Jockey Tells How He Won Fame in England Only to Lose Public Favor.

FAKES ON TRACK DENIED

Lament Is Sounded Because Fate Struck Hardest Blow When He Was at Zenith of Brilliant Career as Rider.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Tom Sloan has written a book, "The Jockey of the English," which tells of his career as a jockey in England and how he won fame in England only to lose public favor.

Tom Sloan has written a book, "The Jockey of the English," which tells of his career as a jockey in England and how he won fame in England only to lose public favor. Sloan made these stories so false, but admits that he got his mounts. Then he goes on to tell about races that were a big success, and that most every racegoer knows can happen when horses are "moral" and when they are "not."

Crowd Not Discovers

It was at the Bay District track that Tom discovered the crowd that later brought him high success. The fame of his riding spread to the Eastern track, and he followed it. There he rode for W. C. Whitney, Charles F. Johnson, W. C. Johnson, John W. Gentry, and Bill James. He rode for W. C. Whitney and many others. It was W. C. Whitney who sent him to England for Sloan, then at the height of his fame, to ride in the "Blue Bird" in the Futurity in 1908. Tom came, traveling like a nabob, with 23 trunks and a retinue of servants. He won, too, getting his mount home half a length in front of Olympian.

FORESTRY AID INCREASED

From $7345 in 1906 Oregon Share Increased to $48,675 in 1915.

The first allotment of National forest money made to Oregon and Washington in 1915, after the passage of the act which gave the states a share of the National forest revenue, was $7345 for Oregon, and $1523 for Washington. In 1915 Oregon's share of this revenue was $48,675 and Washington's was $27,645. The constantly increasing demand for National forest timber assures a much higher rate of increase in the next few years and ultimately the states will receive a large revenue from this source.

SOUVENIR SNOWSHOES USED

Part of Exhibit at Custom-House of Service to Suburbanite.

Displayed at the office of United States Steamboat Inspectors Edwards and Wynn is a collection of souvenir snowshoes, mementos of countless trips made by the office staff and friends, in addition to pictures, pieces of equipment or parts of vessels that have been taken to the coast when on time to time. Once the collection was used as an exhibition to derive funds for public purposes, and probably that is the only occasion when snowshoes have been of practical use to their present owners, until yesterday, when a pair of snow shoes of Alaskan manufacture were taken to the coast.

MRS. PENFIELD'S TAX HUE

Wife of Ambassador Assessed on Personal Property of $5,058,202.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—When the tax assessment books for 1916 were sent to Receiver of Taxes Kendrick by the board of revision of taxes to be opened for the payment of real estate and personal property taxes for the current year it was disclosed that Mrs. Anna M. Weightman Walker Penfield, wife of Evrodevic C. Penfield, United States Ambassador to Austria, is assessed to pay a personal property tax on a valuation of $5,058,202, as compared with a valuation of $2,724,511 in 1915. The lowest individual personal taxpayer is the estate of Thomas Dolan, former president of the United Gas Improvement Company, whose assessment for the current year is $2,525,745, as compared with $2,317,878 in 1915, while the estate of Henry H. Houston, a former director of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, is assessed at $7,192,964 and in 1915 $6,790,382. The estate of F. A. Drexel is assessed this year at $6,256,159 and last year at $6,125,000. The total assessment has not yet been completed, but it is expected to reach $425,000,000, and may exceed those figures.

MANY MATCHES USED DAILY

Every Man, Woman and Child Devours 10 Each 24 Hours, Estimate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Every man, woman and child in this country uses an average of ten matches each day, remarked J. A. Hunter, of New York, representative of a large match company, at the Raleigh. "It is estimated that the match manufacturers of the United States turn out every day more than 1,700,000,000 matches. Of this output 1,000,000,000 are consumed in this country. Our people have come to be extravagant in the use of matches. A decade ago a pipe smoker might keep his smoke going by way of the kitchen fire and a paper lighter; today he wouldn't think of it. The greater use of cigarettes also has increased the consumption of matches, as have gas and gasoline stoves, which are continually turned off and relighted. "There has been an increased manufacture of patent lighters and a new style of gas stove with patent lighter attached, and these have helped to cut the sales of matches, but only to a small extent."

WOMAN SHOTS PACIFIST

Effort to Effect Reconciliation With Wife May Be Fatal.

WOODBURY, N. J., Jan. 27.—William Shaw assumed the role of pacifist recently and decided to get himself out of the trenches of domestic discord. He called at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Bagby, and announced that he wished to arrange a reconciliation with his wife. Ten minutes later he was removed from the house with his face full of shot and both eyes gone. At the Cooper Hospital, Camden, Shaw recovered consciousness long enough to say that his mother-in-law had answered his peace overtures with both barrels of a shotgun. He said he had not seen his wife, Nora, and that he was fired on without warning.
