel Heeza Liar's Waterloo is a mirth-gripping comedy, and the story of the girl's life is almost as pathetic as the childhood adventures of David Copperfield, Dickens' famous character.

"A Knight of the Range" is one of those Western things we all delight to revel in occasionally. The National Theatre offering combines all those phases of novelized and pictured cowboy life which are so dear to the public.

The villain, gambler (of course), is a bad, bad man, investigator of holdups, etc. Champion cowboys are introduced amid dust and smoke. There is a stage holdup, mad chase over hill and dale, and a man hunt with climax in battle behind the rocks.

Martha Hedman is at present starring in "The Boomerang," and making arrangements to appear in "The Chalk" who aspires to the girl's hand, and is temporarily saved by Harry. Eventually the girl realizes her love for the "knight," and they are united in a happy marriage.

Howard Hickman is playing in a dramatic play, being produced at Inceville by Raymond West.

Acting upon the advice of Hazel Dancy, John Richards has leased a country place on Long Island, which is now being renovated to suit the Famous Players-Paramount taste.

Emmett Corrigan has sailed from Miami, Florida, in a 70-foot schooner with Frank Powell, his director, and Gerda Holmes, his leading lady.

The story of "Fighting Blood," in which William Farnum, the William Fox star, is at present working at the Edendale, Cal., studios, was inspired in part by the song "My Old Kentucky Home" it is being produced under the direction of Oscar C. Apfel, the author.

LONGING PROMPTS SEARCH

Denver Police Find Father and Sister From Whom Lass Became Separated Soon After Her Mother's Early Death.

A belated Christmas present—a father and a married sister—is given Ellen Lisle, the 15-year-old girl who located her family, whom she had not seen since babyhood, by writing to the Denver police early last December.

The girl started to rejoin her relatives last night in company with Mrs. R. E. Arne, wife of the superintendent of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society.

The story of the girl's life is almost as pathetic as the childhood adventures of David Copperfield, Dickens' famous character.

The simple pathos of the episode touched the Denver officials, and they at once began a thorough search.

Ellen Lisle, Aged 15, Who Will Join Father, She Has Never Seen, in Denver, Colo.

Ellen is the ward of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. The officials must be satisfied that her relatives were of good character and able to care for the girl properly.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the blood pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing.

SMALL ERUPTIONS ITCH AND BURN

On Forehead, Skin Red and Inflamed, Irritating, Disfigured Face. In Short Time

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Some time ago small eruptions appeared on my forehead which proved very annoying to appearance and also to comfort. The appearance of the breaking out was a very dense rash, the skin being both red and inflamed. The breaking out would at times itch and upon scratching it, it would burn. It was certainly irritating and disfigured my face."

I wrote for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sample afforded almost instant relief so I bought more and in a short time I was healed. (Signed) Miss Daisy Austin, R. R. No. 1, Box 53, Walla Walla, Wash., July 1, 1913.
